Our Interwoven Lives with the Zapotec Weavers Susanna Starr, 2014-06-01 One of life's memorable intersections OUR INTERWOVEN LIVES WITH THE ZAPOTEC WEAVERS An Odyssey of Heart celebrates American entrepreneur and gallery owner Susanna Starr's forty years of working with the Zapotec weavers of the Oaxaca Valley in Mexico Starr takes us back to the moment when she first navigated dirt roads into the remote village of Teotitlan in the 70s and fell in love with the vibrant Zapotec hand loomed weavings and the warmth of the weavers themselves She leads us on a three generational trek of mind and spirit as the Zapotec families and her own grow in parallels of symbiotic prosperity and mutual respect that reminds us that business does not have to be a negative word

 Feinberg, 2010-01-01 Since the 1950s the Sierra Mazateca of Oaxaca Mexico has drawn a strange assortment of visitors and pilgrims schoolteachers and government workers North American and European spelunkers exploring the region's vast cave system and counterculturalists from hippies John Lennon and other celebrities supposedly among them to New Age seekers all chasing a firsthand experience of transcendence and otherness through the ingestion of psychedelic mushrooms in context with a Mazatec shaman Over time this steady incursion of the outside world has significantly influenced the Mazatec sense of identity giving rise to an ongoing discourse about what it means to be us and them In this highly original ethnography Benjamin Feinberg investigates how different understandings of Mazatec identity and culture emerge through talk that circulates within and among various groups including Mazatec speaking businessmen curers peasants intellectuals anthropologists bureaucrats cavers and mushroom seeking tourists Specifically he traces how these groups express their sense of culture and identity through narratives about three nearby yet strange discursive worlds the magic world of psychedelic mushrooms and shamanic practices the underground world of caves and its associated folklore of supernatural beings and magical wealth and the world of the past or the past present relationship Feinberg's research refutes the notion of a static Mazatec identity now changed by contact with the outside world showing instead that identity forms at the intersection of multiple transnational discourses

Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna

Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01 Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology. The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology. Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America. Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history indigenous history national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities. These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity Kathy M Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's Oodham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers. Because this work bridges anthropology and history a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics. This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels documenting the impact large scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts.

Sublime Light Cécile R. Ganteaume, Jennifer McLerran, 2024-09-24 The first book dedicated to the contemporary Din artist featuring 80 stunning tapestries and essays exploring her life and legacy. Discover the unique weaving traditions of the Navajo Nation in this joyous celebration of Indigenous art and history. A fifth generation weaver DY Begay's transformative tapestries reflect her family tradition her Din identity and the natural beauty of the Navajo Nation reservation where she grew up. The first book devoted to Begay's career Sublime Light reveals the evolution of her work with 80 gorgeous tapestries created between 1965 and 2022. To fully reveal her life and influences the book draws on Begay's journals family photographs and imagery from the Tselani Arizona landscape that inspires her work. Begay first learned to weave watching her mother and grandmother process wool from the family sheep herd using tools made by male relatives and working at their looms. Over the years she pushed her creativity and began combining her ancestral weaving techniques with modern design as well as blending colors historically used in Navajo weaving with unconventional dyes made from fungi food and non native flowers. Much of Begay's deeply personal work pays homage to Navajo land its red streaked cliffs indigo sunrises dreamy desert tones as well as her extraordinary lineage. On every page Sublime Light enchants.
