Crime and Power Pamela Davies, Tanya Wyatt, 2020-11-13 This textbook makes a concerted effort to expose crimes committed by those wielding unfettered personal power and crimes by corporations business and states crimes against human and non human species and the environment It examines an increasingly complex interplay of issues which surely should be at the heart of any criminology programme This text adopts a fresh and innovative approach to exposing the crimes of the powerful situating and understanding crimes and victimisations as it does within a framework where questions of structural and personal power in society are key Fourteen case studies are threaded throughout the book and this methodology is used as a teaching resource for studying and uncovering the crimes of the powerful The first three chapters comprehensively contextualise the problems of crime and power and establish the importance of power to understanding crime and victimisation in society The chapters within Part I and Part II of the book then explore individual and group power respectively Each of these chapters explore a case study or case examples followed by Pause for Thought questions Bigger Go Further study questions are posed at the close of these chapters challenging students to engage in their own case study research to investigate the dynamics of crime and power

Advances in the Sociology of Trust and Cooperation Vincent Buskens, Rense Corten, Chris Snijders, 2020-10-26 The problem of cooperation is one of the core issues in sociology and social science more in general The key question is how humans groups organizations institutions and countries can avoid or overcome the collective good dilemmas that could lead to a Hobbesian war of all against all The chapters in this book provide state of the art examples of research on this crucial topic These include theoretical laboratory and field studies on trust and cooperation thereby approaching the issue in three complementary and synergetic ways The theoretical work covers articles on trust and control reputation formation and paradigmatic articles on the benefits and caveats of abstracting reality into models The laboratory studies test the implications of different models of trust and reputation such as the effects of social and institutional embeddedness and the potentially emerging inequalities this may cause The field studies test these implications in applied settings such as business purchasing and supply informal care and different kinds of collaboration networks This book is exemplary for rigorous social science The focus is on effects of social conditions in particular different forms of social and institutional embeddedness on social outcomes at the macro level Modelling efforts are applied to connect social conditions to social outcomes through micro level behavior in ways that are easily overlooked when argumentation is intuitive and impressionistic The book sets forth a mixed method approach by applying different empirical methods to test hypotheses about similar questions Several contributions re evaluate the theoretical strengths and weaknesses following from the laboratory and field studies Improving the theory in light of these findings facilitates pushing the boundaries of social science The Global Rise of the Modern Plug-In Electric Vehicle John D. Graham, 2021-04-30 We may be standing on the precipice of a revolution in propulsion not seen since the internal combustion engine replaced the horse and buggy The anticipated proliferation of electric cars will influence the daily lives of motorists the economies of different countries and regions urban air quality and global climate change If you want to understand how quickly the transition is likely to occur and the factors that will influence the predictions of the pace of the transition this book will be an illuminating read
