Over the last two decades, improved public awareness, the implementation of population screening by mammography, and the development of new technology for diagnosis have transformed the care of patients with breast cancer. In this volume, recognised experts discuss key current issues in the diagnosis and management of breast disease. The development and application of new diagnostic techniques is described, as well as the use of sophisticated drugs for more effective treatment. Complex, contentious topics including risk factors, borderline lesions, professional performance, and quality assurance are thoroughly explored by an expert multidisciplinary team.
