Shadow Libraries Joe Karaganis, 2018-05-04 How students get the materials they need as opportunities for higher education expand but funding shrinks From the top down Shadow Libraries explores the institutions that shape the provision of educational materials from the formal sector of universities and publishers to the broadly informal ones organized by faculty copy shops student unions and students themselves It looks at the history of policy battles over access to education in the post World War II era and at the narrower versions that have played out in relation to research and textbooks from library policies to book subsidies to more recently the several open publication models that have emerged in the higher education sector From the bottom up Shadow Libraries explores how simply students get the materials they need It maps the ubiquitous practice of photocopying and what are in many cases the more marginal ones of buying books visiting libraries and downloading from unauthorized sources It looks at the informal networks that emerge in many contexts to share materials from face to face student networks to Facebook groups and at the processes that lead to the consolidation of some of those efforts into more organized archives that circulate offline and sometimes online the shadow libraries of the title If Alexandra Elbakyan's Sci Hub is the largest of these efforts to date the more characteristic part of her story is the prologue the personal struggle to participate in global scientific and educational communities and the recourse to a wide array of ad hoc strategies and networks when formal authorized means are lacking If Elbakyan's story has struck a chord it is in part because it brings this contradiction in the academic project into sharp relief universalist in principle and unequal in practice Shadow Libraries is a study of that tension in the digital era Contributors Bal zs Bod Laura Czerniewicz Mirosław Filiciak Mariana Fossatti Jorge Gómetto Eve Gray Evelin Heidel Joe Karaganis Lawrence Liang Pedro Mizukami Jhessica Reia Alek Tarkowski E-books in Libraries Kate Price, Virginia Havergal, 2011 Despite the fact that e books have been in existence for decades in various guises and added to library collections for several years now there has been a noticeable lack of published manuals on the subject This is doubtless owing to the rapidly evolving nature of the market There is now a plethora of different types of digital object that may be termed e books and a bewildering number of business and access models to match Moreover the pace of change shows no sign of abating but there is an increasing amount of popular interest in e books and what is needed is practical information to assist library and information professionals managing collections of e books and doing their best to inform their users right now The book is divided into five parts The production and distribution of e books Planning and developing an e book collection Delivering e books to library readers Engaging readers with e books The future of e books Virginia Havergal BA Hons MSc MEd FIFL is a Learning Centres and e Resources Manager for Petroc a further education college in Devon Prior to this role she was an e Learning Advisor with JISC with a particular focus on Learning Resources Kate Price BA Hons MA MCLIP is Head of E Strategy and Resources at the University of Surrey My Max Score AP English Language and Composition Jocelyn Sisson, 2011 THE MOST VALUE IN AP TEST PREP 3 GUIDES
