The One Mind Matthew A. Fike, 2013-10-08 The One Mind C G Jung and the Future of Literary Criticism

explores the implications of C G Jung's unus mundus by applying his writings on the metaphysical, the paranormal and the quantum to literature. As Jung knew, everything is connected because of its participation in universal consciousness which encompasses all that is, including the collective unconscious. Matthew A Fike argues that this principle of unity enables an approach in which psychic functioning is both a subject and a means of discovery. Psi phenomena evoke the connections among the physical world, the psyche and the spiritual realm. Applying the tools of Jungian literary criticism in new ways by expanding their scope and methodology, Fike discusses the works of Hawthorne, Milton, Shakespeare, Wordsworth and lesser known writers in terms of issues from psychology, parapsychology and physics. Topics include the case for monism over materialism, altered states of consciousness, types of psychic functioning, UFOs, synchronicity and space-time relativity. The One Mind examines Goodman Brown's dream, Adam's vision in Paradise Lost, the dream sequence in The Wanderer, the role of metaphor in Robert A. Monroe's metaphysical trilogy, Orfeo Angelucci's work on UFOs and the stolen boat episode in Wordsworth's The Prelude. The book concludes with case studies on Robert Jordan and William Blake. Considered together, these readings bring us a significant step closer to a unity of psychology, science and spirituality. The One Mind illustrates how Jung's writings contain the seeds of the future of literary criticism. Reaching beyond archetypal criticism and postmodern theoretical approaches to Jung, Fike proposes a new school of Jungian literary criticism based on the unitary world that underpins the collective unconscious. This book will appeal to scholars of C G Jung as well as students and readers with an interest in psychoanalysis, literature, literary theory and the history of ideas. The Race Tim

Zimmermann, 2004-01-01. A contributing editor for Outside magazine provides a behind-the-scenes look at the fast-paced world of extreme sailing. The Race is also a taut, engrossing account of the first running of the competition called The Race, which began on December 31, 2000 in Barcelona and ended sixty-two days later in Marseilles. The most intense event of its kind, a nonstop circumnavigation of the globe in the fastest boats ever built, The Race attracts some of the world's best sailors and arguably its most eccentric personalities. Tim Zimmermann, an experienced blue-water sailor, relates in knuckle-whitening detail how and why sailors risk millions of dollars and their lives to dash around the world in record time. He garnishes this story with a chronicle of the tumultuous history of extreme sailing from the nineteenth century to today. Zimmermann puts the reader right on board with the tough, colorful crews as they take a crash course, sometimes literally, in how to handle these astonishing machines. Derek Lundy, author of Godforsaken Sea, praises The Race. Zimmermann turns a daring race of unthinkably fast, high-tech sailing machines into a page-turner. Bruce Knecht, author of The Proving Ground, says this is probably the finest account of the history of the circumnavigator's quest yet written, refreshingly free of hyperbole and false expectation. Zimmermann's pace matches that of The Race itself, though he never puts his bow under Lincoln P. Paine, author of Ships of the World. Zimmermann's behind-the-scenes look at the characters, boats and technology in The Race, as well as the rich sailing history that preceded it, captures the nuances of adventure only a masochist could love The Race was a wild ride and The Race is a fine read Herb McCormick sailing correspondent of the New York Times editor of Cruising World

The Other Shore Michael Jackson, 2013 In this book ethnographer and poet Michael Jackson addresses the interplay between modes of writing modes of understanding and modes of being in the world Drawing on literary anthropological and autobiographical sources he explores writing as a technics akin to ritual oral storytelling magic and meditation that enables us to reach beyond the limits of everyday life and forge virtual relationships and imagined communities Although Maurice Blanchot wrote of the impossibility of writing the passion and paradox of literature lies in its attempt to achieve the impossible a leap of faith that calls to mind the mystic s dark night of the soul unrequited love nostalgic or utopian longing and the ethnographer s attempt to know the world from the standpoint of others to put himself or herself in their place Every writer whether of ethnography poetry or fiction imagines that his or her own experiences echo the experiences of others and that despite the need for isolation and silence his or her work consummates a relationship with them
