Thinking Through The Skin Transformations:

Thinking Through the Skin Sara Ahmed, Jackie Stacey, 2001 This collection of work engages with and extends the growing feminist literature on lived and imagined embodiment It asks for consideration of the skin as a site where bodies take form open to re inscription

Thinking Through the Skin Sara Ahmed, Jackie Stacey, 2003-09-02 This exciting collection of work from leading feminist scholars including Elspeth Probyn Penelope Deutscher and Chantal Nadeau engages with and extends the growing feminist literature on lived and imagined embodiment and argues for consideration of the skin as a site where bodies take form already written upon but open to endless re inscription Individual chapters consider such issues as the significance of piercing tattooing and tanning the assault of self harm upon the skin the relation between body painting and the land among the indigenous people of Australia and the cultural economy of fur in Canada Pierced mutilated and marked mortified and glorified scarred by disease and stretched and enveloping the skin of another in pregnancy skin is seen here as both a boundary and a point of connection the place where one touches and is touched by others both the most private of experiences and the most public marker of a raced sexed and national history

Self-Harm Behavior and Eating Disorders John L. Levitt, Ph.D., Randy A. Sansone, M.D., Leigh Cohn, M.A.T., 2005-07-05 The number of eating disorders patients presenting with symptoms of self harm is growing quickly and yet there is surprisingly little known about this unique population Self Harm Behavior and Eating Disorders explores the prevalent but largely uncharted relationship between self injury behaviors and eating disorders symptoms In the first major book to focus on this area a renowned group of international scholars and practitioners addresses the subject from a variety of theoretical and practical perspectives The book is categorized into sections covering epidemiology psychodynamics assessment and a final section covering potential treatment options including dialectical behavioral therapy cognitive therapy interventions strategies group therapy and pharmacological approaches This unrivaled collection of case studies theoretical exploration and practical application forms a benchmark for the field and offers a stepping stone for new research and innovative treatment strategies In an area with little available information previously spread out among diffuse sources this volume represents the state of the field resource for anyone working with complex eating disorders patients

Stories on Skin Terry Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling Tattoos are not merely decorative they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities They document their wearers personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos It also argues in a broader sense that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species Authors Baxter and

Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives storytelling cultural traditions the body as a text social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings Sexing the Soldier Rachel Woodward, Trish Winter, 2007-08-07 Sexing the Soldier takes a critical look at how gender what it means to be a man or a woman is understood within the contemporary British Army and the political and practical consequences of this Drawing on original research this informative volume looks at the history and structure of the British Army as a masculine institution personnel policies which deal with gender issues the construction of ideas about military masculinities and femininities within the Army media representations of the figure of the soldier Using case studies ranging from the exclusion of women from direct combat posts to the issues surrounding bullying this book argues that we need a fuller more nuanced assessment of gender issues in the military that moves beyond the simplistic ideas about women's and men's natural capacities for soldiering

Uprootings/Regroundings Sara Ahmed, Claudia Castada, Anne-Marie Fortier, Mimi Sheller, 2020-08-05 New forms of transnational mobility and diasporic belonging have become emblematic of a supposed global condition of uprootedness Yet much recent theorizing of our so called postmodern life emphasizes movement and fluidity without interrogating who and what is on the move This original and timely book examines the interdependence of mobility and belonging by considering how homes are formed in relationship to movement It suggests that movement does not only happen when one leaves home and that homes are not always fixed in a single location Home and belonging may involve attachment and movement fixation and loss and the transgression and enforcement of boundaries What is the relationship between leaving home and the imagining of home itself And having left home what might it mean to return How can we re think what it means to be grounded or to stay put Who moves and who stays What interaction is there between those who stay and those who arrive and leave Focusing on differences of race gender class and sexuality the contributors reveal how the movements of bodies and communities are intrinsic to the making of homes nations identities and boundaries They reflect on the different experiences of being at home leaving home and going home They also explore ways in which attachment to place and locality can be secured as well as challenged through the movements that make up our dwelling places Uprootings Regroundings Questions of Home and Migration is a groundbreaking exploration of the parallel and entwined meanings of home and migration Contributors draw on feminist and postcolonial theory to explore topics including Irish Palestinian and indigenous attachments to soils of significance the making of and trafficking across European borders the female body as a symbol of home or nation and the shifting grounds of queer migrations and creole identities This innovative analysis will open up avenues of research and From 'Mission-Shaped' to 'Jesus-Shaped' Church Susan Beverley Cross, 2025-03-10 Hospitality is often invoked without question in Church of England discourse but the importance of the practice to contemporary mission has not been subject to detailed analysis This book provides otherwise elusive in depth theological examination of the scope of Christian understandings of hospitality From feasting in the Hebrew Scriptures and foot washing in the New Testament to online Communion during the COVID 19 pandemic hospitality is more than welcome or the evangelistic hospitality of the Alpha Course or Messy Church So this book encompasses racism ageing poverty tragedy storytelling minds bodies and belonging as well as the implications of allying food to Christian formation It shows that Christian hospitality has relevance not only to mission but also to ecclesiology eschatology disability theology and social and ecological justice Native Games Chris Hallinan, Barry Judd, 2013-07-19 Research on Indigenous participation in sport offers many opportunities to better understand the political issues of equality empowerment self determination and protection of culture and identity This volume compares and conceptualises the sociological significance of Indigenous sports in different international contexts

