Trading Zones In Environmental Education Creating Transdisciplinary Dialogue Rethinking Environmental Education:

Trading Zones in Environmental Education Marianne E. Krasny, Justin Dillon, 2013 Environmental educators often adhere to a relatively narrow theoretical paradigm focusing on changing attitudes and knowledge which are assumed to foster pro environmental behaviors which in turn leads to better environmental quality This book takes a different approach to trying to understand how environmental education might influence people their communities and the environment The authors view changing environmental behaviors as a wicked problem that is a problem that does not readily lend itself to solutions using existing disciplinary approaches The book as a whole opens up new avenues for pursuing environmental education research and practice and thus expands the conversation around environmental education behaviors and quality Through developing transdisciplinary research questions and conceptual paradigms this book also suggests new practices beyond those currently used in environmental education natural resources management and other environmental fields

Ecologies for Learning and Practice Ronald Barnett, Norman Jackson, 2019-11-06 Ecologies for Learning and Practice provides the first systematic account of the ideas of learning ecologies and ecologies of practice and locates the two concepts within the context of our contemporary world It focuses on how individuals and society are being presented with all manner of learning challenges arising from fluidities and disruptions which extend across all domains of life This book examines emerging ways of understanding and living purposively in these new fluidities and provides fresh perspectives on the way we learn and achieve in such dynamic contexts Providing an insight into the research of a range of internationally renowned contributors this book explores diverse topics from the higher education and adult learning worlds These include The challenges faced by education systems today The concept of ecologies for learning and practice The role and responsibility of higher education institutions in advancing ecological approaches to learning The different eco social systems of the world local and global economic cultural practical technological and ethical How adult learners might create and manage their own ecologies for learning and practice in order to sustain themselves and flourish With its proposals for individual and institutional learning in the 21st century and concerns for our sustainability in a fragile world Ecologies for Learning and Practice is an essential guide for all who seek to encourage and facilitate learning in a world that is fundamentally ecological in nature

Collaboration in Higher Education Sandra Abegglen, Tom Burns, Sandra Sinfield, 2023-05-18 Collaboration in Higher Education an open access book focuses on the opportunities and challenges created by engaging in collaboration and partnership in higher education As higher education institutions become ever more competitive to sustain their place in a global neoliberal education market students and staff are confronted with alienating practices Such practices create an individualistic audit and surveillance culture that is exacerbated by the recent COVID 19 pandemic and the wholesale pivot to online teaching In this atomised and competitive climate this volume synthesises theoretical perspectives and current practice to present case study examples that advocate for a more inclusive cooperative collaborative compassionate and empowering education one that sees learning and teaching as a practice that enables personal collective and societal growth The human element of education is at the core of this book focusing on what we can do and achieve together students academic staff higher education institutions and relevant stakeholders The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com Open access was funded by Knowledge Unlatched

A Research Agenda for

Environmental Management Kathleen E. Halvorsen,Chelsea Schelly,Robert M. Handler,Erin C. Pischke,Jessie L. Knowlton,2019 The understanding of global environmental management problems is best achieved through transdisciplinary research lenses that combine scientific and other sector industry government etc tools and perspectives However developing effective research teams that cross such boundaries is difficult This book demonstrates the importance of transdisciplinarity describes challenges to such teamwork and provides solutions for overcoming these challenges It includes case studies of transdisciplinary teamwork showing how these solutions have helped groups to develop better understandings of environmental problems and potential responses

Post-Sustainability and Environmental Education

Bob Jickling,Stephen Sterling,2017-03-17 This book provides a critique of over two decades of sustained effort to infuse educational systems with education for sustainable development Taking to heart the idea that deconstruction is a prelude to reconstruction this critique leads to discussions about how education can be remade and respond to the educational imperatives of our time particularly as they relate to ecological crises and human nature relationships It will be of great interest to students and researchers of sociology education philosophy and environmental issues
