Vieillesse En Analyse Charlotte Herfray:

La vieillesse en analyse Charlotte HERFRAY, 2012-11-26 La vieillesse n'est pas une maladie mais un temps de la vie comme le souligne le professeur Lucien Israël dans la préface qu'il écrit en 1988 pour la première édition du présent ouvrage. À cette époque mais aujourd'hui encore l'approche que l'auteur avait choisie n'était pas courante car si la théorie psychanalytique était une référence habituelle pour éclairer l'enfance elle ne l'était pas encore pour saisir la détresse souvent muette des vieillards. La psychanalyse en tant que théorie du désir n'a pas fini de nous renseigner sur la force silencieuse des ravages psychiques d'un temps où le désir indestructible se heurte à un grand déficit des ressources et des moyens fournis par le corps. Famille de la pensée de Sigmund Freud et de Jacques Lacan et frappée par l'importance du retour du refoulé de la petite enfance dans un contexte de fin de vie l'auteur décrit et questionne le rapport du sujet aux pertes, aux modifications voire aux dérangements qui affectent les derniers de leur dernière étape, expérience difficile que chacun parcourt seul avec les ressources que lui offre son esprit. Dans un langage accessible qui ne cède en rien à la rigueur nécessaire l'auteur s'adresse au plus grand nombre plus que jamais en ces temps où la mémoire se perd le rapport à la vieillesse doit être remis en question. Charlotte Herfray, psychanalyste, enseignante et chercheuse à l'Université Louis Pasteur de Strasbourg. Mise en vente le 12 avril 2007. Age Rage and Going Gently Oliver Davis, 2006. This wide ranging study looks at how the ageing process has alternately been figured in and excluded from twentieth century French literature, philosophy and psychoanalysis. It espouses a critical interdisciplinarity and calls into question the assumptions underlying much research into ageing in the social sciences work in which the negative aspects of growing older are almost invariably suppressed. It offers a major reappraisal of Simone de Beauvoir's great but neglected late treatise La Vieillesse and presents the first substantial discussion of a lost documentary film about old age in which Beauvoir appears and which she helped to write. PROMENADE AU PAYS DE LA VIEILLESSE. Questioning Beauvoir's own rather reductive reading of Gide's work on old age, this study analyses the way in which his Journal and Ainsi soit-il experiment with a range of representational models for the senescent subject. The encounter between psychoanalysis and ageing is framed by a reading of Violette Leduc's autobiographical trilogy in which she suggests that psychoanalysis to its detriment simply cannot allow ageing to signify. This claim is tested in a critical survey of recent theoretical and clinical work by psychoanalysts interested in ageing in France, the UK and the US. Lastly Hervé Guibert's recently republished photo novel about his elderly great aunts Suzanne et Louise is examined as a work of intergenerational empathy and is found in addition to be an important statement of his photographic aesthetic. Navigating between the extremes of fury, age, rage and serene acceptance, going gently, this study aims throughout to examine the role which ageing plays in formal as well as thematic terms in writing the life of the subject. La vie à l'épreuve du temps Catherine Bergeret-Amselek, 2017-06-15. Catherine Bergeret-Amselek explore depuis plusieurs années les crises maturatives que nous traversons en vacillant parfois fortement, chaque entrée dans un nouveau ge de la vie. La vie à l'épreuve du temps propose un regard nouveau sur le grand âge qui tient compte des gestes précédents Et si contrairement aux idées reçues un travail analytique pouvait être fructueux après 70 ans Qu'en est-il de la sexualité de la créativité dans la deuxième partie de la vie condition d'assumer les pertes les renoncements et les deuils en cours s'inscrivent peut-être une étape fondamentale pour se réaliser pleinement L'auteur nous fait entrer dans les coulisses de la science analytique dévoilant sa pratique atypique avec les personnes âgées mais aussi ses doutes et ses questionnements On s'aperçoit qu'au crepuscule la lumière peut être aussi vive qu'à l'aube pour éclairer le temps qui reste Catherine Bergeret-Amselek est psychanalyste membre de la Société de psychanalyse freudienne où elle anime un séminaire sur les gestes de la vie Elle a publié notamment Le mystère des rêves et La Femme en crise aux éditions Desclée de Brouwer
