Global seawater levels are rising and the low lying coasts of the North Sea basin are amongst the most vulnerable in Europe In our current moment of environmental crisis the North Sea coasts are literary arenas in which the challenges and concerns of the Anthropocene are being played out This book shows how the fragile landscapes around the North Sea have served as bellwethers for environmental concern both now and in the recent past It looks at literary sources drawn from the countries around the North Sea Denmark Germany the Netherlands and England from the mid nineteenth century onwards taking them out of their established national and cultural contexts and reframing them in the light of human concern with fast changing and hazardous environments The six chapters serve as literary case studies that highlight memories of flood disaster and recovery attempts to engineer the landscape into submission perceptions of the landscape as both local and global and the imagination of the future of our planet This approach which combines environmental history and ecocriticism shows the importance of cultural artefacts in understandings of and responses to environmental change and advocates for the importance of literary studies in the environmental humanities This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the Environmental Humanities including Eco criticism and Environmental History as well as anyone studying literature from the Germanic philologies Fantasy Fiction Jennifer Pullen, 2023-12-14 The first fantasy writing textbook to combine a historical genre overview with an anthology and comprehensive craft guide this book explores the blue prints of one of the most popular forms of genre fiction The first section will acquaint readers with the vast canon of existing fantasy fiction and outline the many sub genres encompassed within it before examining the important relationship between fantasy and creative writing the academy and publishing A craft guide follows which equips students with the key concepts of storytelling as they are impacted by writing through a fantastical lens These include Character and dialogue Point of view Plot and structure Worldbuilding settings ideologies and cultures Style and revision The third section guides students through the spectrum of styles as they are classified in fantasy fiction from Epic and high fantasy through Lovecraftian and Weird fiction to magical realism and hybrid fantasy An accompanying anthology will provide students with a greater awareness of the range of possibilities open to them as fantasy writers and will feature such writers as Ursula Le Guin China Mi ville Theodora Goss Emrys Donaldson Ken Liu C S E Cooney Vandana Singh Sofia Samatar Rebecca Roanhorse Jessie Ulmer Yxta Maya Murray and Rachael K Jones With writing exercises prompts additional online resources and cues for further reading throughout this is an essential resource for anyone wanting to write fantastical fiction Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction Jonathan Elmore, 2020-04-01 Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction is one of the first works to focus specifically on fiction s engagements with human driven extinction Drawing together a diverse group of scholars and approaches this volume pairs established voices in the field with emerging scholars and traditionally recognized climate fiction cli fi with texts and media typically not associated with Anthropocene fictions The result is a volume that both engages with and furthers existing work on Anthropocene fiction as well as laying groundwork for the budding subfield of extinction fiction This volume takes up the collective insistence on the centrality of story to extinction studies In various and disparate ways each chapter engages with the stories we tell about extinction about the extinction of animal and plant life and about the extinction of human life itself Answering the call to action of extinction studies these chapters explore what kinds of humanity caused this event and what kinds may live through it what cultural assumptions and values led to this event and which ones could lead out of it what relationships between human life and this planet allowed the sixth mass extinction and what alternative relationships could be possible Weirding Landscapes Vesa-Pekka Herva, Aki Hakonen, Roger Norum, Oula Seitsonen, Markus Fjellström, 2025-03-28 This open access book investigates human environment relations in the context of the anthropogenic Arctic Through an archaeological and anthropological study of landscape it wields weirding a creative mode of engagement with the world as a means of coming to terms with the stranger experiential dimensions of a planet populated by diverse non human entities often bearing monstrous characteristics Such entities are exemplified by climate change itself at once human induced and a force of its own volition that maintains an elusive presence as a co inhabitant of the Anthropocene The book focuses on the landscape of Ritni ohkka a fjell in S pmi Finnish Lapland Ritni ohkka is erstwhile home to a diminutive glacier whose weird anomalous characteristics crowned the fjell until it several years ago melted into history Taking a broadly autoethnographic approach it considers perceptions of and affective experiences in this rough and relatively remote otherworldly environment discussing diverse ways of encountering and relating to the Arctic in the context of scientific fieldwork

Ecological Exile Derek Gladwin, 2017-11-13 Ecological Exile explores how contemporary literature film and media culture confront ecological crises through perspectives of spatial justice a facet of social justice that looks at unjust circumstances as a phenomenon of space Growing instances of flooding population displacement and pollution suggest an urgent need to re examine the ways social and geographical spaces are perceived and valued in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Maintaining that ecological crises are largely socially produced Derek Gladwin considers how British and Irish literary and visual texts by Ian McEwan Sarah Gavron Eavan Boland John McGrath and China Mi ville among others respond to and confront various spatial injustices resulting from fossil fuel production and the effects of climate change This ambitious book offers a new spatial perspective in the environmental humanities by focusing on what the philosopher Glenn Albrecht has termed solastalgia a feeling of homesickness caused by environmental damage The result of solastalgia is that people feel paradoxically ecologically exiled in the places they continue to live because of destructive environmental changes Gladwin skilfully traces spatially produced instances of ecological injustice that literally and imaginatively abolish people s sense of place or place home By looking at two of the most pressing social and environmental concerns oil and climate Ecological Exile shows how literary and visual texts have documented spatially unjust effects of solastalgia This interdisciplinary book will appeal to students scholars and professionals studying literary film and media texts that draw on environment and sustainability cultural geography energy cultures climate change and social justice

London in Contemporary British Fiction Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, 2016-07-28 Contemporary writers such as Peter Ackroyd J G Ballard John King Ian McEwan Will Self Iain Sinclair and Zadie Smith have been registering the changes to the social and cultural London landscape for years This volume brings together their vivid representations of the capital Uniting the readings are themes such as relationship between the country and the city the capacity of satirical forms to encompass the real London spatio temporal transformations and emergences the relationship between multiculturalism and universalism the underground as the spatial equivalent of London s unconsciousness and the suburbs as the frontier of the future The volume creates a framework for new approaches to the representation of London required by the unprecedented social uncertainties of recent years an invaluable contribution to studies of contemporary writing about London

Handbook of the English Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Christoph Reinfandt, 2017-06-12 The Handbook systematically charts the trajectory of the English novel from its emergence as the foremost literary genre in the early twentieth century to its early twenty first century status of eccentric eminence in new media environments Systematic chapters address The English Novel as a Distinctly Modern Genre The Novel in the Economy Genres Gender performativity masculinities feminism queer and The Burden of Representation class and ethnicity Extended contextualized close readings of more than twenty key texts from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness 1899 to Tom McCarthy's Satin Island 2015 supplement the systematic approach and encourage future research by providing overviews of reception and theoretical perspectives
