

An aerial photograph of a city skyline, likely San Francisco, taken from a high vantage point. The image shows a dense cluster of skyscrapers and buildings, with the Golden Gate Bridge visible in the distance. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. A dark, semi-transparent rectangular box is overlaid on the upper portion of the image, containing the text "Think global, act local." in a white, serif font. Below this box, a smaller, semi-transparent red rectangular box contains the name "Patrick Geddes" in a white, serif font. The overall composition is a blend of urban landscape and motivational text.

Think global, act local.

Think Global Act Local Patrick

Anthony M. Orum

Think Global Act Local Patrick:

Think Global, Act Local Walter Stephen, 2004 Town planning open minded education and preservation of historic buildings are generally regarded as notions of the modern age when in fact Patrick Geddes evolved these principles over 100 years ago This title looks at the life of this important man and the continuing relevance of his ideas in our world

Sourcebook of Experiential Education Thomas E. Smith, Clifford E. Knapp, 2011-01-20 This sourcebook book provides a much needed overview and foundations for the field of experiential education through portraits of philosophers educators and other practitioners whose work is relevant to understanding its philosophy and methodology Patrick Geddes and

Town Planning Noah Hysler-Rubin, 2013-12-16 Patrick Geddes is considered a forefather of the modern urban planning movement This book studies the various and even opposing ways in which Geddes has been interpreted up to this day providing a new reading of his life writing and plans Geddes scrutiny is presented as a case study for Town Planning as a whole Tying together for the first time key concepts in cultural geography and colonial urbanism the book proposes a more vigorous historiography exposing hidden narratives and past agendas still dominating the disciplinary discourse Written by a cultural geographer and a town planner this book offers a rounded full length analysis of Geddes vision and its material manifestation functioning also as a much needed critical tool to evaluate Modern Town Planning as an academic and practical discipline The book also includes a long overdue model of his urban theory Manifestoes and Transformations in the Early Modernist City Christian Hermansen Cordua, 2010 Manifestoes and Transformations is the first work to deal with urban utopias and their relationship with actual urban interventions Bringing together a carefully chosen wide ranging team of experts the book provides a broad contextual exploration of the ideas and urban practices which are the foundations of our conception of the contemporary city The Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies Anthony M. Orum, 2019-04-15 Provides comprehensive coverage of major topics in urban and regional studies Under the guidance of Editor in Chief Anthony Orum this definitive reference work covers central and emergent topics in the field through an examination of urban and regional conditions and variation across the world It also provides authoritative entries on the main conceptual tools used by anthropologists sociologists geographers and political scientists in the study of cities and regions Among such concepts are those of place and space geographical regions the nature of power and politics in cities urban culture and many others The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies captures the character of complex urban and regional dynamics across the globe including timely entries on Latin America Africa India and China At the same time it contains illuminating entries on some of the current concepts that seek to grasp the essence of the global world today such as those of Friedmann and Sassen on global cities It also includes discussions of recent economic writings on cities and regions such as those of Richard Florida Comprised of over 450 entries on the most important topics and from a range of theoretical perspectives Features authoritative entries on topics ranging from gender and the city to biographical profiles of figures like Frank Lloyd Wright Takes a global perspective with entries providing coverage of Latin America and Africa India and China and the US and Europe Includes biographies of central figures in urban and regional studies such as Doreen Massey Peter Hall Neil Smith and Henri Lefebvre The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies is an indispensable reference for students and researchers in urban and regional studies urban sociology urban geography and urban anthropology Making Another World Possible Peter Ryley, 2013-07-18 Making Another World Possible identifies the British contribution to the genealogy of modern green and anti capitalist thinking by examining left libertarian ideologies in the late 19th and early 20th century Britain and highlighting their influence on present day radical thought As capitalism heralded the triumph of technology greater production and a new urban industrial society some imagined alternatives to this notion of progress based on endless economic growth The book examines the development of ideas from these dissidents who included communists class warriors free thinkers secularists and Christian communitarians All shared the same beliefs that the benefits of industrialism could only be realized through equality and that urban culture depended on a healthy agriculture and harmony with the natural world concerns that are still of great importance today This distinctive history of anarchist ideas reappraises the work of thinkers and revises the historical picture of the radical milieu in 19th and 20th century Britain It will be an essential resource to anyone researching the history of ideas and studying anarchism

