Back to the Land Dona Brown, 2011-06-01 For many going back to the land brings to mind the 1960s and 1970s hippie communes and the Summer of Love The Whole Earth Catalog and Mother Earth News More recently the movement has reemerged in a new enthusiasm for locally produced food and more sustainable energy paths But these latest back to the landers are part of a much larger story Americans have been dreaming of returning to the land ever since they started to leave it In Back to the Land Dona Brown explores the history of this recurring impulse Back to the landers have often been viewed as nostalgic escapists or romantic nature lovers But their own words reveal a more complex story In such projects as Gustav Stickley's Craftsman Farms Frank Lloyd Wright's Broadacre City and Helen and Scott Nearing's quest for the good life Brown finds that the return to the farm has meant less a going backwards than a going forwards a way to meet the challenges of the modern era Progressive reformers pushed for homesteading to help impoverished workers get out of unhealthy urban slums Depression era back to the landers wary of the centralizing power of the New Deal embraced a new third way politics of decentralism and regionalism Later still the movement merged with environmentalism To understand Americans response to these back to the land ideas Brown turns to the fan letters of ordinary readers retired teachers and overworked clerks recent immigrants and single women In seeking their rural roots Brown argues Americans have striven above all for the independence and self sufficiency they associate with the agrarian ideal Best Books for General Audiences selected by the American Association of School Librarians

The Arena ,1907 Suburbanite ,1909 Three Acres and Liberty Bolton Hall,2020-08-30 By thought and courage we can help ourselves to own a home surrounded by acres of fruit and vegetables flowers and poultry and learn the best methods so as to insure success In olden times any one could farm but it is necessary to day to teach people to obtain a livelihood directly from the earth Scientific methods of agriculture have revealed possibilities in the soil that make farming the most fascinating occupation known to man People in every city are longing for the freedom of country life yet hesitate to enter into its liberty because no one points the way Most sociologists are agreed that the great problem of our day is to stop the drift of population toward the cities Seeing the overcrowding the want and misery of our great towns the philanthropist chimes in with Get the people to the country that is the need But there is no such need Man is a social animal he naturally goes in flocks he earns more and learns more in crowds To transport him to the country even if he would stay which happily he won t would be to doctor a symptom As in typhoid what is needed is not to suppress the fever that is easy but to remove the cause of it