When Women Kill Belinda Morrissey, 2003-12-08 Based on case studies from the US UK and Australia this book looks at the ways in which female killers are constructed in the media in law and in feminist discourse almost invariably as victims rather than actors in the crimes they commit Pregnancy, Risk and Biopolitics Lorna Weir, 2006-09-27 Traditionally Euroamerican cultures have considered that human status was conferred at the conclusion to childbirth However in contemporary Euroamerican biomedicine law and politics the living subject is often claimed to pre exist birth In this fascinating book Lorna Weir argues that the displacement of birth as the threshold of the living subject began in the 1950s with the novel concept of perinatal mortality referring to death of either the foetus or the newborn just prior to during or after birth Weir s book gives a new feminist approach to pregnancy in advanced modernity focusing on the governance of population She traces the introduction of the perinatal threshold into child welfare and tort law through expert testimony on foetal risk sketching the clash at law between the birth and perinatal thresholds of the living subject Her book makes original empirical and theoretical contributions to the history of the present Foucauldian research feminism and social studies of risk and she conceptualizes a new historical focus for the history of the present the threshold of the living subject Calling attention to the significance of population politics especially the reduction of infant mortality for the unsettling of the birth threshold this book argues that risk techniques are heterogeneous contested with expertise and plural in their political effects Interview research with midwives shows their critical relation to using risk assessment in clinical practice An original and accessible study this book will be of great interest to students and researchers across many disciplines Violent Femmes Rosie White, 2007-11-13 The female spy has long exerted a strong grip on the popular imagination With reference to popular fiction film and television Violent Femmes examines the figure of the female spy as a nexus of contradictory ideas about femininity power sexuality and national identity Fictional representations of women as spies have recurrently traced the dynamic of women s changing roles in British and American culture Employing the central trope of women who work as spies Rosie White examines cultural shifts during the twentieth century regarding the role of women in the professional workplace Violent Femmes examines the female spy as a figure in popular discourse which simultaneously conforms to cultural stereotypes and raises questions about women's roles in British and American culture in terms of gender sexuality and national identity Immensely useful for a wide range of courses such as film and television studies English cultural studies women's studies gender studies media studies communications and history this book will appeal to students from undergraduate level upwards

Irish Feminist Futures Claire Bracken, 2016-02-12 This book is about the future Ireland's future and feminism's future approached from a moment that has recently passed The Celtic Tiger circa 1995-2008 was a time of extraordinary and radical change in which Ireland's economic demographic and social structures underwent significant alteration Conceptions of the future are powerfully prevalent in women's cultural production in the Tiger era where it surfaces as a form of temporality that is open to surprise change and the unknown Examining a range of literary and filmic texts Irish Feminist Futures analyzes how futurity structures representations of the feminine self in women's cultural practice Relationally connected and affectively open these representations of self enable sustained engagements with questions of gender race sexuality and class as they pertain to the material social and cultural realities of Celtic Tiger Ireland This book will appeal to students and scholars of Irish studies Irish feminist criticism sociology cultural studies literature women's studies gender studies neo-materialist and feminist theories

