Henty, 2015-05-20 Winning His Spurs A Tale of the Crusades By G A Henty 1895 It was a bright morning in the month of August when a lad of some fifteen years of age sitting on a low wall watched party after party of armed men riding up to the castle of the Earl of Evesham. A casual observer glancing at his curling hair and bright open face as also at the fashion of his dress would at once have assigned to him a purely Saxon origin but a keener eye would have detected signs that Norman blood ran also in his veins for his figure was lithèr and lighter his features more straightly and shapely cut than was common among Saxons. His dress consisted of a tight fitting jerkin descending nearly to his knees. The material was a light blue cloth while over his shoulder hung a short cloak of a darker hue. His cap was of Saxon fashion and he wore on one side a little plume of a heron. In a somewhat costly belt hung a light short sword while across his knees lay a crossbow in itself almost a sure sign of its bearer being of other than Saxon blood. The boy looked anxiously as party after party rode past towards the castle. I would give something he said to know what wind blows these knaves here. From every petty castle in the Earl's feu the retainers seem hurrying here. Is he bent I wonder on settling once and for all his quarrels with the Baron of Wortham or can he be intending to make a clear sweep of the woods? Ah here comes my gossip Hubert he may tell me the meaning of this gathering.

have assigned to him a purely Saxon origin but a keener eye would have detected signs that Norman blood ran also in his veins for his figure was lither and lighter his features more straightly and shapely cut than was common among Saxons His dress consisted of a tight fitting jerkin descending nearly to his knees The material was a light blue cloth while over his shoulder hung a short cloak of a darker hue His cap was of Saxon fashion and he wore on one side a little plume of a heron In a somewhat costly belt hung a light short sword while across his knees lay a crossbow in itself almost a sure sign of its bearer being of other than Saxon blood The boy looked anxiously as party after party rode past towards the castle I would give something he said to know what wind blows these knaves here From every petty castle in the Earl s feu the retainers seem hurrying here Is he bent I wonder on settling once and for all his quarrels with the Baron of Wortham or can he be intending to make a clear sweep of the woods Ah here comes my gossip Hubert he may tell me the meaning of this gathering Leaping to his feet the speaker started at a brisk walk to meet a jovial looking personage coming down from the direction of the castle The new comer was dressed in the attire of a falconer and two dogs followed at his heels Ah Master Cuthbert he said what brings you so near to the castle It is not often that you favour us with your presence I am happier in the woods as you well know and was on my way thither but now when I paused at the sight of all these troopers flocking in to Evesham What enterprise has Sir Walter on hand now think you The earl keeps his own counsel said the falconer but methinks a shrewd guess might be made at the purport of the gathering It was but three days since that his foresters were beaten back by the landless men whom they caught in the very act of cutting up a fat buck As thou knowest my lord though easy and well disposed to all and not fond of harassing and driving the people as are many of his neighbours is yet to the full as fanatical anent his forest privileges as the worst of them They tell me that when the news came in of the poor figure that his foresters cut with broken bows and draggled plumes for the varlets had soused them in a pond of not over savoury water he swore a great oath that he would clear the forest of the bands It may be indeed that this gathering is for the purpose of falling in force upon that evil disposed and most treacherous baron Sir John of Wortham who has already begun to harry some of the outlying lands and has driven off I hear many heads of cattle It is a quarrel which will have to be fought out sooner or later and the sooner the better say I Although I am no man of war and love looking after my falcons or giving food to my dogs far more than exchanging hard blows yet would I gladly don the buff and steel coat to aid in levelling the keep of that robber and tyrant Sir John of Wortham

Winning His Spurs G. A. Henty, 2016-07-20 A story of medieval life that follows the remarkable adventures of young Cuthbert de Lance a lad who serves as a page to an English nobleman during the Third Crusade George Alfred Henty 8 December 1832 16 November 1902 was a prolific English novelist and war correspondent He is best known for his historical adventure stories that were popular in the late 19th century His works include The Dragon 1886 For The Temple 1888 Under Drake s Flag 1883 and In Freedom s Cause 1885 G A Henty was born in Trumpington near Cambridge He was a sickly child who had to spend long periods in bed During his frequent illnesses he became an avid reader and developed a wide range of interests which he carried into adulthood He attended Westminster School London and later Gonville and Caius College Cambridge where he was a keen sportsman He left the university early without completing his degree to volunteer for the Army Hospital Commissariat when the Crimean War began He was sent to the Crimea and while there he witnessed the appalling conditions under which the British soldier had to fight His letters home were filled with vivid descriptions of what he saw His father was impressed by his letters and sent them to The Morning Advertiser newspaper which printed them This initial writing success was a factor in Henty's later decision to accept the offer to become a special correspondent the early name for journalists now better known as war correspondents Shortly before resigning from the army as a captain in 1859 he married Elizabeth Finucane The couple had four children Elizabeth died in 1865 after a long illness and shortly after her death Henty began writing articles for the Standard newspaper In 1866 the newspaper sent him as their special correspondent to report on the Austro Italian War where he met Giuseppe Garibaldi He went on to cover the 1868 British punitive expedition to Abyssinia the Franco Prussian War the Ashanti War the Carlist Rebellion in Spain and the Turco Serbian War Henty wrote 122 works of historical fiction and all first editions had the date printed at the foot of the title page 11 Several short stories published in book form are included in this total with the stories taken from previously published full length novels The dates given below are those printed at the foot of the title page of the very first editions in the United Kingdom It is a common misconception that American Henty titles were published before those of the UK All Henty titles bar one were published in the UK before those of America The simple explanation for this error of judgement is that Charles Scribner's Sons of New York dated their Henty first editions for the current year The first UK editions published by Blackie were always dated for the coming year to have them looking fresh for Christmas The only Henty title published in book form in America before the UK book was In the Hands of the Cave Dwellers dated 1900 and published by Harper of New York This title was published in book form in the UK in 1903 although the story itself had already been published in England prior to the first American edition in The Boy's Own Annual
