Bangladesh Cinema and National Identity Zakir Hossain Raju, 2014-12-17 Throughout the twentieth and early twenty first centuries cinema has been adopted as a popular cultural institution in Bangladesh At the same time this has been the period for the articulation of modern nationhood and cultural identity of Bengali Muslims in Bangladesh This book analyses the relationship between cinema and modernity in Bangladesh providing a narrative of the uneven process that produced the idea of Bangladesh cinema This book investigates the roles of a non Western national film industry in Asia in constructing nationhood and identity within colonial and postcolonial predicaments Drawing on the idea of cinema as public sphere and the postcolonial notion of formation of the Bangladesh nation interactions between cinema and middle class Bengali Muslims in different social and political matrices are analyzed The author explores how the conflict among different social groups turned Bangladesh cinema into a site of contesting identities In particular he illustrates the connections between film production and reception in Bangladesh and a variety of nationalist constructions of Bengali Muslim identity Questioning and debunking the usual notions of Bangladesh and cinema this book positions the cinema of Bangladesh within a transnational frame Starting with how to locate the beginning of the second Bengali language cinema in colonial Bengal the author completes the investigation by identifying a global Bangladeshi cinema in the early twenty first century The first major academic study on this large and vibrant national cinema this book demonstrates that Bangladesh cinema worked as different public spheres for different publics throughout the twentieth century and beyond Filling a niche in Global Film and

Media Studies and South Asian Studies it will be of interest to scholars and students of these disciplines

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike, 2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse. It is an anthology of historical reflections, critical essays, and interviews by film critics, historians, theorists, and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa. The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential. This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices. The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices. Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms

Korean Film Eungjun Min, Jinsook Joo, Han Ju Kwak, 2003-04-30 Despite its rise in the global market, recent political progress, and a surging interest worldwide, Korean films are relatively unknown and rarely studied. This new work begins by investigating the history, industry structure, and trends of filmmaking in Korea, going on to examine how Hollywood films have affected both Korean mainstream and nonmainstream film industries in terms of both means of production and narrative. Moreover, the authors analyze the ways in which Korean films of recent years have represented the modernization process in Korea itself as well as the ideological implications that arise from the cinematic constructions of Korean imagination. More than a mere chronological account of Korean cinematic history, Korean Film attempts to consider the films as a popular cultural form that have a life beyond their theatrical runs. Stars, genres, and key movies become part of any culture's identity, and in their narratives and meanings can be located evidence of the ways in which a culture makes sense of itself. Korea has never before been given such an extensive treatment of this central idea, and here for the first time the nation's culture and cinema are merged into one discussion that both reflects and shapes our understanding of it

Otherness and the Media Hamid Naficy, Teshome H. Gabriel, 2016-10-04 This anthology on otherness and the media, first published in 1993, was prompted by the proliferation of writings centring on issues of difference, diversity, multiculturalism, representation, and postcolonial discourses. Such issues and discourses question existing canons of criticism theory and cultural practice but also because they suggest a new sense of direction in the theorisation of difference and representation

Historical Dictionary of Middle Eastern Cinema Terri Ginsberg, Chris Lippard, 2020-09-15 To a substantial degree, cinema has served to define the perceived character of the peoples and nations of the Middle East. This book covers the production and exhibition of the cinema of Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Palestine, Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Kuwait, and Bahrain, as well as the non-Arab states of

Turkey and Iran and the Jewish state of Israel This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Middle Eastern Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on individual films filmmakers actors significant historical figures events and concepts and the countries themselves It also covers the range of cinematic modes from documentary to fiction representational to animation generic to experimental mainstream to avant garde and entertainment to propaganda This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Middle Eastern cinema

Nationalist African Cinema Sada Niang, 2014-02-21 In the last decade a certain discomfort at times even impatience emerged among critics of African cinema The onset of such uneasiness can be traced back to the demise of the liberationist discourse to the questioning of the monolithic expression African cinema and finally to the critical exploration of various forms of visual narratives developing at a fast speed on the continent Nationalist African Cinema Legacy and Transformations reexamines African cinema of the nationalist era within the context of contemporary major Euro American film trends It argues that the aesthetic diversification of African cinema can be traced as far back as the nationalist era

