Viktor Schreckengost American Da Vinci:

Viktor Schreckengost Henry Adams, 2006 This survey of the work of Viktor Schreckengost an artistic inventor an American DaVinci marks the centenary of his birth A key figure in the first era of modern design and one of its last living leaders Schreckengost's paintings sculpture pottery and industrial designs are now being exhibited at more than 100 museums around the United States Throughout his long working career Schreckengost strove to apply a creative philosophy that linked artistically dramatic form with an object's function The result was design that was nearly always remarkable and very often revolutionary He created the first cab over engine truck the first modern mass produced dinnerware and the first economical pedal cars for children He designed stage sets and costumes flashlights printing presses riding lawn mowers electric fans and bicycles At the same time his work in the fine arts flourished He won awards for paintings and ceramic sculpture placed pieces in museums and won commissions for new sculptures Somehow he also found time to establish the Industrial Design Department at the Cleveland Institute of Art the first program of its kind in the U S where he helped teach a new generation of designers This study of the life and work of Viktor Schreckengost includes more than 250 images of his art and design with an extensive text by historian Henry Adams From the ceramic Jazz Bowl to the high speed sixteen colour printing press designed for R R Donnelly Schreckengost demonstrated style and innovation that have influenced the shapes of things Americans have used for more than two generations

Gifts from the Fire Alice Cooney Frelinghuysen, Martin Eidelberg, 2021-10-22 From the 1880s to the 1950s pioneering American artists drew upon the rich traditions and recent innovations of European and Asian ceramics to develop new designs decorations and techniques The extraordinary range and inventiveness of these American interpretations of international trends from the Arts and Crafts and Art Deco movements to the modernism of Matisse and the Wiener Werkstätte to abstracted minimalist styles are exemplified in this book by more than 180 works from the outstanding collection of Martin Eidelberg Splendid new photography and engaging essays by two of the foremost experts on American art pottery trace the period's decorative developments from sculptural and painted ornament to adornment with deeply colored glazes and textures Featured makers include the renowned Rookwood Grueby and Van Briggles Potteries as well as leading artists such as Maija Grotell George E Ohr Frederick Hurten Rhead Louis C Tiffany Rockwell Kent Adelaide Alsop Robineau and Leza McVey A vivid and accessible overview of American ceramics and ceramists of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Gifts from the Fire reveals how artists working in the United States drew upon diverse global influences to produce works of astonishing variety and ingenuity

For Want of Wings Jill Hunting, 2022-02-24 In 1872 a young graduate of Yale University named Thomas Russell unearthed the bones of an 83 000 000 year old dinosaur in western Kansas The rare fossil an avian dinosaur with teeth and flightless wings proved that birds evolved from reptiles More than a century later Russell's great granddaughter set out to retrace her ancestor's forgotten expedition Part detective history part memoir For Want of Wings is Jill Hunting's captivating account of her journey into prehistory national history and family history In her quest to piece together fragments of her family's past Hunting ends up crisscrossing the United States from California to Connecticut On her first trip across the Colorado Rockies to the fossil bed site near Russell Springs Kansas Hunting brings along her then twenty six year old daughter When the book opens mother and daughter are both at crossroads each seeking to understand the impact of personal decisions on the landscape of her life As Hunting ventures forward she encounters unexpected resources such as ten year old triplets who converse with her about dinosaurs and a Connecticut museum where portraits of her ancestors hang on the walls Through lively descriptions of these visits Hunting advances a view of history as nonlinear and full of unlikely coincidences For Want of Wings is also the carefully researched story of the least known of Yale's four expeditions into the American West led by eminent paleontologist O C Marsh the friendship between Russell's father and abolitionist John Brown a portrait of a mother and daughter evolving in self understanding and an inquiry into matters of race in American history and the author's own family In the end all these pieces converge like fragments of a fossil to form an exquisitely patterned work of historical exploration
