Women Shaping The South Creating And Confronting Change Southern Women:

Women Shaping the South Angela Boswell, Judith N. McArthur, 2006 Expanded from papers presented at the Sixth Southern Conference on Women's History this collection demonstrates how women of different races and classes transformed the South during its most crucial turning points including post Revolution Civil War Jim Crow era World War I and the civil rights movement Provided by publisher

Southern Black Women in the Modern Civil Rights Movement Bruce A. Glasrud, Merline Pitre, 2013-03-20 Normal 0 false false false EN US X NONEX NONE WINNER 2013 of the Liz Carpenter Award for Research in the History of Women presented by the Texas State Historical Association Throughout the South black women were crucial to the Civil Rights Movement serving as grassroots and organizational leaders They protested participated sat in mobilized created energized led particular efforts and served as bridge builders to the rest of the community Ignored at the time by white politicians and the media alike with few exceptions they worked behind the scenes to effect the changes all in the movement sought Until relatively recently historians too have largely ignored their efforts Although African American women mobilized all across Dixie their particular strategies took different forms in different states just as the opposition they faced from white segregationists took different shapes Studies of what happened at the state and local levels are critical not only because of what black women accomplished but also because their activism leadership and courage demonstrated the militancy needed for a mass movement In this volume scholars address similarities and variations by providing case studies of the individual states during the 1950s and 1960s laying the groundwork for more synthetic analyses of the circumstances factors and strategies used by black women in the former Confederate states to destroy the system of segregation in this country

Litigating Across the Color Line Melissa Lambert Milewski, 2018 In a largely previously untold story from 1865 to 1950 black litigants throughout the South took on white southerners in civil suits Drawing on almost a thousand cases Milewski shows how African Americans negotiated the southern legal system and won suits against whites after the Civil War and before the Civil Rights struggle

Twentieth-century Texas John Woodrow Storey, 2008 A collection of fifteen essays which cover Indians Mexican Americans African Americans women religion war on the homefront music literature film art sports philanthropy education the environment and science and technology in twentieth century Texas

Want to Start a Revolution? Dayo F. Gore, Jeanne Theoharis, Komozi Woodard, 2009-12 The story of the black freedom struggle in America has been overwhelmingly male centric starring leaders like Martin Luther King Jr Malcolm X and Huey Newton With few exceptions black women have been perceived as supporting actresses as behind the scenes or peripheral activists or rank and file party members But what about Vicki Garvin a Brooklyn born activist who became a leader of the National Negro Labor Council and guide to Malcolm X on his travels through Africa What about Shirley Chisholm the first black Congresswoman From Rosa Parks and Esther Cooper Jackson to Shirley Graham DuBois and Assata Shakur a host of women demonstrated a lifelong commitment to radical change embracing multiple roles to sustain the movement founding numerous groups and mentoring younger activists Helping to create the groundwork and continuity for the movement by operating as local organizers international mobilizers and charismatic leaders the stories of the women profiled in Want to Start a Revolution help shatter the pervasive and imbalanced image of women on the sidelines of the black freedom struggle Contributors Margo Natalie Crawford Prudence Cumberbatch Johanna Fernandez Diane C Fujino Dayo F Gore Joshua Guild Gerald Horne Ericka Huggins Angela D LeBlanc Ernest Joy James Erik McDuffie Premilla Nadasen Sherie M Randolph James Smethurst Margaret Stevens and Jeanne Theoharis

Ye That Are Men Now Serve Him Colin B. Chapell, 2016-09-15 Ye That Are Men Now Serve Him Radical Holiness Theology and Gender in the South examines how religious belief reshaped concepts of gender during the New South period that took place from 1877 to 1915 in ways that continue to manifest today

The Sweetness of Life Eugene D. Genovese, 2017-10-05 This book examines the home and leisure life of planters in the antebellum American South Based on a lifetime of research by the late Eugene Genovese 1930 2012 with an introduction and epilogue by Douglas Ambrose The Sweetness of Life presents a penetrating study of slaveholders and their families in both intimate and domestic settings at home attending the theatre going on vacations to spas and springs throwing parties hunting gambling drinking and entertaining guests completing a comprehensive portrait of the slaveholders and the world that they built with slaves Genovese subtly but powerfully demonstrates how much politics economics and religion shaped informed and made possible these leisure activities A fascinating investigation of a little studied aspect of planter life The Sweetness of Life broadens our understanding of the world that the slaveholders and their slaves made a tragic world of both sweetness and slavery