The Critical Practice of Film Elspeth Kydd, 2017-09-16 The Critical Practice of Film introduces film studies and production through the integration of criticism theory and practice Its approach is that of critical practice a process that explores the integration and intersection between the critical analysis of films and the practical aspects of filmmaking In other words this book is both an introduction to the ways in which we watch films as well as an introduction to how films are created The more you know about how films are made the more you can appreciate the artistry involved in a film Author Elspeth kydd combines explorations of basic technical and aesthetic principles with extended analyses drawn from both classic and contemporary Hollywood and other world cinemas including Battleship Potemkin 1927 Un Chien andalou 1929 Stagecoach 1939 Mildred Pierce 1945 Notorious 1946 Letter from an Unknown Woman 1948 Gentlemen Prefer Blondes 1953 Breathless 1959 Memories of Underdevelopment 1968 Star Wars 1977 Raiders of the Lost Ark 1981 Distant Voices Still Lives 1988 The Matrix 1999 Amores Perros 2000 Gosford Park 2001 and The Lord of the Rings trilogy 2001 3 Also included is a range of exercises designed to stimulate critical and analytical thought and help to demystify the process of creative mediamaking Assignments range in scale from simple storyboarding and narrative development exercises that may be explored with minimal technology to more complex video projects that can be adapted to suit varying levels of technical skill The Critical Practice of Film provides an accessible introduction to the theory and practice of film studies integrating creative practice with critical and theoretical engagement to guide students towards an engaged form of creative expression and an active role as reviewer and critic Beautifully presented this ground breaking text offers all students an integrated understanding of film criticism and production Elspeth kydd is a Senior Lecturer in Film Studies and Video Production at the University of the West of England She has taught researched and published in film and television studies for nearly twenty years as well as being an active documentary videomaker This book developed from teaching integrated theory practice film courses at universities in the US and UK Ousmane Sembene and the Politics of Culture Lifongo J. Vetinde, Amadou T. Fofana, 2014-11-12 Undoubtedly one of Africa's most influential first generation of writers and filmmakers Ousmane Sembene's creative works of fiction as well as his films have been the subject of a considerable number of scholarly articles The schemas of reading applied to Sembene's oeuvre novels short stories and films have in the main focused either on his militant posture against colonialism his disenchantment with African leadership or his infatuation with documenting the past in an attempt to present a balanced and nuanced view of African history While these studies unquestionably contribute to a better understanding of his works they collectively ignore Sembene's relentless preoccupation with culture in his entire career as a writer and filmmaker The collection of essays in Sembene and the Politics of Culture sets out to fill that gap as the contributors at once foreground Sembene's fixation on the centrality of culture in the articulation of the discourse of national consciousness and reevaluate his intellectual and artistic legacy within an overarching framework of African liberation The contributors critically reassess the ideological underpinnings of Sembene's thoughts his role as one of the foundational pillars of African cultural production and his relevance in current discourses of nationhood They do so through a wide variety of interdisciplinary approaches that draw on linguistics feminist theory film theory historiography Marxist criticism psychoanalysis and a host of other approaches that give novel insights in the critical analysis of the works under study In the part entitled Testimonies a collection of conversations with people who worked closely with Sembene each of the interlocutors provide illuminating insights into the man's life and work The variety of themes and critical approaches in this critical anthology will certainly be of interest not only to students and scholars of African literature and cinema at various levels of intellectual and cultural sophistication but also anyone interested in the analysis of the nexus between power culture and the discourse of liberation Italian Cinema from the Silent Screen to the Digital Image Joseph Luzzi, 2020-02-20 In this comprehensive guide some of the world's leading scholars consider the issues films and filmmakers that have given Italian cinema its enduring appeal Readers will explore the work of such directors as Federico Fellini Michelangelo Antonioni and Roberto Rossellini as well as a host of subjects including the Italian silent screen the political influence of Fascism on the movies lesser known genres such as the giallo horror film and Spaghetti Western and the role of women in the Italian film industry Italian Cinema from the Silent Screen to the Digital Image explores recent developments in cinema studies such as digital performance the role of media and the Internet neuroscience in film criticism and the increased role that immigrants are playing in the nation's cinema The Visual Culture Reader Nicholas Mirzoeff, 2002 The diverse essays collected here constitute an exploration of the emerging interdisciplinary field of visual culture and examine why modern and postmodern culture place such a premium on rendering experience in visual form Philosophical Issues in Indian Cinema MK Raghavendra, 2020-12-13 This book interrogates the vocabulary used in theorizing about Indian cinema to reach into the deeper cultural meanings of philosophies and traditions from which it derives its influences It re examines terms and concepts used in film criticism and contextualizes them within the aesthetics poetics and politics of Indian cinema The book looks at terms and concepts borrowed from the scholarship on American and world cinema and explores their use and relevance in describing the characteristics and evolution of cinema in India It highlights how realism romance and melodrama in the context of India appear in a culturally singular way and how the aggregation of constituent elements like songs action comedy in Indian film can be traced to classical theatre and other diverse religious and philosophical influences These influences have characterized popular film and drama in India which present all aspects of life for a diverse nation The author explores concepts like fantasy family and patriotism by using various examples from films in India and outside as well as practices in the other arts He identifies the fundamental logic behind the choices made by film makers in India and discusses concepts which allow for a fresh theorizing on Indian cinema s characteristics This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of film studies media studies cultural studies literature cultural history and South Asian studies It will also be useful for general readers who are interested in learning more about Indian cinema its forms origins and influences The Humanities Reloaded Keyan G. Tomaselli, Pier Paolo Frassinelli, 2023-03-21 This volume examines the crisis of humanities narratives in the context of neoliberal capitalism and of the emergence and consolidation of the metrics driven corporate managerial university Do narratives of the crisis of the humanities mobilize specific notions of value and prestige How are these notions classed gendered and racialized How do narratives of the crisis of the humanities relate to current debates and contestations surrounding decolonization Does the crisis of a traditional configuration of the humanities open up opportunities to use their institutional space for work that is both socially and politically relevant and academically rigorous The aim is to provide a counter narrative of the present and future of the humanities In addition to the study of a multiplicity of media texts and other multimodal expressive forms formats and platforms and genres a communicative turn in the humanities entails deepening the study of the value chains in which they are inserted and their conditions of production circulation and reception Communicative and digital capitalism now labelled the Fourth Industrial Revolution is on its way to bringing its own waves of struggles and confrontations to our campuses and beyond to which humanities scholars and activists can make a vital contribution should some of us decide to do so This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of art literature media and cultural studies education politics sociology and social and cultural anthropology The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies Place, Power, Situation, and Spectacle Stuart C. Aitken, Leo Zonn, 1994 Using contemporary film theory and elements of socio cultural and political discourse fourteen geographers examine the effects of cinematic representation of place and space on perceptions of self and societies in the world Visions of the East Matthew Bernstein, Gaylyn Studlar, 1997 Essays on orientalism in American and European cinema The South Korean Film Industry Sangjoon Lee, Dal Yong Jin, Junhyung Cho, 2024-08-08 As shown by the success of Squid Game and Parasite South Korea's film industry is producing films and original series for streaming services film studios and television stations worldwide South Korea is now arguably considered one of the few countries outside the United States to have captivated the world's hearts and minds through pop music TV dramas and film Similarly the exponential growth in the South Korean film industry has been mirrored by a growing body of industry and film policy forums and academic conferences in both the East and the West The South Korean Film Industry is the first detailed scholarly overview of the South Korean film industry The thirteen chapters discuss topics from short films to popular television series that have engaged global audiences Contributors explore the major changes in South Korean film making marketing and in the international growth and popularity of South Korean films By bringing together a wide range of academic specialists The South Korean Film Industry situates the current scholarship on South Korean cinema within the ongoing theoretical debates in contemporary global film studies This volume will be widely read in undergraduate and graduate classes related to Korean and East Asian studies cinema and media studies cultural studies and communication studies Moreover many institutions offer dedicated modules on South Korean cinema media and popular culture for which The South Korean Film Industry will be ideal

