Everyday Islam in Post-Soviet Central Asia Maria Elisabeth Louw, 2007-05-09 Providing a wealth of empirical research on the everyday practise of Islam in post Soviet Central Asia this book gives a detailed account of how Islam is understood and practised among ordinary Muslims in the region focusing in particular on Uzbekistan It shows how individuals negotiate understandings of Islam as an important marker for identity grounding for morality and as a tool for everyday problem solving in the economically harsh socially insecure and politically tense atmosphere of present day Uzbekistan Presenting a detailed case study of the city of Bukhara that focuses upon the local forms of Sufism and saint veneration the book shows how Islam facilitates the pursuit of more modest goals of agency and belonging as opposed to the utopian illusions of fundamentalist Muslim doctrines

States and Women's Rights Mounira Charrad, 2001 At a time when the situation of women in the Islamic world is of global interest here is a study that unlocks the mystery of why women s fates vary so greatly from one country to another Mounira M Charrad analyzes the distinctive nature of Islamic legal codes by placing them in the larger context of state power in various societies Charrad argues that many analysts miss what is going on in Islamic societies because they fail to recognize the logic of the kin based model of social and political life which she contrasts with the Western class centered model In a skillful synthesis she shows how the logic of Islamic legal codes and kin based political power affect the position of women These provide the key to Charrad s empirical puzzle why after colonial rule women in Tunisia gained broad legal rights even in the absence of a feminist protest movement while despite similarities in culture and religion women remained subordinated in post independence Morocco and Algeria Charrad s elegant theory crisp writing and solid scholarship make a unique contribution in developing a state building paradigm to discuss women s rights This book will interest readers in the fields of sociology politics law women s studies postcolonial studies Middle Eastern studies Middle Eastern history French history and Maghrib studies

Islam and Modernity Muhammad Khalid Masud, 2009-08-18 Recent events have focused attention on the perceived differences and tensions between the Muslim world and the modern West As a major strand of Western public discourse has it Islam appears resistant to internal development and remains inherently pre modern However Muslim societies have experienced most of the same structural changes that have impacted upon all societies massive urbanisation mass education dramatically increased communication the emergence of new types of institutions and associations some measure of political mobilisation and major transformations of the economy These developments are accompanied by a wide range of social movements and by complex and varied religious and ideological debates This textbook is a pioneering study providing an introduction to and overview of the debates and questions that have emerged regarding Islam and modernity. Key issues are selected to give readers an understanding of the complexity of the phenomenon from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. The various manifestations of modernity in Muslim life discussed include social change and the transformation of political and religious institutions, gender politics, changing legal regimes, devotional practices and forms of religious association, shifts in religious authority and modern developments in Muslim religious thought.

Women from Traditional Islamic Educational Institutions in Indonesia Eka Srimulyani, 2012. Dit is de eerste Engelstalige publicatie over vrouwen in traditionele islamitische onderwijsinstellingen in Indonesië de zogenaamde pesantren. Deze vrouwen spelen een belangrijke rol de genderproblematiek in de Indonesische moslimgemeenschap. Deze informatieve en inzichtelijke studie dient twee groeiende onderzoeksgebieden in de studies over Indonesië de studie naar de islam en de studie naar moslimvrouwen. Tevens voegt het een nieuw perspectief toe aan de bestaande Engelstalige literatuur over moslims buiten de huidige dominante context van het Midden Oosten of Sub Indische continent.

Women and Politics in the Islamic Republic of Iran Sanam Vakil, 2011-04-21. Women and Politics in the Islamic Republic of Iran looks at the rise and role of female activism in Iran since the 1979 Revolution. Since 1979 women have played a decisive role in elections and assumed political posts. This study assesses this role as well as the impact of domestic and international policies on women's activism, highlighting the contradictions between politics and religion within the Islamic Republic. It also seeks to evaluate political and economic developments and the transformations in civil society including the development of a gender conscious society. Women and Politics in the Islamic Republic of Iran features original research by Sanam Vakil, an Iranian American scholar who conducted interviews with women activists, politicians, journalists, clerics and students in Iran, Europe and the U.S. and used primary sources to specifically link women's activism to the domestic political changes in Iran. The book will be an essential resource for anyone studying Iranian politics and seeking to understand better the internal political and social dynamics in Iran and the critical role that women play.