The U.S. South and Europe Cornelis A. van Minnen, Manfred Berg, 2013-11-28 The U S South is a distinctive political and cultural force not only in the eyes of Americans but also in the estimation of many Europeans The region played a distinctive role as a major agricultural center and the source of much of the wealth in early America but it has also served as a catalyst for the nation s only civil war and later as a battleground in violent civil rights conflicts Once considered isolated and benighted by the international community the South has recently evoked considerable interest among popular audiences and academic observers on both sides of the Atlantic In The U S South and Europe editors Cornelis A van Minnen and Manfred Berg have assembled contributions that interpret a number of political cultural and religious aspects of the transatlantic relationship during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The contributors discuss a variety of subjects including European colonization travel accounts of southerners visiting Europe and the experiences of German immigrants who settled in the South The collection also examines slavery foreign recognition of the Confederacy as a sovereign government the lynching of African Americans and Italian immigrants and transatlantic religious fundamentalism Finally it addresses international perceptions of the Jim Crow South and the civil rights movement as a framework for understanding race relations in the United Kingdom after World War II Featuring contributions from leading scholars based in the United States and Europe this illuminating volume explores the South from an international perspective and offers a new context from which to consider the region's history Sojourning for Freedom Erik S. McDuffie, 2011-06-27 Illuminates a pathbreaking black radical feminist politics forged by black women leftists active in the U S Communist Party between its founding in 1919 and its demise in the 1950s Family, Law, and Inheritance in America Yvonne Pitts, 2013-05-20 Yvonne Pitts explores nineteenth century inheritance practices by focusing on testamentary capacity trials in Kentucky in which disinherited family members challenged relatives wills claiming the testator lacked the capacity required to write a valid will By anchoring the study in the history of local communities and the texts of elite jurists Pitts demonstrates that capacity was a term laden with legal meaning and competing communal values Black Woman Reformer Sarah Silkey, 2015-02-15 During the early 1890s a series of shocking lynchings brought unprecedented international attention to American mob violence This interest created an opportunity for Ida B Wells an African American journalist and civil rights activist from Memphis to travel to England to cultivate British moral indignation against American lynching Wells adapted race and gender roles established by African American abolitionists in Britain to legitimate her activism as a black lady reformer a role American society denied her and assert her right to defend her race from abroad Based on extensive archival research conducted in the United States and Britain Black Woman Reformer by Sarah Silkey explores Wells's 1893-94 antilynching campaigns within the broader contexts of nineteenth century transatlantic reform networks and debates about the role of extralegal violence in American society Through her speaking engagements newspaper interviews and the efforts of her British allies Wells altered the framework of public debates on lynching in both Britain and the United States No longer content to view lynching as a benign form of frontier justice Britons accepted Wells's assertion that lynching was a racially motivated act of brutality designed to enforce white supremacy As British criticism of lynching mounted southern political leaders desperate to maintain positive relations with potential foreign investors were forced to choose whether to publicly defend or decry lynching Although British moral pressure and media attention did not end lynching the international scrutiny generated by Wells's campaigns transformed our understanding of racial violence and made American communities increasingly reluctant to embrace lynching No Depression in Heaven Alison Collis Greene, 2016 A study of the inability of the churches to deal with the crisis of the Great Depression and the shift from church based aid to a federal welfare state Journal of Women's History, 2006 Sisterly Networks Catherine Clinton, 2020-10-06 Tracing the development of the field of southern women's history over the past half century Sisterly Networks shows how pioneering feminists laid the foundation for a strong community of sister scholars and delves into the work of an organization central to this movement the Southern Association for Women Historians SAWH Launched in 1970 the SAWH provided programming mentoring fundraising and outreach efforts to support women historians working to challenge the academic establishment In this book leading scholars reflect on their own careers in southern history and their experiences as women historians amid this pathbreaking expansion and revitalization of the field Their stories demonstrate how women created new archival collections expanded historical categories to include gender and sexuality reimagined the roles and significance of historical women wrote pioneering monographs and mentored future generations of African American women and other minorities who entered the academy and contributed to public discourse Providing a lively roundtable discussion of the state of the field contributors comment on present and future work environments and current challenges in higher education and academic publishing They offer profound and provocative insights on the ways scholars can change the future through radically rewriting the gender biases of recorded history Contributors Catherine Clinton Michele Gillespie Glenda E Gilmore Cherisse Jones Branch Melissa Walker A volume in the series Frontiers of the American South edited by William A Link

