Catholicism and the Spirit Stephen Ebo Annan, 2018-02-22

The resurgence of Pentecostal charismatic Christianity epitomized in the global South has thrown Catholicism back on itself and has challenged it to reassess its ecclesial self-understanding. The Catholic Church has been accused of having forgotten the Spirit. Despite the progress made by the Catholic Church to redress this so-called pneumatological deficit, it nonetheless remains the case that Roman Catholicism and charismatic Christianity seem to be mutually exclusive. Why and how does the Roman Catholic Church today still lack a fully developed pneumatological charismatic ecclesiology? Catholicism and the Spirit sets out to address such questions and argues that the Church must overcome its ultraconservatism and re-envision a robust Spirit-led ecclesiology to meet the demands of ecclesial renewal.

Pentecostalism, Catholicism, and the Spirit in the World Stan Chu Ilo, 2019-10-17

This volume's essays are an ecumenical ensemble of the best scholars and leading practitioners in the Pentecostal and Charismatic movements from all four corners of the world. The contributors bring together various denominational perspectives and dialogue for understanding the present momentum of these Spirit movements in the world church. Their diverse methodologies transverse the traditional and new approaches to studying these movements. Pointing the way forward, the authors highlight some of the lessons learned in their scholarly engagement with Spirit movements. These lessons offer significant insight and viewpoints for the academy in the historical analysis of these movements. They also serve as a good guide for pastoral discernment and accompaniment for God's people in their daily lives as well as for social ministries in the world church. This volume addresses questions of salvation and eschatology, health and healing, prosperity and poverty, suffering and death, fear and faith, despair and hope. Other topics include the conflict between charism and institution and the tension between cultic clericalism and the affirmation and use of the gifts and talents of lay members of Christ's faithful in the church

The Spirit of Vatican II Colleen McDannell, 2011-03-01 In 1962 a group of Catholic leaders traveled to Rome charged by Pope John XXIII with the task of making the gospel of Christ relevant in a modern world. The Second Vatican Council transformed the lives of Catholics through sweeping reforms yet its effect on the daily lives of practicing Catholics has never been fully understood. In this illuminating study religious historian Colleen McDannell presents new insight into Vatican II by shifting the framework of its analysis from men to women from urban to suburban from theory to practice. Using the story of her Catholic mother's life as a narrative thread McDannell presents in The Spirit of Vatican II a refreshingly positive portrayal of the state of modern Catholicism and a testament to the lasting effects of its liberalization.

Imagining the Catholic Church Ghislain Lafont, 2000 Father Lafont challenges the Church to offer a renewed image and to speak credibly without abandoning any essentials given by God to the Church and without sacrificing the radicalism of the Gospel message.

The Joy of Being Catholic Mitch Finley, 1996 This book celebrates the spirit of Catholicism as a way of life particularly its spirit of joy. This book is an act of love on the part of the author an act of love for the Roman Catholicism its people its institutions and its centuries old traditions.

The Catholic Ethic and the Spirit of Community John E. Tropman, 2001-12-21 Starting where Max Weber's The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism left off John E. Tropman develops the idea that there is another religious based ethic permeating society a Catholic ethic. Where Weber proposed that a Protestant ethic supported the development of capitalism Tropman argues that there is a Catholic ethic as well and that it is more caring and community oriented. Weber's notion of the Protestant ethic has become widely accepted but until Tropman's work beginning in the mid 1980s there had been no discussion of another religious based ethic. He suggests that if the Protestant ethic is an achievement ethic the Catholic ethic is a helping one. Tropman outlines a Catholic ethic that is distinctive in its sympathy and outreach toward the poor and in its emphasis on family and community over economic success. This book fully explores the Catholic ethic and its differing focus by using both historical and survey research. It also points to the existence of other religious based ethics. This clearly written book employing the tools of both sociology and religious thought will appeal to a wide audience including students and scholars in disciplines informed by the influence of religion on politics and on social and economic behavior.
