Feminism as a method a movement a critique and an identity has been the subject of debates contestations and revisions in recent years yet contemporary global developments and political upheavals have again refocused feminism's collective force What is feminism now How do scholars and activists employ contemporary feminism What feminist traditions endure Which are no longer relevant in addressing contemporary global conditions In this interdisciplinary collection scholars reflect on how contemporary feminism has shaped their thinking and their field as they interrogate its uses limits and reinventions Organized as a set of questions over definition everyday life critical intervention and political activism the Handbook takes on a broad set of issues and points of view to consider what feminism is today and what current forces shape its future development It also includes an extended conversation among major feminist thinkers about the future of feminist scholarship and activism The scholars gathered here address a wide variety of topics and contexts activism from post Soviet collectives to the Arab spring to the MeToo movement sexual harassment feminist art film and digital culture education technology policy sexual practices and gender identity Indispensable for scholars undergraduate and postgraduate students in women gender and sexuality the collection offers a multidimensional picture of the diversity and utility of feminist thought in an age of multiple uncertainties Growing Up Postmodern Ronald Strickland, 2002-06-25 This collection takes its inspiration from Paul Goodman's Growing Up Absurd a landmark critique of American culture at the end of the 1950s Goodman called for a revival of social investment in urban planning public welfare workplace democracy free speech racial harmony sexual freedom popular culture and education to produce a society that could inspire young people and an adult society worth joining In postmodernity Goodman's enlightenment era vision of social progress has been judged obsolete For many postmodern critics subjectivity is formed and expressed not through social investment but through consumption the freedom to consume has replaced political empowerment But the power to consume is distributed very unevenly and even for the affluent it never fulfills the desire produced by the advertising industry The contributors to this volume focus on adverse social conditions that confront young people in postmodernity such as the relentless pressure to consume social disinvestment in education harsh responses to youth crime and the continuing climate of intolerance that falls heavily on the young In essays on education youth crime counseling protest movements fiction identity formation and popular culture the contributors look for moments of resistance to the subsumption of youth culture under the logic of global capitalism
