Working with Stories in Your Community Or Organization Cynthia F Kurtz, 2014-05-28 Working with Stories is a textbook for people who want to use participatory narrative inquiry PNI in their communities and organizations PNI methods help people discover insights catch emerging trends make decisions generate ideas resolve conflicts and connect people Participatory narrative inquiry draws on theory and practice in narrative inquiry participatory action research oral history mixed methods research participatory theatre narrative therapy sensemaking complexity theory and decision support Its focus is on the exploration of values beliefs feelings and perspectives through collaborative sensemaking with stories of lived experience Contents Introduction Fundamentals of Story Work What Is a Story What Are Stories For How Do Stories Work Stories in Communities and Organizations A Guide to Participatory Narrative Inquiry Introducing Participatory Narrative Inquiry Project Planning Story Collection Group Exercises for Story Collection Narrative Catalysis Narrative Sensemaking Group Exercises for Narrative Sensemaking Narrative Intervention Narrative Return Appendices Example Models and Templates for Group Exercises Further Reading Your PNI Bookshelf Bibliography Acknowledgements and Biography Glossary Index Reader praise I wanted to say thanks for making Working with Stories available It s an amazing piece of work so simple not the ideas but the presentation and unthreatening Working With Stories is very thorough and helpful to me in exploring ways that I might capture the narrative of a project I am involved in Your detailed description of the sensemaking process is so useful and helpful It makes seasoned facilitators like me yearn to try out the ideas Over the past few months I have been reading reflecting and feasting on your experiences working with stories I am really excited to have found Working With Stories because it seems like a rich set of options for our needs Your terminology and explanation of participatory narrative inquiry have helped me greatly in understanding what I want from my practice and what I might be capable of achieving in social change I have been returning to Working With Stories time and again over the past six months to help support a community project and my printed copy is underlined noted and dog eared Participatory Community Inquiry in the Opioid Epidemic Craig T. Maier, 2021-10-19 This book explores a research project focused on finding a community level response to the opioid epidemic Grounded in communication ethics appreciative inquiry and action research this book contends that the opioid epidemic in the United States is as much a social disease as it is a pharmaceutical one arising from a lack of social connection and the communal literacy Americans need to deal with the challenges they face together Asking how Americans can rediscover their social connection to rebuild vibrant sustainable communities the author proposes and tests an approach called Participatory Community Inquiry PCI which helps groups acknowledge the social goods that unite them design practices that protect and promote those goods and undertake actions that can support their common lives Shaping the conversation on how Americans may rediscover and rebuild the community they have lost this book will be a key resource for researchers practitioners and students in communication studies sociology and action research interested in social ethics and community development and organizing Narratives in Research and Interventions on Cyberbullying among Young People Heidi Vandebosch, Lelia Green, 2019-01-23 This book describes innovative ways to do research about and design interventions for cyberbullying by children and adolescents It does this by taking a narrative approach How can narrative research methods complement the mostly quantitative methods e g surveys experiments in cyberbullying research And how can stories be used to inform young people about the issue and empower them Throughout the book special attention is paid to new information and communication technologies and the opportunities ICTs provide for narrative research e g as a source of naturally occurring stories on cyberbullying and for narrative health interventions e g via Influencers The book thus integrates research and insights from the fields of cyberbullying narrative methods narrative health communication and new information and communication technologies

Storytelling in Management Practice Stefanie Reissner, Victoria Pagan, 2013-06-03 Since the early 2000s storytelling as a means of managerial communication has been increasingly advocated with a focus on the management practices of leadership change and organizational culture Most research on storytelling in management practice derives from practitioner experience but little is known about the specific dynamics behind storytelling as a tool for managerial communication This book derives from one of the first research studies into storytelling in management practice which sought to evaluate the assumed but not necessarily proven effectiveness of storytelling as a management tool Building on existing theories of narrative and storytelling in organizations the book explores how managers use storytelling in their daily practice revealing that it can be employed both purposively like a tool and perceptively spontaneously and intuitively The book explains that storytelling has different functions in management practice at different levels of the organization such as Creating direction for the organization Translating strategic messages into operational ones and supporting the professional development of staff Shaping the organization s social fabric through the sharing of personal stories Aided by a wealth of interviews and case studies Storytelling in Management Practice reveals an analysis of the dynamic relationship between story storyteller audience and organizational context As such it will be useful for students and researchers working across a variety of sub disciplines including leadership organizational behaviour and business communication Lived Experience, Lifelong Learning, Community Activism and Social Change Sharon Clancy, Iain Jones, 2024-06-03 This book identifies and celebrates the learning adult educators can gain from the numerous sites of community activism learning and social change that are currently taking place across the globe While the relentless push of neoliberalism has struck at the heart of adult education provision in many countries including that provided by universities institutions of further education international development agencies NGOs vocational training centres and the local government sector what can adult educators learn and what is being learnt when we turn to sites of community activism as a mechanism for broader social change Drawing on empirical research as well as stories and blogs about social change and transformation from those participating in