Questioning the 'Muslim Woman' Nida Kirmani, 2016-03-16. The marginalisation of Muslims in India has recently been the subject of heated public debate. In these discussions, however, Muslim women are often either overlooked or treated as a homogenous group with a common set of interests. Focusing on the narratives of women living in a predominantly Muslim colony in South Delhi, this book attempts to demonstrate the complexity of their lives and the multiple levels of insecurity they face. Unlike other studies on Indian Muslims that focus on Islam as a defining factor, this book highlights the ways in which religious identity intersects with other identities including class, status, regional affiliation and gender. The author also sheds light on the impact of such events as the Babri Masjid demolition in 1992 and the subsequent riots, the Gujarat communal carnage in 2002 and the anti Sikh violence in New Delhi in 1984, along with the rise of Hindutva and growing Islamophobia experienced worldwide in the post 9/11 period on the articulation of identities at the local level and increasing religion based spatial segregation in Indian cities. The study highlights how these incidents combine in different ways to increase the sense of marginalisation experienced by Muslims at the level of the locality Understanding the need to look beyond preconceived religious categories this book will serve as essential reading for those interested in sociology anthropology gender religious and urban studies as well as policymakers and organisations concerned with issues related to religious minorities in India Women's Activism in the Islamic Republic of Iran Samira Ghoreishi, 2021-03-21 Through an intersectional feminist re reading of the Habermasian theoretical framework this book analyses how women s activism has developed and operated in the Islamic Republic of Iran Chapters look at three key areas of women s activism in Iran how women deliberately engaged with media activism despite the government s controlling and repressive policies women s involvement in civil society organisations institutions and communities and cooperation through multilevel activism and women s activism in the political sphere and its connection with media and civil society activism despite the theocratic system Drawing upon interviews analyses of journal and newspaper articles and documentary non documentary films as well as personal experiences observations and communications the book examines to what extent Iranian women s rights groups and activists have collaborated not only with each other but with other social groups and activists to help facilitate the formation of a pluralist civil society capable of engaging in deliberative processes of democratic reform This book will be of interest to scholars in Gender Studies and Middle Eastern Studies particularly those who study women s and other social movements in Iran The Tunisian Womens Rights Movement Jane D Tchaïcha, Khedija Arfaoui, 2017-07-14 Tunisian women have received significant attention for their active participation in preserving and extending women s rights since 2011 However their activism and latest achievements should be considered not a recent phenomenon but rather part and parcel of a distinctive local history that has included women as agents of change This book examines Tunisian women s lived experiences as individuals and as a group within a sociohistorical framework that uncovers the enduring feminine footprint over centuries and eventually underpins and defines their most recent fight for gender equality in postrevolutionary Tunisia The historic and current presentation of Tunisian women s public and civic engagement distinguishes between different types of women s objectives in order to examine women s activism holistically as it evolved in the local context The Tunisian Women s Rights Movement will be of interest to students and scholars of Tunisia North African and Middle East Studies and gender in the Arab world Bargaining for Women's Rights Alice J. Kang, 2015-06-30 Gender relations in Muslim majority countries have been subject to intense debate in recent decades In some cases Muslim women have fought for and won new rights to political participation reproductive health and education In others their agendas have been stymied Yet missing from this discussion until now has been a systematic examination of how civil society groups mobilize to promote women s rights and how multiple components of the state negotiate such legislation In Bargaining for Women's Rights Alice J Kang argues that reform is more likely to happen when the struggle arises from within Focusing on how a law on gender quotas and a United Nations treaty on ending discrimination against women passed in Niger while family law reform and an African Union protocol on women's rights did not Kang shows how local women's associations are uniquely positioned to translate global concepts of democracy and human rights into concrete policy proposals And yet drawing on numerous interviews with women's rights activists as well as Islamists and politicians she reveals that the former are not the only ones who care about the regulation of gender relations Providing a solid analytic framework for understanding conflict over women's rights policies without stereotyping Muslims Bargaining for Women's Rights demonstrates that contrary to conventional wisdom Islam does not have a uniformly negative effect on the prospects of such legislation
