The Last Friend Tahar Ben Jelloun, 2007-01-30 Renowned for his compelling humane portraits of everyday Arab lives Tahar Ben Jelloun has affirmed his place in the literary world by winning such awards as the Prix Goncourt and Prix Maghreb

In The Last Friend Ben Jelloun presents a spellbinding coming of age story and a dazzling portrait of Morocco in an era of repression and disillusionment. In Tangiers in the late 1950s two teenagers Mamed and Ali strike up an intense friendship that will last a lifetime. But lurking just beneath the surface is a deep unspoken jealousy in danger of destroying them both.

Leaving Tangier Tahar Ben Jelloun, 2011-04-01 Tangier in the early 1990s Young Moroccans gather regularly in a seafront cafe to gaze at the lights on the Spanish coast glimmering in the distance. Facing a future with few prospects in a country they feel has failed them, their disillusionment is matched only by their desire to reach this paradise so close and yet so far, not least because of the treacherous waters separating the two countries and the frightening stories they hear of the fates of would-be illegal emigrants. A young man called Azel is intent upon leaving one way or another. At the brink of despair he meets Miguel, a wealthy Spanish gallery owner who promises to take him to Barcelona if Azel will become his lover. Seeing no other solution and although he has a girlfriend to whom he is promised, Azel agrees to Miguel's proposition and thus begins a different kind of hell for the young Moroccan: shame and self-disgust at his own helplessness gradually overcome him and he finds himself once more in a hopeless situation. Azel and others like him, including his sister, begin to wonder if the reality of life in Europe will live up to their dreams.

Writing Tangier in the Postcolonial Transition Michael K. Walonen, 2016-02-17 In his study of the Tangier expatriate community, Michael K. Walonen analyzes the representations of French and Spanish Colonial North Africa by Paul Bowles, Jane Bowles, William Burroughs, Brion Gysin, and Alfred Chester during the end of the colonial era and the earliest days of post-independence. The conceptualizations of space in these authors' descriptions of Tangier, Walonen shows, share common components: an attention to the transformative potential of the conflict sweeping the region; a record of the power relations that divided space along lines of gender and ethnicity, including the spatial impact of the widespread sexual commerce between Westerners and natives; a vision of the Maghreb as a land that can be dominated or imposed on as a kind of frontier space; an expression of anxieties about the specters of Cold War antagonisms; and an embrace of the underlying logic of the market to the culture of the Maghreb. Counterbalancing the depictions of Tangier by Westerners who sought to reconcile their nostalgia for the colonial order with their support of native demands for independent governance is Walonen's extended analysis of the contrasting sense of place found in the writings of native Moroccan authors such as Mohammed Choukri, Tahar Ben Jelloun, and Anouar Majid. In its focus on Tangier and the larger Maghreb as a lived environment situated at a particular spatial and temporal crossroads, Walonen's study makes an important contribution to the fields of urban transatlantic and postcolonial studies.

The Punishment Tahar Ben Jelloun, 2020-04-21 An innocent man's gripping personal account of terrifying confinement by the Moroccan military during the reign of a formidable twentieth century despot In 1967 Tahar Ben Jelloun a peaceful young political protestor was one of nearly a hundred other hapless men taken into punitive custody by the Moroccan army It was a time of dangerous importance in Moroccan history and they were treated with a chilling brutality that not all of them survived This powerful portrait of the narrator's traumatic experience written with a memoirist's immediacy reveals both his helpless terror and his desperate hope to survive by drawing strength from his love of literature Shaken to the core by his disillusionment with a brutal regime unsure of surviving his ordeal he stole some paper and began secretly to write with the admittedly romantic idea of leaving some testament behind a veiled denunciation of the evils of his time His first poem was published after he was unexpectedly released and his vocation was born

The Camp Colman Hogan, Marta Marin-Dòmine, 2021-02-03 The camp is nothing if not diverse in kind scope and particularity in sociological and juridical configuration in texture iconography and political import Adjectives of camp specificity embrace a spectrum from extermination and concentration to detention migration deportation and refugee camps And while the geographic range covered by contributors is hardly global it is broad Chile Rwanda Canada the US Central Europe Morocco Algeria South Africa France and Spain And yet is to so characterize the camp to run the risk of diffusing what in origin is a concentration into a paratactical series of identity particularisms While The Camp does not seek to antithetically promulgate a universalist vision it does aim to explore the imbrication of the particular and the universal to analyze the structure of a camp or camps and to call attention the role of the listener in the construction of the testimony For by naming what cannot be said is not every narrative of internment and exclusion a potential site of agency articulating the inner splitting of language that Giorgio Agamben defines as the locus of testimony to bear witness is to place oneself in one's own language in the position of those who have lost it to establish oneself in a living language as if it were dead or in a dead language as if it were living Souffles-Anfas Olivia C.