Cuba, Africa, and Apartheid's End Isaac Saney, 2023-01-09 Cuba Africa and Apartheid's End Africa's Children Return examines the history and impressive dimensions of the Cuban Revolution's solidarity with Africa Cuba's role in the southern African national liberation and anti colonial struggle was the largest and most consequential manifestation of the island's commitment to Africa A key moment was the 1987 1988 battle of Cuito Cuanavale which involved Cuba and Angola on one side and South Africa and its allies on the other Cuito Cuanavale contributed the end of apartheid and has assumed legendary status within the Cuban Revolution and the southern African liberation movement

The Multiplex in India Adrian Athique, Douglas Hill, 2009-12-17 This book provides the reader with a comprehensive account of the new leisure infrastructure arising at the intersection between contemporary trends in cultural practice and the spatial politics that are reshaping the cities of India Exploring the significance and convergence of economic liberalisation urban redevelopment and the media explosion in India the book demonstrates an innovative approach towards the cultural and political economy of leisure in a complex and rapidly changing society

What Moroccan Cinema? Sandra Gayle Carter, 2009-08-16 From its early focus on documentary film and nation building to its more recent spotlight on contemporary culture and feature filmmaking Moroccan cinema has undergone tremendous change since the country's independence in 1956 In What Moroccan Cinema A Historical and Critical Study 1956 2006 Sandra Gayle Carter chronicles the changes in Moroccan laws institutions ancillary influences individuals active in the field representative films and film culture during this fifty year span Focusing on Moroccan history and institutions relative to the cinema industry such as television newspaper criticism and Berber videomaking What Moroccan Cinema is an intriguing study of the ways in which three historical periods shaped the Moroccan cinema industry Carter provides an insightful and thorough treatment of the cinema institution discussing exhibition and distribution censorship and cinema clubs and caravans Carter grounds her analysis by exploring representative films of each respective era The groundbreaking analysis offered in What Moroccan Cinema will prove especially valuable to those in film and Middle Eastern studies Postcolonial African cinema David Murphy, Patrick Williams, 2019-01-04 This is the first introduction of its kind to an important cross section of postcolonial African filmmakers from the 1950s to the present Building on previous critical work in the field this volume will bring together ideas from a range of disciplines film studies African cultural studies and in particular postcolonial studies in order to combine the in depth analysis of individual films and bodies of work by individual directors with a sustained interrogation of these films in relation to important theoretical concepts Structurally the book is straightforward though the aim is to incorporate diversity and complexity of approach within the overall simplicity of format Chapters provide both an overview of the director s output to date and the necessary background personal or national cultural or political to enable readers to achieve a better understanding of the director s choice of subject matter aesthetic or formal strategies or ideological stance They also offer a particular reading of one or more films in which the authors aim to situate African cinema in relation to important critical and theoretical debates This book thus constitutes a new departure in African film studies recognising the maturity of the field and the need for complex yet accessible approaches to it which move beyond the purely descriptive while refusing to get bogged down in theoretical jargon Consequently the volume should be of interest not only to specialists but also to the general reader