Communicating Environmental Patriotism Anne Marie Todd, 2013-06-07 Environmental patriotism the belief that the national environment defines a country's greatness is a significant strand in twentieth century American environmentalism This book is the first to explore the history of environmental patriotism in America through the intriguing stories of environmental patriots and the rhetoric of their speeches and propaganda The See America First movement began in 1906 with the aim of protecting and promoting the landscapes of the American West In 1908 Gifford Pinchot and President Theodore Roosevelt hosted the White House Conservation Conference to promote the wise use of natural resources for generations of Americans In 1912 Pittsburgh's smoke investigation condemned the effects of coal smoke on the city's environment In World War II a massive propaganda effort mobilized millions of Americans to plant victory gardens to save resources for the war abroad While these may not seem like crucial moments for the American environmental movement this new history of American environmentalism shows that they are linked by patriotism The book offers a provoking critique of environmentalists communication strategies and suggests patriotism as a persuasive hook for new ways to make environmental issues a national priority This original research should be of interest to scholars of environmental communication environmental history American history and environmental philosophy Environmental Awareness and the Design of Literature François Specq, 2016-10-05 Environmental Awareness and the Design of Literature offers analyses of the diverse ways in which literature helps us escape the rigid frames of commonly assumed worldviews and modes of seeing Literary works are endowed with a capacity not only to reflect or to mediate but to resist our environment and thus to affect and transform our relation to the physical world Each essay points to the way literature shapes the human perception of environment as intellectual adventures and forays that draw upon a number of historical aesthetic philosophical and phenomenological stances Religious Pluralism, Globalization, and World Politics Thomas Banchoff,2008-11-26

Globalization has spawned more active transnational religious communities creating a powerful force in world affairs Religious Pluralism Globalization and World Politics an incisive new collection of essays explores the patterns of cooperation and conflict that mark this new religious pluralism Shifting religious identities have encouraged interreligious dialogue and greater political engagement around global challenges including international development conflict resolution transitional justice and bioethics At the same time interreligious competition has contributed to political conflict and running controversy over the meaning and scope of religious freedom In this volume leading scholars from a variety of disciplines examine how the forces of religious pluralism and globalization are playing out on the world stage Green Banking Jörg

Böttcher,2020-07-20 Green Banking is the first guide encompassing all the disciplines necessary to realize renewable energy projects This book focuses on cost competitive and mature technologies and on the processes enabling to develop finance and execute such utility scale projects The book starts with the aspects relevant for every form of renewable energy It covers essential themes such as the role of renewables amid a changing energy world the importance of the regulatory regime its social acceptance and bankability criteria to name only a few Chapters describe project financings vehicles for a range of renewable energy technologies including solar photovoltaic power plants onshore wind farms and offshore wind farms The book give readers a unique perspective on how renewable energy projects are realized and is a go to reference manual for understanding how the different project stakeholders act All of the articles are provided by authors with an ample experience in renewable energies and many years experience This book is especially useful for people working in this industry or students willing to get better knowledge out of their field of experience The Great Horizon Jo Woolf,2017-11-16 Fifty stories of adventure and exploration over more than two hundred years of human history The Great Horizon features those who set out to conquer new territories and claim world records alongside those who contributed to our understanding of the world all but accidentally Published in association with the Royal Scottish Geographical Society and with full access to their extensive records the book includes unique images and insights from the RSGS archives along with never before seen material World Heritage on the Ground Christoph Brumann,David Berliner,2016-04-01 The UNESCO World Heritage Convention of 1972 set the contemporary standard for cultural and natural conservation Today a place on the World Heritage List is much sought after for tourism promotion development funding and national prestige Presenting case studies from across the globe particularly from Africa and Asia anthropologists with situated expertise in specific World Heritage sites explore the consequences of the World Heritage framework and the global spread of the UNESCO heritage regime This book shows how local and national circumstances interact with the global institutional framework in complex and unexpected ways

Contemporary architecture and the culture it reflects dependent as it is on fossil fuels has contributed to the cause and necessity of a burgeoning green process that emerged over the past half century This text is the first to offer a comprehensive critical history and analysis of the greening of architecture through accumulative reduction of negative environmental effects caused by buildings urban designs and settlements Describing the progressive development of green architecture from 1960 to 2010 it illustrates how it is ever evolving and ameliorated through alterations in form technology materials and use and it examines different places worldwide that represent a diversity of cultural and climatic contexts The book is divided into seven chapters with an overview of the environmental issues and the nature of green architecture in response to them followed by an historic perspective of the pioneering evolution of green technology and architectural integration over the past five decades and finally providing the intransigent and culturally pervasive current examples within a wide range of geographic territories The greening of architecture is seen as an evolutionary process that is informed by significant world events climate change environmental theories movements in architecture technological innovations and seminal works in architecture and planning throughout each decade over the past fifty years This time period is bounded on one end by the awareness of environmental problems beginning in the 1960 s the influential texts by Rachel Carson E F Schumacher Buckminster Fuller and Steward Brand and the impact of the OPEC Oil Embargo of 1973 and on the other end the pervasiveness of the necessary greening of architecture that includes systemic reforms in architectural and urban design land use planning transportation agriculture and energy production found in the 2000 s The greening process moves from remediation to holistic models of architecture Geographical landscapes give a global account of the greening process where some examples are parallel and sympathetic and others are in clear contrast to one another with very individuated approaches Certain events like the Rio Summit in 1992 and Kyoto Protocol in 1997 and themes such as the Hannover Principles in 2000 provide a dynamic ideological critique as well as a formal and technical discussion of the embodied and accumulative content of greening principles in architecture
