Womens Police Stations Gender Violence And Justice In Sao Paulo Brazil:

Women's Police Stations Cecilia MacDowell Santos, 2005-02-18 Women's Police Stations examines the changing and complex relationship between women and the state and the construction of gendered citizenship using women's police stations in Sao Paulo. These are police stations run exclusively by police women for women with the authority to investigate crimes against women such as domestic violence, assault and rape. Sao Paulo was the home of the first such police station and there are now more than 250 women's police stations throughout Brazil. Cecilia MacDowell Santos examines the importance of this phenomenon for the first time, looking at the dynamics of the relationship between women and the state as a consequence of a political regime and exploring the notion of gendered citizenship. Women Policing across the Globe

Cara Rabe-Hemp, Venessa Garcia, 2019-10-16 Women Policing across the Globe provides a cross-cultural comparison of the integration of women in policing across the globe, paying special attention to the unique contributions that women make to the field along with the shared challenges and resistance they face. Individual chapters within the book provide students with a snapshot of the status of women in modern police agencies in the countries of the United States, Kuwait, China, the United Kingdom, Australia, the United Arab Emirates, and Taiwan. However, shared issues and successes of women police in many more countries worldwide are discussed throughout the entire book. This book allows students to explore the different origins of entry, specialized roles, their experiences of resistance, and effects of historical events that have shaped the experiences of modern women police from across the world. The authors discuss the new gains women are making despite the obstacles they face and ways they are transforming how policing is done every day. And finally, this book closes with collective issues and successes faced by women police worldwide. Women Police in a Changing Society Mangai Natarajan, 2016-02-11 Offering a fascinating account of the development of women police over the past twenty years, this book refers to the author's extended research in India to examine how the Indian experience demonstrates a valuable alternative to the Anglo-American model, not only for traditional societies but for women police in the West as well. With reference to the establishment in 1992 of all women units in Tamil Nadu, this unique experiment proved highly successful in enhancing the confidence and professionalism of women officers and ensuring the effectiveness and efficiency of the police. At a time when policing is being rethought all over the world, not only in traditional societies, the Tamil Nadu practice illustrates important lessons for western countries that are finding it increasingly difficult to recruit and retain women officers. Natarajan's remarkable book is an important and original contribution to the literature on gendered policing, which to date has concentrated almost exclusively on the US and British experience. Gender Violence in Peace and War Victoria Sanford, Katerina Stefatos, Cecilia M. Salvi, 2016-09-16 Reports from war zones often note the obscene victimization of women who are frequently raped, tortured, beaten, and pressed into sexual servitude. Yet this reign of terror against women not only occurs during exceptional moments of social collapse but during peacetime too. As this powerful book argues, violence against women should be understood as a systemic problem one for which the state must be held accountable The twelve essays in Gender Violence in Peace and War present a continuum of cases where the state enables violence against women from state sponsored torture to lax prosecution of sexual assault Some contributors uncover buried histories of state violence against women throughout the twentieth century in locations as diverse as Ireland Indonesia and Guatemala Others spotlight ongoing struggles to define the state's role in preventing gendered violence from domestic abuse policies in the Russian Federation to anti trafficking laws in the United States Bringing together cutting edge research from political science history gender studies anthropology and legal studies this collection offers a comparative analysis of how the state facilitates legitimates and perpetuates gender violence worldwide The contributors also offer vital insights into how states might adequately protect women's rights in peacetime as well as how to intervene when a state declares war on its female citizens

Anthropology at the Front Lines of Gender-Based Violence Jennifer R. Wies, Hillary J. Haldane, 2011-08-22 The inside stories of workers struggling to counter violence

Memory, Truth, and Justice in Contemporary Latin America Roberta Villalón, 2017-07-06 This powerful text provides the first systematic analysis of the second wave of memory and justice mobilization throughout Latin America Pairing clear explanations of concepts and debates with case studies the book offers a unique opportunity for students to interpret the history and politics of Latin American countries The contributors provide insight into human rights issues and grassroots movements that are essential for a broader understanding of struggles for justice memory and equality across the globe especially during our current unsettled times of political polarization violence repression and popular resistance worldwide

