fiction gathered here explores madness romantic obsession adolescent yearning and class divisions with Storey's characteristic understanding of people and society The Times Literary Supplement A Serious Man Richard Fenchurch has had a long successful career as a playwright painter and novelist But at sixty five he is coming apart at the seams His married daughter Harriet moves him from his squalid London flat to his ancestral mansion Home again with ghosts all around Fenchurch ruminates on past loves and choices while struggling to maintain his freedom and sanity This spellbinding giant of a book is dashing hectic complex sometimes almost wickedly aimless and terrifying It reads like a wild animal flexing its muscles An electrifying success The Mail on Sunday A Temporary Life As his wife wastes away in a hospital sinking deeper and deeper into a terrifying and incomprehensible madness Colin Freestone tries to make sense of what his life has become Having moved to Yvonne's hometown in northern England for her psychiatric care he teaches art at a second rate college headed by a nutrition crazed dean He makes friends and meets women but nothing can distract him from the fact that his wife is slowly dying and he is powerless to stop it A triumph bitter enriching The New York Times A Prodigal Child Desperate to escape the poverty of his family and his drunken father who works as a farmhand Bryan goes to live with the childless Fay Corrigan at her posh home in town during the week while attending a prep school that she pays for But Bryan soon feels a growing chasm between his new life and the world he left behind And his mounting jealous erotic obsession with the much older Fay leads to actions and consequences that will reverberate for years to come Quiet but telling drama intense observation Penelope Lively

This Sporting Life Robert Colls, 2020 This Sporting Life offers an important view of England's cultural history through its sporting pursuits carrying the reader to a match or a hunt or a fight viscerally drawing a portrait of the sounds and smells and showing that sport has been as important in defining British culture as gender politics education class and religion

This Sporting Life David Storey, 2018-10-23 Rugby League football in an industrial northern city circa 1960 is a life of grime mud sweat intrigue and naked ambition In This Sporting Life David Storey recounts the fortunes of gladiator hero Arthur Machin from the day of his inclusion in the local team to the match when he begins to feel age creeping up on him Through Arthur we are taken into his raw often brutal world of players backers Saturday crowds bloody noses and broken teeth landladies and communal baths

The Collected Novels Volume Three David Storey, 2018-07-24 Three thought provoking novels from the Man Booker Prize winning British novelist of This Sporting Life and an absorbing writer The New Yorker The son of a coal miner who went on to play professionally in the rugby league British author David Storey drew heavily on his own background for his debut novel This Sporting Life which won the 1960 Macmillan Fiction Award and was made into a film with Richard Harris The leading novelist of his generation Storey was also a playwright and screenwriter going on to win the Man Booker Prize for his novel Saville The Daily Telegraph Collected here Storey's characters range from a seventeen year old compulsive note writer to a seventy year old suicidal art historian and a middle aged sports columnist but they all share a common trait a profound questioning of life's meaning Thin Ice Skater An angst ridden seventeen year old who shares intimate details of his life in the form of memos written to himself Rick Audlin first goes to live with his much older film producer half brother Gerry whose second wife Martha a former movie star has been committed to a mental institution When Gerry has to go abroad Rick moves in with his long estranged other half brother James a failed crime novelist and is seduced by Clare James s wife But Rick begins to realize something else is going on something that will eventually lead him to a shattering secret in his family As It Happened After a failed suicide attempt in front of a moving train seventy year old art historian and professor emeritus Matthew Maddox attends art therapy classes hoping to find meaning in his life Although he feels isolated Maddox does have his champions Simone his lover and partner is returning from an analysts conference in Vienna There is also his former mentor whose wartime past fascinates Maddox his older sister Sarah and his younger brother Paul and Eric Taylor once his most promising student now a convicted murderer in whom Maddox sees echoes of his own life A novel packed with argument and written with a close attention to the significance of gesture the thing seen the sound heard the thought apprehended The Scotsman Present Times Former playwright Frank Attercliffe cowrites a sports column about football and lives with his children in relative peace until the night his wife who left him three years ago for a car dealer returns home and announces she wants to move back in Just one catch she wants Frank to move out I enjoyed this book for its savagery its stoically enduring hero its taut explosive dialogue The Sunday Telegraph

