John Heitmann, 2018-08-03 Now revised and updated this book tells the story of how the automobile transformed American life and how automotive design and technology have changed over time It details cars inception as a mechanical curiosity and later a plaything for the wealthy racing and the promotion of the industry Henry Ford and the advent of mass production market competition during the 1920s the development of roads and accompanying highway culture the effects of the Great Depression and World War II the automotive Golden Age of the 1950s oil crises and the turbulent 1970s the decline and then resurgence of the Big Three and how American car culture has been represented in film music and literature Updated notes and a select bibliography serve as valuable resources to those interested in automotive history Albania's Mountain Queen Marcus Tanner, 2014-04-21 Whilst young ladies in the Victorian and Edwardian eras were expected to have many creative accomplishments they were not expected to travel unaccompanied and certainly not to the remote corners of Southeast Europe then part of the crumbling Ottoman Empire But Edith Durham was no ordinary lady In 1900 at the age of 37 Durham set sail for the Balkans for the first time Her trip was intended as a means of recovering from a period of ill health and as a break from the stifling monotony of caring for her ailing mother Her experiences on this trip were to change the course of her life kindling a profound love for the region which saw her return frequently in the following decades She became a confidante of the King of Montenegro ran a hospital in Macedonia and following the outbreak of the First Balkan War in 1912 became one of the world's first female war correspondents Back in England she was renowned as an expert on the region writing the highly successful book High Albania and along with other aficionados such as the MP Aubrey Herbert becoming an advocate for the people of the Balkans in British political life and society King Zog of Albania once said that before Durham visited the Balkans Albania was but a geographical expression By the time she left he added her championship of his compatriots desire for freedom had helped add a new state to the map Durham was tremendously popular in the region itself earning her the affectionate title Queen of the Mountains and an enduring legacy which continues unabated until this day Yet she has been all but forgotten in the country of her birth Marcus Tanner here tells the fascinating story of Durham's relationship with the Balkans painting a vivid portrait of a remarkable and sometimes formidable woman who was several decades ahead of her time Atlantic Automobilism Gijs Mom, 2014-12-01 Our continued use of the combustion engine car in the 21st century despite many rational arguments against it makes it more and more difficult to imagine that transport has a sustainable future Offering a sweeping transatlantic perspective this book explains the current obsession with automobiles by delving deep into the motives of early car users It provides a synthesis of our knowledge about the emergence and persistence of the car using a broad range of material including novels poems films and songs to unearth the desires that shaped our present car society

Combining social psychological and structural explanations the author concludes that the ability of cars to convey transcendental experience especially for men explains our attachment to the vehicle A Day at a Time Margo Culley,1985 Gathers diary selections describes the historical background of each writer and discusses the changing function and content of diaries Black Lambs & Grey Falcons John B.
