Chris Jenks, 2004-09-23 Culture is a concept that has remained on the top of the agenda within the social sciences for two decades It incites controversy and debate and always appears fresh This book updated throughout and with new sections on visual culture urban culture and subcultures argues that to understand the concept we need to locate it within traditions of thought and appreciate its political and ideological bases The book looks at the concept of culture in the context of idealism and materialism examining its relation to the notion of social structure and assessing its once assumed monopoly within literary study Culture remains stimulating throughout A standard reference text for students on sociology and cultural studies courses this second concise and student friendly edition offers an overview over the sociology of culture in an accessible format

Venice in complex and contradictory ways to shape urban space and reshape Christian Jewish relations The Visual Turn

Sandria Freitag, 2017-10-02 The Visual Turn South Asia Across the Disciplines explores new perspectives made possible by the evidence drawn from visual culture This evidence is utilized by historians literary analysts anthropologists and in a new way art historians Focusing on built environments within their urban contexts the interactions of buildings roads and bodies the meaning making achieved through consumption of images on their own or in concert with literary texts all contribute to a much broader and deeper understanding of change in South Asia Juxtaposed these case studies not only approach their topics in a multi disciplinary manner but also make clear just what scholars from various disciplines can learn from each other to add nuance and depth to their own analyses In the process the authors demonstrate how the application of different methods and theorizing when coupled with a fascinating range of types of evidence contribute to a significant broadening of our abilities to interpret the past and the present In particular these essays bring new ways of thinking about cities as well as the multiple ways that visual culture contributes to individual and collective forms of identity narratives that are negotiated at key moments of change in South Asia Readers will see their own materials and historicized contexts with new eyes This book was published as a special issue of South Asia Journal of South Asian Studies in the social sciences Visibly Canadian Karen Stanworth,2014-11-01 Spectacular scientific and educational cultural practices were used to establish and define public identities in the British colonies of nineteenth century Canada In Visibly Canadian Karen Stanworth argues that visual representations were the era s primary mode of expressing identity and shows how the citizenry of Quebec and Ontario was or was not represented in the visual culture of the time Through nine case studies each representing key moments of identity formation and contestation Stanworth investigates how a broad range of cultural phenomena from fine arts to institutional histories to public spectacles were used to order resist and articulate identities within specific social and economic contexts The negotiation and planning underpinning civic culture are evident in rare moments of compromise such as the surprising proposal from the Saint Jean Baptiste Society to merge their annual parade with the celebration of Queen Victoria s Diamond Jubilee in 1897 Equally astounding is the scale of nineteenth century public spectacles reenactments of Victorian scenes of war often attracted crowds of upwards of 10 000 people Illustrated with over fifty images many unseen for over a century Visibly Canadian establishes the extraordinary significance of artwork and public spectacles in cutting across language religion and class to tell stories of nationhood belonging and difference Seenography: Essays on the Meaning of Visuality in Performance Events Andrew Cope,2019-01-04 Preliminary Material Looking at Postmodern Performances of Canonical Plays Bilha Blum Dancing Clowns and Desert Dunes Challenging Traditional Flamenco Imagery through Fusion Idit Suslik Old Arts in New Media Reconfiguring Meaning and Performance in Opera Live in HD Adele Anderson Visionary Voice Silent Clown Little Cinderella Big Cinderella Scenography as Performance Filipa Malva Spatial Relations Speak the Language of Social Hierarchy David Franklin and Milan Kohout The Full and the Void in the Theatre of Robert Wilson Marcelo de Andrade Pereira The Explanatory Frame Myer Taub Performance Art as Intervention in Everyday Life Participation the Public Sphere and the Production of Meaning Alexandra Antoniadou The Bible in Photography Sheona Beaumont,2024-01-25 Sheona Beaumont addresses the untold story of biblical subjects in photography She argues that stories characters and symbols from the Bible are found to pervade photographic practices and ideas across the worlds of advertising and reportage the book and the gallery in theoretical discourse and in the words of photographers themselves Beaumont engages interpretative tools from biblical reception studies art history and visual culture criticism in order to present four terms for describing photography s latent spirituality the index the icon the tableau and the vision Throughout her journey she includes lively discussion of selected fine art photography dealing with the Bible in surprising ways from images by William Henry Fox Talbot in the 19th century to David Mach in the 21st Far from telling a secular story photography and the conditions of its representations are exposed in theological depth Beaumont skillfully interweaves discussion of the images and theology arguing for the dynamic and potent voice of the Bible in photography and enriching visual culture criticism with a renewed religious understanding History and Identity Stefan Berger,2022-01-20 This introduction to contemporary historical theory and practice shows how issues of identity have shaped how we write history Stefan Berger charts how a new self reflexivity about what is involved in the process of writing history entered the historical profession and the part that historians have played in debates about the past and its meaningfulness for the present He introduces key trends in the theory of history such as postmodernism poststructuralism constructivism narrativism and the linguistic turn and reveals in turn the ways in which they have transformed how historians have written history over the last four decades The book ranges widely from more traditional forms of history writing such as political social economic labour and cultural history to the emergence of more recent fields including gender history historical anthropology the history of memory visual history the history of material culture and comparative transnational and global history

The Practice of Persuasion Keith Moxey, 2018-08-06 This sequel to The Practice of Theory stresses the continued need for self reflective awareness in art historical writing Offering a series of meditations on the discipline of art history in the context of contemporary critical theory Moxey addresses such central issues as the status of the canon the nature of aesthetic value and the character of historical knowledge The chapters are linked by a common interest in even fascination with the paradoxical power of narrative and the identity of the authorial voice Moxey maintains that art history is a rhetoric of persuasion rather than a discourse of truth Each chapter in The Practice of Persuasion attempts to demonstrate the paradoxes inherent in a genre that while committed to representing the past must inevitably bear the imprint of the present In Moxey's view art history as a discipline is often unable to recognize its status as a regime of truth that produces historically determined meanings and so continues to act as if based on a universal aesthetic foundation His new book should enable art historians to engage with the past in a manner less determined by tradition and more responsive to contemporary values and aspirations

Camera Works Michael North, 2005 Camera Works is about the impact of photography and film on modern art and literature With examples from the avant garde of the little magazine and from classic authors like Fitzgerald and Hemingway it argues that literature and art become modern by responding to these new means of representation