The Plays of David Storey William Hutchings, 1988 This is the first comprehensive play by play analysis of the drama of David Storey one of the most acclaimed and innovative sometimes controversial writers in the British theatre since World War II Grouping the plays according to theme Hutchings demonstrates that the central focus in the drama of David Storey is the devaluation of traditional rituals in contemporary life and the disintegration of the family A playwright attuned to the poetry in the ordinary to the profundity subtle eloquence and dramatic tension in the mundane Storey explores the ways people cope or fail to cope with complexity with uncertainty with constant bewildering flux He writes about groups families In Celebration The Farm rugby teams The Changing Room and construction crews The Contractor In his plays individuals seek to overcome isolation and integrate themselves into a significant assemblage that transcends the self Hutchings notes that Storey frequently deals with working class parents who cannot understand their grown children s anxieties their discontentedness with life their unstable marriages and their inability to enjoy the benefits of the education and advantages they labored so hard for so many years to provide Storey understands and sympathizes with parents who have paid to educate their children out of their own spheres He saw it happen in his own family knew the disapproval of his father What else could my father think when nearing sixty he came home each day from the pit exhausted shattered by fatigue to find me a young man ideally physically equipped to do the job which now left him totally prostrated painting a picture of flowers or writing a poem about a cloud There was and there is no hope of reconciliation Hutchings supplements his thematic analysis of Storey s plays by interweaving into his text 90 percent of a major interview with the playwright the only such comprehensive interview in existence Storey who believes that readers ought to be chary of all interviews discusses alleged literary influences on his work the current state of British theatre and his reactions to critics He also provides insight into various productions and performances in his work This Sporting Life, 2007 A Serious Man David Storey, 2015-09-08 A successful playwright painter and novelist confronts his mortality and the past during a major life crisis in this novel by Man Booker Prize winning author David Storey Richard Fenchurch has had a long and successful career as a playwright painter and novelist But at age 65 he is coming apart at the seams Fearing he will do something drastic if he remains alone Fenchurch's married daughter Harriet takes charge of his life She moves her father from his squalid London apartment to his ancestral mansion where he courted his 1st wife Harriet's mother Bea whom he met at a Christmas dance Home again with ghosts all around Fenchurch journeys back in time while struggling to maintain his freedom and sanity Past and present seamlessly intersect through the rich landscape of memory as Fenchurch begins to ruminate on his passionate affair 35 years earlier with his mother in law In spite of their nearly 30 year age difference the beautiful exotic Isabella became the enduring love of his life He relives his other romantic relationships as well and through it all is plagued by self doubt depression and guilt about how he has fared as a husband a father a friend and a lover Both a witty spot on portrayal of the indignities of age and an ardent evocation of youthful love A Serious Man is above all a story about family

Companion to Contemporary British Fiction James F. English, 2008-04-15 A Concise Companion to Contemporary British Fiction offers an authoritative overview of contemporary British fiction in its social political and economic contexts Focuses on the fiction that has emerged since the late 1970s roughly since the start of the Thatcher era Comprises original essays from major scholars Topics range from the rise and fall of the postcolonial novel to controversies over the celebrity author The emphasis is on the whole fiction scene from bookstores and prizes to the changing economics of film adaptation Enables students to read contemporary works of British fiction with a much clearer sense of where they fit within British cultural life

Richard Harris Joe Jackson, 2022-11-18 In 1987 when Richard Harris the legendary star of This Sporting Life The Field and Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone was interviewed for the first time by Joe Jackson they almost came to blows Jackson was determined to unearth deeper truths about the actor than he usually disclosed during interviews Harris had manipulated the media all his life largely to keep people from getting to really know him However by the time that interview ended they had become firm friends It was only then that Jackson told Harris I want to show the public that there is far more to you than your superficial image as a boozing brawling womaniser Harris loved this idea and two years later he asked Jackson to write his biography Richard Harris Raising Hell and Reaching for Heaven is that biography But it is much more besides Based on a searingly honest series of interviews Jackson recorded with Harris between 1987 and 2001 plus the author's journal entries and extensive notes this book is also a part memoir that tells a highly personal and moving back story about why it was inevitable that Jackson and Harris would connect at the deepest possible level This book will finally prove beyond a doubt that there was far more to Richard Harris indisputably one of Ireland's greatest actors as well as a Grammy award winning recording artist and published poet than has previously been revealed A Companion to the British and Irish Novel, 1945 - 2000 Brian W. Shaffer, 2008-04-15

A Companion to the British and Irish Novel 1945 2000 serves as an extended introduction and reference guide to the British and Irish novel between the close of World War II and the turn of the millennium Covers a wide range of authors from Samuel Beckett to Salman Rushdie Provides readings of key novels including Graham Greene's Heart of the Matter Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea and Kazuo Ishiguro's The Remains of the Day Considers particular subgenres such as the feminist novel and the postcolonial novel Discusses overarching cultural political and literary trends such as screen adaptations and the literary prize phenomenon Gives readers a sense of the richness and diversity of the novel during this period and of the vitality with which it continues to be discussed Rugby League in