Radicalism at the Crossroads Dayo F. Gore, 2012-10-01 With the exception of a few iconic moments such as Rosa Parks's 1955 refusal to move to the back of a Montgomery bus we hear little about what black women activists did prior to 1960 Perhaps this gap is due to the severe repression that radicals of any color in America faced as early as the 1930s and into the Red Scare of the 1950s To be radical and black and a woman was to be forced to the margins and consequently these women's stories have been deeply buried and all but forgotten by the general public and historians alike In this exciting work of historical recovery Dayo F Gore unearths and examines a dynamic extended network of black radical women during the early Cold War including established Communist Party activists such as Claudia Jones artists and writers such as Beulah Richardson and lesser known organizers such as Vicki Garvin and Thelma Dale These women were part of a black left that laid much of the groundwork for both the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s and later strains of black radicalism Radicalism at the Crossroads offers a sustained and in depth analysis of the political thought and activism of black women radicals during the Cold War period and adds a new dimension to our understanding of this tumultuous time in United States history

Two Weeks Every Summer Tobin Miller Shearer, 2017-04-11 Two Weeks Every Summer which is based on extensive oral history interviews with former guests hosts and administrators in Fresh Air programs opens a new chapter in the history of race in the United States by showing how the actions of hundreds of thousands of rural and suburban residents who hosted children from the city perpetuated racial inequity rather than overturned it Since 1877 and to this day Fresh Air programs from Maine to Montana have brought inner city children to rural and suburban homes for two week summer vacations Tobin Miller Shearer brings to the forefront of his history of the Fresh Air program the voices of the children themselves through letters that they wrote pictures that they took and their testimonials Shearer offers a careful social and cultural history of the Fresh Air programs giving readers a good sense of the summer experiences for both hosts and the visiting children By covering the racially transformative years between 1939 and 1979 Shearer shows how the rhetoric of innocence employed by Fresh Air boosters largely served the interests of religiously minded white hosts and did little to offer more than a vacation for African American and Latino urban youth In what could have been a new arena for the civil rights movement white adults often overpowered the courageous actions of children of color By giving white suburbanites and rural residents a safe race relations project that did not require adjustments to their investment portfolios real estate holdings or political affiliations the programs perpetuated an economic order that marginalized African Americans and Latinos by suggesting that solutions to poverty lay in one on one acts of charity

Black Women's Christian Activism Betty Livingston Adams, 2018-04-03 2017 Wilbur Non Fiction Award Recipient Winner of the 2018 Author's Award in scholarly non fiction presented by the New Jersey Studies Academic Alliance Winner 2020 Kornitzer Book Prize given by Drew University Examines the oft overlooked role of non elite black women in the growth of northern suburbs and American Protestantism in the first half of the twentieth century When a domestic servant named Violet Johnson moved to the affluent white suburb of Summit New Jersey in 1897 she became one of just barely a hundred black residents in the town of six thousand In this avowedly liberal Protestant community the very definition of the suburbs depended on observance of unmarked and fluctuating race and class barriers But Johnson did not intend to accept the status quo Establishing a Baptist church a year later a seemingly moderate act that would have implications far beyond weekly worship Johnson challenged assumptions of gender and race advocating for a politics of civic righteousness that would grant African Americans an equal place in a Christian nation Johnson's story is powerful but she was just one among the many working class activists integral to the budding days of the civil rights movement Focusing on the strategies and organizational models church women employed in the fight for social justice Adams tracks the intersections of politics and religion race and gender and place and space in a New York City suburb a local example that offers new insights on northern racial oppression and civil rights protest As this book makes clear religion made a key difference in the lives and activism of ordinary black women who lived worked and worshiped on the margin during this tumultuous time American Book Publishing Record, 2006 Anticommunism and the African American Freedom Movement R. Lieberman, C. Lang, 2009-04-27 This collection of essays looks at the impact of anticommunism on black political culture during the early years of the Cold War with an eye toward local and individual stories that offer insight into larger national and international issues West Virginia History, 2009