Haunted Nations Sneja Gunew, 2013-04-15 Postcolonialism has attracted a large amount of interest in cultural theory but the adjacent area of multiculturalism has not been scrutinised to quite the same extent In this innovative new book Sneja Gunew sets out to interrogate the ways in which the transnational discourse of multiculturalism may be related to the politics of race and indigeneity grounding her discussion in a variety of national settings and a variety of literary autobiographical and theoretical texts Using examples from marginal sites the settler societies of Australia and Canada to cast light on the globally dominant discourses of the US and the UK Gunew analyses the political ambiguities and the pitfalls involved in a discourse of multiculturalism haunted by the opposing spectres of anarchy and assimilation

Jacques Lacan and Feminist Epistemology Kirsten Campbell, 2004-07-31 Using Lacanian psychoanalysis as a starting point Campbell examines contemporary feminism's turn to accounts of feminist knowing to create new conceptions of the political Class, Self, Culture Beverley Skeggs, 2013-11-05 Class Self Culture puts class back on the map in a novel way by taking a new look at how class is made and given value through culture It shows how different classes become attributed with value enabling culture to be deployed as a resource and as a form of property which has both use value to the person and exchange value in systems of symbolic and economic exchange The book shows how class has not disappeared but is known and spoken in a myriad of different ways always working through other categorisations of nation race gender and sexuality and across different sites through popular culture political rhetoric and academic theory In particular attention is given to how new forms of personhood are being generated through mechanisms of giving value to culture and how what we come to know and assume to be a self is always a classed formation Analysing four processes of inscription institutionalisation perspective taking and exchange relationships it challenges recent debates on reflexivity risk rational action theory individualisation and mobility by showing how these are all reliant on fixing some people in place so that others can move The Rhetorics of Feminism Lynne Pearce,2013-04-15

Is it possible that changes in rhetorical practice could alter not just how thought is expressed but also how it is made Through a close stylistic and rhetorical analysis of contemporary feminist writing from the cultural theory of Judith Butler to the popular journalism of Naomi Wolf and Germaine Greer Lynne Pearce demonstrates how feminist thought is created as well as communicated through the frameworks in which it is presented By linking rhetorical innovation with feminist epistemology in such a direct way this is a book that will be of immense methodological as well as theoretical interest to readers providing valuable insight into the often mysterious processes of conception and composition Feminism's Queer Temporalities Sam McBean,2015-07-16

Despite feminism s uneven movements it has been predominantly understood through metaphors of generations or waves Feminism s Queer Temporalities builds on critiques of the limitations of this linear model to explore alternative ways of imagining feminism s timing It finds in feminism s literary and cultural archive narratives of temporality that might now be diagnosed as queer where queer designates modes of being historical that exceed the linear and the generational Few theorists have looked to popular feminist figures literature and culture to theorize feminism s timing Through methodologically creative readings McBean explores non generational anti linear and asynchronous time in the figure of Antigone Marge Piercy s Woman on the Edge of Time the film Ladies and Gentlemen The Fabulous Stains Valerie Solanas and SCUM Manifesto and Alison Bechdel s Fun Home The first to substantially bring together the ways in which time has come to matter in both feminist and queer disciplines this book will appeal to students and scholars of feminist queer and gender studies cultural studies and literary studies Judging the Image Alison Young,2005

This book extends the cultural turn in legal and criminological studies by interrogating our responses to the image It provides a space to think through problems of ethics social authority and the legal imagination Working with Affect in Feminist Readings Marianne Liljeström,Susanna Paasonen,2010-03-08

Affect has become something of a buzzword in cultural and feminist theory during the past decade References to affect emotions and intensities abound their implications in terms of research practices have often remained less manifest Working with Affect in Feminist Readings Disturbing Differences explores the place and function of affect in feminist knowledge production in general and in textual methodology in particular With an international group of contributors from studies of history media philosophy culture ethnology art literature and religion the volume investigates affect as the dynamics of reading as carnal encounters and as possibilities for the production of knowledge Working with Affect in Feminist Readings asks what exactly are we doing when working with affect and what kinds of ethical epistemological and ontological issues this involves Not limiting itself to descriptive accounts the volume takes part in establishing new ways of understanding feminist methodology Women and the Irish Diaspora

Breda Gray, 2004-07-31 Based on original research with Irish women both at home and in England this book explores how questions of mobility and stasis are recast along gender class racial and generational lines
