Women In Sub Saharan Africa:

Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Edda Ivan-Smith, Nidhi Tandon, Jane Frances Connors, 1988 Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Iris Berger, E. Frances White, 1999 These four volumes in this major series provide a single source reference to the status of the field of women's history and to ways that the field can be expanded A basic set for all academic libraries Library Journal Academic Newswire Berger and White focus on Sub Saharan Africa tracing women's history from earliest times to the present By exploring their place in social economic political and religious life the authors highlight the changing societal position of women through shifts over time in ideas about gender and the connections between women's public and private spheres Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women's history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women's daily work in their family plot This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub Saharan Africa contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on individual African women in history politics religion and the arts on important events organizations and publications and on topics important to women in general marriage fertility employment and to African women in particular market women child marriage queen mothers This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa Women's Roles in Sub-Saharan Africa Toyin Falola (Amponsah, Nana Akua), This exhaustive exploration of the sociocultural political and economic roles of African women through history demonstrates how African women have shaped and continue to shape their societies Women play essential critical roles in every society African women south of the Sahara are certainly no different Women's Roles in Sub Saharan Africa adds significantly to our understanding of the ways in which women contribute to the fabric of human civilization This book provides an in depth exploration of African women's roles in society from precolonial periods to the contemporary era Topical sections describe the roles that women play in family courtship and marriage religion work literature and arts and government Each of the six chapters has been structured to elucidate women's roles and functions in society as partners as active participants as defenders of their status and occupations and as agents of change Authors Nana Akua Amponsah and Toyin Falola present a thought provoking work that looks at the complicated victimhood powerful female paradigm in women and gender studies in Africa and challenge ideological interest in African historiography that privilege male representation Women and Gender in the History of Sub-Saharan Africa Cheryl Johnson-Odim, 2007 Women of the World Jeanne S. African Women Catherine Coquery-vidrovitch, Beth Raps, 2018-10-08 Over the last century the social and economic roles played by African women have evolved dramatically Long confined to home and field overlooked by their menfolk and missionaries alike African women worked thought dreamed and struggled They migrated to the cities invented new jobs and activated the so called informal economy to become Africa s economic and social focal point As a result despite their lack of education and relatively low status women are now Africa s best hope for the future This sweeping and innovative book is the first to reconstruct the full history of women in sub Saharan Africa Tracing the lot of African women from the eve of the colonial period to the present Catherine Coquery Vidrovitch explores the stages and forms of women s collective roles as well as their individual emancipation through revolts urban migrations economic impacts social claims political strength and creativity Comparing case studies drawn from throughout the region she sheds light on issues ranging from gender to economy politics society and culture Utilizing an impressive array of sources she highlights broad general patterns without overlooking crucial local variations With its breadth of coverage and clear analysis of complex questions this book is destined to become a standard text for scholars and students alike Women in Africa of the Sub-Sahara: The 20th century Marjorie Wall Bingham, Susan Hill Gross, 1982 Examines the historical social and cultural roles of women in Sub Saharan Africa featuring South Africa and emphasizing the twentieth century In Her Lifetime Committee to Study Female Morbidity and Mortality in Sub-Saharan Africa, Institute of Medicine, 1996-03-20 The relative lack of information on determinants of disease disability and death at major stages of a woman s lifespan and the excess morbidity and premature mortality that this engenders has important adverse social and economic ramifications not only for Sub Saharan Africa but also for other regions of the world as well Women bear much of the weight of world production in both traditional and modern industries In Sub Saharan Africa for example women contribute approximately 60 to 80 percent of agricultural labor Worldwide it is estimated that women are the sole supporters in 18 to 30 percent of all families and that their financial contribution in the remainder of families is substantial and often crucial This book provides a solid documentary base that can be used to develop an agenda to guide research and health policy formulation on female health both for Sub Saharan Africa and for other regions of the developing world This book could also help facilitate ongoing collaboration between African researchers on women s health and their U S colleagues Chapters cover such topics as demographics nutritional status obstetric morbidity and mortality mental health problems and sexually transmitted diseases including HIV African Feminism Gwendolyn Mikell, 2010-08-03 African feminism this landmark volume demonstrates differs radically from the Western forms of feminism with which we have become familiar since the 1960s African feminists are not by and large concerned with issues such as female control over reproduction or variation and choice within human sexuality nor with debates about essentialism the female body or the discourse of patriarchy The feminism that is slowly emerging in Africa is distinctly heterosexual pronatal and concerned with bread butter and power issues Contributors present case studies of ten African states demonstrating that as they fight for access to land for the right to own property for control of food distribution for living wages and safe working conditions for health care and for election reform African women are creating a powerful and specifically African feminism

The A to Z of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2010 The A to Z of Women in Sub Saharan Africa includes over 660 entries on notable women in history politics religion the arts and other sectors on events particularly associated with women on women s organizations and publications and on a range of topics that are important to women in general or that have a special importance for African women including marriage fertility market women goddesses and much more Entries include cross referencing information that facilitates readers ability to find related information The book also includes an introductory essay and a chronology on African women s history as well as an extensive bibliography divided into sub sections on different historical eras and subjects Access to finding specific information is further aided by a country index A wide range of users will find this reference extremely valuable including researchers in African or women s history high school and university students and people involved with African policy and development issues such as diplomats or aid workers

Insights Into Gender Equity, Equality and Power Relations in Sub-saharan Africa Mansah Prah, 2013 Since gender entered the development discourse in the Seventies African countries have increasingly taken the concept on board in policy and practice This concern may be due to either one or a combination of the following factors the ideological positioning of African countries demands by their donors and development partners and demands by organised local groups and NGOs Gender in the development discourse ought to transform power relations between men and women and shift them to social relations that reflect their equal access to productive resources opportunities and social and material benefits The result of such actions should be an achievement of comparable status of women and men This volume initiated by OSSREA seeks to examine in more depth issues regarding the gender power imbalance in sub Saharan African countries with a specific focus on the eastern and southern African regions The chapters in this book present research that examines and analyses the effectiveness and efficiency of gender mainstreaming policies strategies and projects developed and implemented by national and international actors The themes inter weave with each other although they address gender issues in specific countries and specific contexts This can be explained by the shared colonial and post colonial heritage of African countries It is useful therefore to view the structure of the book as a spiral of inter connected issues that address similar themes approaching them from different levels Purely for ease of reading the contributions have been organised into three parts with over arching themes that at first glance may seem not to fit well together A theme that runs through all the chapters is the persistence of patriarchal values and attitudes in Africa and its constraining effect on the achievement of gender equity and equality

Women in Africa of the Sub-Sahara: The 20th century Marjorie Wall Bingham, Susan Hill Gross, Women in World Area Studies (Project), 1982 Examines the historical social and cultural roles of women in Sub Saharan Africa featuring South Africa and emphasizing the twentieth century

The Paradox of Gender Equality and Economic Outcomes in Sub-Saharan Africa Evelyn F. Wamboye, 2023-10-05 This Element provides an in depth analysis of the role of women s ownership of and access to land in sub Saharan Africa SSA in determining gender equality and women s economic and social outcomes and gives suggestions to inform effective gender sensitive land policies Using cross sectional regression analysis we find that ownership of land by women positively contributes to women s absolute employment Conversely results from pairwise correlation show that a lack of ownership of land by women is highly correlated with increased women s unemployment Despite these findings the proportion of women who own land in SSA is lower than that of men Moreover women usually acquire land through either purchase from the market system or marriage and even then their rights of ownership are usually very limited and precarious compared to the rights of men
