Tokyo: A Cultural and Literary History Stephen Mansfield, 2023-01-06 From its obscure origins as a fishing village along a marshy estuary Tokyo grew into one of the world's largest and most culturally vibrant metropolises For all its modernity and craving for the new it is a city impregnated with the past In the backstreets of districts that have inspired the setting for science fiction novels are wooden temples fox shrines mouldering steles and statues of Bodhisattvas that evoke a different age The point where time past present and future coexist Tokyo's thirst for the contemporary is moderated by nostalgia for the past As an urban laboratory where the cultures of the East and West are remixed into perceptibly Japanese forms Tokyo embraces sudden transitions constant flux and transformation The courtesans of its pleasure quarters inspired Edo period woodblock artists novelists and poets In a later age its experimental artists feminist writers and Modern Girls of 1920s Ginza both shocked and electrified the capital Stephen Mansfield explores a city rich in diversity tracing its evolution from the founding of its massive stone citadel through rise of a merchant class whose wealth transformed Edo into a home for artists writers and performers In contemporary Tokyo he explores the unique crossbred cultures of taste that make the giant conurbation one of the most exciting and creative cities in the world City of Literature Theatre and Art The print masters Hokusai Hiroshige and Utamaro the Kabuki theatre authors Nagai Kafu Tanizaki Junichiro Mishima Yukio Murakami Haruki foreign writers Angela Carter William Gibson and Donald Richie City of Architecture From the fortifications of Edo Castle great temples and shrines via the western hybrids of the Meiji era to the post modernist skyscrapers giant neon screens and digitalized surfaces of today's city City of Calamities The great fires of the Edo period floods famines and typhoons the 1923 Earthquake coups and rising militarism in the 1930s the fire bombings of the Second

Cairo Andrew Beattie, 2005 Cairo is The largest metropolis in Africa since the Middle Ages it was in Ibn Battutah's words the mother of cities With a present day population of around eighteen million this sprawling metropolis is home to one thousand new migrants every day drawn to the seething intensity of a modern cosmopolitan capital that blends together the cultures of the Middle East and Europe The fabled city on the banks of the River Nile once home to pharaohs and emperors now forms a focal point of the Islamic faith and of the Arab world Andrew Beattie explores the turbulent past and vibrant present of this city where the enduring legacies of the ancient Egyptians the early Coptic Church British colonial rule and the modernist zeal of the post independence era have all left their mark

Lima James Higgins, 2005 Formerly the viceregal capital of Spain's vast South American empire Lima is today a sprawling metropolis struggling to cope with a population of eight million Located on the coast between the Andean foothills and the Pacific Ocean it is many cities in one with an indigenous past and old colonial heart the port of Callao and turn of the century quarters modelled on Paris Leafy suburbs like San Isidro and tranquil seaside communities such as Barranco contrast with ever expanding shantytowns Lima has always dominated national life as the center of political and economic power Long a stronghold of the European elite the city is now home to millions of Peruvians from the Andean region as well as the descendants of African slaves and migrants from Europe China and Japan As a popular saying puts it the whole of Peru is now in Lima James Higgins explores the city's history and evolving identity as reflected in its architecture literature painting and music Tracing its trajectory from colonial enclave to modern metropolis he reveals how the capital now embodies the diversity and dynamism of Peru itself

Imaginary Athens Jin-Sung Chun, 2020-11-25 This book comprehensively examines architecture urban planning and civic perception in three modern cities as they transform into national capitals through an entangled transnational process that involves an imaginative geography based on embellished memories of classical Athens Schinkel's classicist architecture in Berlin especially the principle of tectonics at its core came to be adopted effectively at faraway cities in East Asia merging with the notion of national polity as Imperial Japan sought to reinvent Tokyo and mutating into an inevitable reflection of modern civilization upon reaching colonial Seoul all of which give reason to ruminate over the phantasmagoria of modernity

Tokyo Vernacular Jordan Sand, 2013-07-13 Preserved buildings and historic districts museums and reconstructions have become an important part of the landscape of cities around the world Beginning in the 1970s Tokyo participated in this trend However repeated destruction and rapid redevelopment left the city with little building stock of recognized historical value Late twentieth century Tokyo thus presents an illuminating case of the emergence of a new sense of history in the city's physical environment since it required both a shift in perceptions of value and a search for history in the margins and interstices of a rapidly modernizing cityscape Scholarship to date has tended to view historicism in the postindustrial context as either a genuine response to loss or as a cynical commodification of the past The historical process of Tokyo's historicization suggests other interpretations Moving from the politics of the public square to the invention of neighborhood community to oddities found and appropriated in the streets to the consecration of everyday scenes and artifacts as heritage in museums Tokyo Vernacular traces the rediscovery of the past sometimes in unlikely forms in a city with few traditional landmarks Tokyo's rediscovered past was mobilized as part of a new politics of the everyday after the failure of mass politics in the 1960s Rather than conceiving the city as national center and claiming public space as national citizens the post 1960s generation came to value the local places and things that embodied the vernacular language of the city and to seek what could be claimed as common property outside the spaces of corporate capitalism and the state
