Communication Yearbook 39 Elisia Cohen, 2015-04-10 Communication Yearbook 39 continues the tradition of publishing state of the discipline literature reviews and essays Editor Elisia Cohen presents a volume that is highly international and interdisciplinary in scope with authors and chapters representing the broad global interests of the International Communication Association The contents include summaries of communication research programs that represent the most innovative work currently Offering a blend of chapters emphasizing timely disciplinary concerns and enduring theoretical questions this volume will be valuable to scholars throughout communication studies Weekly World News, 1981-08-04 Rooted in the creative success of over 30 years of supermarket tabloid publishing the Weekly World News has been the world's only reliable news source since 1979 The online hub www.weeklyworldnews.com is a leading entertainment news site The Citizen Audience Richard Butsch, 2008-02-15 In The Citizen Audience Richard Butsch explores the cultural and political history of audiences in the United States from the nineteenth century to the present He demonstrates that while attitudes toward audiences have shifted over time Americans have always judged audiences against standards of good citizenship From descriptions of tightly packed crowds in early American theaters to the contemporary reports of distant anonymous Internet audiences Butsch examines how audiences were represented in contemporary discourse He explores a broad range of sources on theater movies propaganda advertising broadcast journalism and much more Butsch discovers that audiences were characterized according to three recurrent motifs as crowds and as isolated individuals in a mass both of which were considered bad and as publics which were considered ideal audiences These images were based on and reinforced class and other social hierarchies At times though subordinate groups challenged their negative characterization in these images and countered with their own interpretations A remarkable work of cultural criticism and media history this book is essential reading for anyone seeking an historical understanding of how audiences media and entertainment function in the American cultural and political imagination The Plug-in Drug Marie Winn, 1985 Groundbreaking study on TV addiction in children Communication Research Measures II, 2009 Expanding and building on the measures included in the original 1994 volume Communication Research Measures II A Sourcebook provides new measures in mass interpersonal instructional and group organizational communication areas and highlights work in newer subdisciplines in communication including intercultural family and health It also includes measures from outside the communication discipline that have been employed in communication research The measures profiled here are the best of the best from the early 1990s through today They are models for future scale development as well New Outlook, 1954 Winning the War Against Youth Gangs Valerie Wiener, 1999-11-30 Gangs have spread throughout the entire sector of society and what was once viewed as an inner city problem can now be found everywhere including suburbia This guide for teenagers their families and impacted communities addresses the youth gang issue in understandable manageable terms Quotes from teens themselves provide valuable insight into the problems that can cause kids to join gangs absent parents the need for excitement or to belong to a group following in the footsteps of family members who are involved in gangs These factors and others are explored including an examination of the workings of the adolescent mind and sound solutions are suggested to help kids resist gang membership Four distinct sections bring into focus the topic of youth gangs and ways to prevent kids from joining them Part I describes many basic issues and needs all teens and pre teens have in common and how these relate to gangs Part II addresses how and why certain young people enter and sometimes exit gang alliances Part III focuses on how several integral components of the teen s life and community can work together to resolve youths involvement with gangs Part IV analyzes the critical influence of families and the teens themselves as they approach important life choices Wiener s unique approach includes suggestions and comments from the young people themselves to try to bridge the gap between themselves and the adults in their lives Families Without Television Patricia Edgar, Ray Croke, 1976 Television Horace Newcomb, 1994 First published in 1976 Television The Critical View set the foundation for the serious study of television becoming the gold standard of anthologies in the field With this seventh edition editor Horace Newcomb has moved the book from one merely intended to legitimize the critical inquiry of television to a text that reflects how complex critical approaches to television have become today Comprised of virtually all new selections that deal with both classic and contemporary programming the seventh edition adds new material on television history the reception context of television and international programming such as Chinese soap operas and Brazilian telenovelas Television The Critical View remains a well established and critically acclaimed text essential for courses in critical studies communication studies cultural studies media history television criticism television history and broadcasting Jerzy Kosinski Byron L. Sherwin, 1981 Sundance Reader Info-Ie Mark Connelly, 2005-04 Motion Picture Herald , 1966 The Changing American Countryside Emery N. Castle, 1995 The literature on rural America to the extent that it exists has largely been written by urban based scholars perpetuating out of date notions and stereotypes or by those who see little difference between rural and agricultural concerns As a result the real rural America remains much misunderstood neglected or ignored by scholars and policymakers alike In response Emery Castle offers The Changing American Countryside a volume that will forever change how we look at this important subject Castle brings together the writings of eminent scholars from several disciplines and varying backgrounds to take a fresh and comprehensive look at the forgotten hinterlands These authors examine the role of non metropolitan people and places in the economic life of our nation and cover such diverse issues as poverty industry the environment education family social problems ethnicity race religion gender government public policy and regional diversity The authors are especially effective in demonstrating why rural America is so much more than just agriculture It is in fact highly diverse complex and interdependent with urban America and the international market place Most major rural problems they contend simply cannot be effectively addressed in isolation from their urban and international connections To do so is misguided and even hazardous when one fourth of our population and ninety seven per cent of our land area is rural Together these writings not only provide a new and more realistic view of rural life and public policy but also suggest how the field of rural studies can greatly enrich our understanding of national life The McGraw-Hill Reader Gilbert H. Muller,1997 Addressing the continuing interest in core liberal arts issues interdisciplinary themes multicultural perspectives and critical thinking THE MCGRAW HILL READER provides students with a full range of quality prose works spanning various ages cultures and subjects The finely tuned editorial apparatus encourages students to respond actively to the essays to formulate their own critical judgments and to develop in writing their reactions to and perspectives on the thematic concerns of the selections The Seventh Edition features thirty eight new essays that address current issues such as the quality of education the role of technology and the impact of media The text concludes with a new appendix on writing a research paper Google Books viewed Apr 30 2021 The Thoughtful Reader Mary C.