Policing the Global South Danielle Watson, Sara N. Amin, Wendell C. Wallace, Oluwagbenga (Michael) Akinlabi, Juan Carlos Ruiz-Vásquez, 2022-11-11 Policing the Global South provides scholarship which further transnationalises and democratises ideas about policing practices and philosophies highlighting renovations in approaches to policing studies and injecting innovative perspectives into the study of policing from scholars positioned on the periphery Criminological knowledge depolarisation underscores a conscious effort by scholars from the Global South to increase intellectual knowledge focused on developing context specific responses to issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to the non Northern context Such shifts draw attention to the expanse of spaces beyond Northern centres rife with challenges unlike any specific to those experienced or conceptualised by scholars from the Global North with an applied Northern criminological lens Applying a postcolonial lens to empirical knowledge from country specific cases in former colonies in Africa Asia the Caribbean the Pacific and Latin America this book examines how policing issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to non Northern contexts are addressed The primary purpose is to share innovations in the field of policing service provision threats to security crime responses justice and international trends developed in postcolonial developing country contexts Given the aim of the book and the contributors own research on issues of policing across the globe it discusses themes including but not limited to the colonial legacies and their impact on policing

how plural regulatory systems and partnerships are navigated by the police the linkages between access to justice community perceptions and police legitimacy innovations and challenges in organisational reform crime prevention and community partnerships and the expanding roles of police organisations in the Global South While each chapter presents a policing issue in a country within a specific part of the Global South the book highlights how important it is to frame responses based on contextual realities informed by an awareness of the past and present with a goal of informing the future Delivering a much needed introduction to those specialising in policing in developing countries this book is invaluable reading for academics and students of criminology criminal justice governance policy and IR as well as professionals in policing organizations across the globe

Violence and Desire in Brazilian Lesbian Relationships Andrea Stevenson Allen, 2016-04-08 In Violence and Desire in Brazilian Lesbian Relationships Allen examines the lives of Brazilian women in same sex relationships This examination contributes to interdisciplinary discussions of female same sex sexuality violence race and citizenship Using fifteen months of ethnographic fieldwork primarily with Afro Brazilian women in the city of Salvador da Bahia Allen argues that Brazilian lesbian women reject Brazilian cultural norms that encourage male domination and female submission through their engagement in romantic relationships with each other At the same time Allen claims lesbian women also reproduce Brazilian cultural ideals that associate passion intensity and power with physical dominance through their engagement in infidelity and intimate partner violence The book demonstrates that lesbian women are nonetheless marginalized as Brazilian citizens through widespread social and political invisibility despite these apparent displays of masculinized power

Gender-Based Violence in the Global South Ramona Biholar, Dacia L. Leslie, 2024-02-26 This book amplifies the different voices and experiences of those facing gender based violence GBV in the Global South It explores the localised ways in which marginalised individuals design modes of coping with and address GBV including cultural interpretations and artistic and faith based expressions The book examines GBV triggers prevalence and societal impacts while referring to community national and regional mobilisation to deal with the phenomenon in its various manifestations including physical psychological political domestic and public violence It explores issues related to women s negotiations with the patriarchal underpinnings of GBV the role of the law and history in the perpetuation of GBV the complementary role of culture and faith to legal protection against GBV and access to justice for women and girls In doing so the book exposes understandings and expressions of GBV as well as methodologies and indigenous initiatives to prevent it through local viable solutions The book thus challenges the normalisation of GBV in the Global South Providing concrete and culturally relevant suggestions for challenging ingrained models of gender understandings of violence in the Global South this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of Development Studies Gender Studies Women s Studies Violence and Abuse Studies Human Rights Criminal Law and Socio Legal Studies

Comparative Public Policy in Latin America Susan Franceschet, Jordi Díez, 2012-01-01 This pioneering collection offers a comprehensive investigation into how to study

public policy in Latin America While this region exhibits many similarities with the North American and European countries that have traditionally served as sources for generating public policy knowledge Latin American countries are also different in many fundamental ways As such existing policy concepts and frameworks may not always be the most effective tools of analysis for this unique region To fill this gap Comparative Public Policy in Latin America offers guidelines for refining current theories to suit Latin America s contemporary institutional and socio economic realities The contributors accomplish this task by identifying the features of the region that shape public policy including informal norms and practices social inequality and weak institutions This book promises to become the definitive work on contemporary public policy in Latin America essential for those who study the area as well as comparative public policy more broadly
