Women Of The Passion A Novel:

The Passion of Women Sébastien Japrisot, 1990 Sébastien Japrisot is one of the most highly recognized French authors of his time and his novels have achieved major international success Set against the backdrop of World War II Women in Evidence is one of his most breathtaking works to date Marie Martine's lover is dead After many years battling to clear his name of a heinous crime she knows he didn't commit Marie has freed him only to invite his demise from the most unexpected corner His name was Christophe and he had many lovers besides Marie an actress a school teacher a prostitute a U S Army nurse a gypsy Though each has suffered grave hurt by his mercurial affections their forgiving remembrances captured by the loyal Marie are what save him from certain doom in the jailer's noose But which one could not forgive Which one fired the shot that killed Christophe leaving him to die on a deserted beach only moments after his pardon Japrisot expertly weaves the women's voices to piece together a story that though distorted by the contradictions of memory reveals valuable truths about love and human nature Women in Evidence is a rich and tragic tale of the extraordinary resilience of the female heart that is sure to be welcomed warmly by American readers

A Woman of Passion Julia Briggs, 2000-11-07 In A Woman of Passion Julia Briggs chronicles the life of author Edith Nesbit who is credited with being the first modern writer for children and the creator of the children's adventure story Nesbit recorded her life with varying degrees of honesty in verse and prose and while she seldom wrote entirely openly of her own experiences she seldom wrote convincingly of anything else In this fascinating read Julia Briggs attempts to fill in the gaps of Nesbit's autobiographical material painting an intriguing portrait of the famous author

Novel Minds R. Tierney-Hynes, 2015-12-11 Eighteenth century philosophy owes much to the early novel Using the figure of the romance reader this book tells a new story of eighteenth century reading The impressionable mind and mutable identity of the romance reader haunt eighteenth century definitions of the self and the seductions of fiction insist on making an appearance in philosophy

The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women's novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women's fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women s fiction

Passion and Pathology in Victorian Fiction Jane Wood,2001 Nervous illness and the study of how body and mind connected were of intense interest to Victorian medical writers and novelists alike This elegant study offers an integrated analysis of how medicine and literature figured the connection between the body and the mind Alongside detailed examinations of some of the era s most influential neurological and physiological theories Jane Wood offers fresh readings of fictions by Charlotte Bront George MacDonald George Eliot Wilkie Collins Thomas Hardy and George Gissing

Myth and Fairy Tale in Contemporary Women's Fiction Susan Sellers,2017-03-14 Woman as gorgon woman as temptress the classical and biblical mythology which has dominated Western thinking defines women in a variety of patriarchally encoded roles This study addresses the surprising persistence of mythical influence in contemporary fiction Opening with the question what is myth the first section provides a wide ranging review of mythography It traces how myths have been perceived and interpreted by such commentators as Sigmund Freud Carl Jung Bruno Bettelheim Roland Barthes Jack Zipes and Marina Warner This leads to an examination of the role that mythic narrative plays in social and self formation drawing on the literary feminist and psychoanalytic theories of Julia Kristeva Luce Irigaray Helene Cixous and Judith Butler to delineate the ways in which women s mythos can transcend the limitations of logos and give rise to potent new models for individual and cultural regeneration In this light Susan Sellers offers challenging new readings of a wide range of contemporary women s fiction including works by A S Byatt Angela Carter Anne Rice Michele Roberts Emma Tennant and Fay Weldon Topics explored include fairy tale as erotic fiction new religious writing vampires and gender bending mythic mothers genre fiction the still persuasive paradigm of feminine beauty and the radical potential of comedy

Gender and Voice in the French Novel, 1730-1782 Aurora Wolfgang,2017-03-02 Analyzing four best selling novels by both women and men written in the feminine voice this book traces how the creation of women centered salons and the emergence of a feminine poetic style engendered a new type of literature in eighteenth century France The author argues that writing in a female voice allowed writers of both sexes to break with classical notions of literature and style so that they could create a modern sensibility that appealed to a larger reading public and gave them scope to innovate with style and form Wolfgang brings to light how the female voice in literature came to embody the language of sociability but also allowed writers to explore the domain of inter subjectivity while creating new bonds between writers and the reading public Through examination of Marivaux s La Vie de Marianne Graffigny s Lettres d une Pruvienne Riccoboni s Lettres de Mistriss Fanni Butler and Laclos s Les Liaisons dangereuses she shows that in France this modern feminine sensibility turned the least prestigious of literary genres the novel into the most compelling and innovative literary form of the eighteenth century Emphasizing how the narratives analyzed here refashioned the French literary world through their linguistic innovation and expression of new forms of subjectivity this study claims an important role for feminine voice narratives in shaping the field of eighteenth century literature Women, Emancipation and the German Novel 1871-1910 Charlotte Woodford, 2017-12-02 In novels written at the end of the long nineteenth century women in Germany and Austria engaged with some of the most pressing social questions of the modern age Charlotte Woodford analyses a wide range of such works many of them largely forgotten in the context of the contemporary cultural discourses that informed their creation such as writings on pacifism and socialism prostitution birth control and sexually transmitted diseases Women s experience of contemporary medicine as patients and doctors is a fascinating theme treated here by several authors Through a close reading of works by Marie von Ebner Eschenbach Minna Kautsky Gabriele Reuter Helene Bohlau Ilse Frapan Hedwig Dohm Lou Andreas Salome and others this study shows how writers determination to validate women s experience of the problems of modernity informed the aesthetic development of the novel by women

The Tender Passion Peter Gay, 1999 The Tender Passion looks at the Victorian middle classes ideal and real notions of love Passion's Fortune Joseph McAleer, 1999-10-28 This is the first history of Mills Boon the British publishing phenomenon which has become a household name synonymous with romantic fiction On the firm s 90th anniversary Joseph McAleer has written the first history of Mills Boon drawing upon a long lost archive of over 50 000 letters which reveal the intricate relationship between editorial policy social attitudes and sales McAleer examines the dictates of the Mills Boon formula and demonstrates how novels were Managed by the firm to ensure maximum sales and to nurture a cadre of loyal readers in Britain and throughout the Commonwealth The result is a cultural phenomenon whose product reflected the attitudes and morals of the age while offering women an addictive escape from everyday life It s a fascinating read for anyone who s ever wondered about writing a Mills Boon or wants to understand the story behind one of the most successful British firms of the twentieth century