Twentieth Century Britain Tony Collins, 2006-09-27 Called the greatest game of all by its supporters but often overlooked by the cultural mainstream no sport is more identified with England's northern working class than rugby league. This book traces the story of the sport from the Northern Union of the 1900s to the formation of the Super League in the 1990s through war, depression, boom and deindustrialisation into a new economic and social age. Using a range of previously unexplored archival sources, this extremely readable and deeply researched book considers the impact of two world wars, the significance of the game's expansion to Australasia and the momentous decision to take rugby league to Wembley. It investigates the history of rugby union's long running war against league and the sport's troubled relationship with the national media. Most importantly, this book sheds new light on issues of social class and working class masculinity, regional identity and the profound impact of the decline of Britain's traditional industries. For all those interested in the history of sport and working class culture, this is essential reading.

British Realist Theatre Stephen Lacey, 1995. An accessible introduction to the New Wave, providing the historical and cultural background necessary for a full understanding of this dynamic period in theatre. Includes material on Osborne Pinter, Edward Bond and Shelagh Delaney.

The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries Kate Oakley, Justin O'Connor, 2015-05-22. The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries is a collection of contemporary scholarship on the cultural industries and seeks to reassert the importance of cultural production and consumption against the purely economic imperatives of the creative industries. Across 43 chapters drawn from a wide range of geographic and disciplinary perspectives, this comprehensive volume offers a critical and empirically informed examination of the contemporary cultural industries. A range of cultural industries are explored from videogames to art galleries, all the time focussing on the culture that is being produced and its wider symbolic and socio-cultural meaning. Individual chapters consider their industrial structure, the policy that governs them, their geography, the labour that produces them and the meaning they offer to consumers and participants. The collection also explores the historical dimension of cultural industry debates, providing context for new readers as well as critical orientation for those more familiar with the subject. Questions of industry structure, labour, place, international development, consumption and regulation are all explored in terms of their historical trajectory and potential future direction. By assessing the current challenges facing the cultural industries, this collection of contemporary scholarship provides students and researchers with an essential guide to key ideas, issues, concepts and debates in the field.

How to be Well Read John Sutherland, 2014-05-08. Generous, enjoyable and well informed. Observer 500 expertly potted plots and personal comments on a wide range of pop and proper prose fiction. The Times _____ Ranging all the way from Aaron's Rod to Zuleika Dobson via The Devil Rides Out and Middelmarch, literary connoisseur and sleuth John Sutherland offers his very personal guide to the most rewarding, most remarkable and on occasion most shamelessly enjoyable works of fiction ever written. He brilliantly captures the flavour of each work and assesses its relative merits and demerits. He shows how it fits into a broader context and he offers endless snippets of intriguing information. Did you know, for example, that the Nazis banned Bambi or that

William Faulkner wrote As I Lay Dying on an upturned wheelbarrow that Voltaire completed Candide in three days or that Anna Sewell was paid 20 for Black Beauty. It is also effectively a history of the novel in 500 or so wittily informative bite sized pieces. Encyclopaedic and entertaining by turns this is a wonderful dip in book whose opinions will inform and on occasion no doubt infuriate. _____ Anyone hooked on fiction should be warned this book will feed your addiction. Mail on Sunday: A dazzling array of genres, periods, styles and tastes, chatty, insightful, unprejudiced but not uncritical and wise. Times Literary Supplement: The Complete Index to Literary Sources in Film. Alan Goble, 2011-09-08. No detailed description available for The Complete Index to Literary Sources in Film. Present Times. David Storey, 2015-09-08. From the leading novelist of his generation, the Daily Telegraph, a story about marriage, family and a man's 2nd chance. At age 47, former playwright Frank Attercliffe lives with 2 of his 5 children in a 4 bedroom apartment on Walton Lane, on the outskirts of an English suburb. For the past 3 years, his wife Sheila has been living with Maurice, a car dealer who owns a Rolls Royce, a Bentley and a Jaguar, a man rumored to have killed 3 people in car accidents. Attercliffe cowrites a weekend football roundup for the local sports column and after a match, he is introduced to the beautiful actress Phyllis Gardner at his favorite watering hole. That night, however, Sheila comes home having left Maurice and given up her current lover, Gavin. She wants to move back to Walton Lane with the entire family but she wants Attercliffe to move out. With its cast of eccentric and endearing characters, including Attercliffe's loquacious fellow journalists, his alcoholic mentor and the daughters who force him to live in the moment, Present Times is a novel about marriage, changing family values and 2nd acts.
