developing field Sister Species Lisa Kemmerer, 2011-06-08 There is a very strong association between women animals and activism In Women Social Justice and Animal Advocacy activist Lisa A Kemmerer presents the narratives of fourteen ecofeminist activists who describe their own experiences in the field often from the perspective of discovering the extent of a particular kind of animal oppression and resolving to do something about it The narratives are bold and gripping sometimes horrifying and cover a range of topics relating to animal rights and liberation The writers discuss contemporary cockfighting factory farming orphaned primates in Africa the wild bird trade scientific experimentation on animals laws against dangerous dogs and violence against baby seals Sister Species provides a wide survey of what women are doing in the animal activism movement The writers ask readers to rethink how we view animals in our daily lives and how we can take action to protect them Kemmerer's introduction explains why she collected these particular stories and how she views the relationship between feminism and animal suffering The foreword is by Carol J Adams author of The Sexual Politics of Meat 1990 Neither Man nor Beast Feminism and the Defense of Animals 1994 The Feminist Care Tradition in Animal Ethics A Reader 2007 and many other books None of these essays has been previously published Women in Prison Barbara H. Zaitzow, Jim Thomas, 2003 It is old news that the conditions and policies of women's prisons are different from those for incarcerated men Less evident however is how gender differences shape those policies and how gender identity and roles shape women's adaptation and resistance to prison culture and control The papers in this collection explore how the gender based attitudes that women bring to prison frame how they respond to the prison environment and how gender stereotypes continue to affect the treatment and opportunities of incarcerated women today It looks particularly at how the personal and social problems imported into the prison setting become part of the intricate web of prison culture and how extensively women's prison experience reflects the control and domination they experienced in the outside world Transnational Borderlands in Women's Global Networks M. Sierra, C. Román-Odio, 2011-06-06 Transnational Borderlands The Making of Cultural Resistance in Women's Global Networks investigates the implications of transnational feminist methodologies at multiple levels collective actions theory pedagogy discursive and visual productions It addresses a substantial gap in the field of transnational feminisms namely the absence of a voice that links social and theoretical outcomes to the politics of representation in literature visual art discourses of rights and citizenships and pedagogy The book encompasses three categories of relevance to contemporary transnational methodologies the politics of cultural representation in literature and visual art the de centering of human women's rights and pedagogies of crossing and dissent Given current interest in the cultures of globalization and the role women and other minorities play in them we expect this book will appeal to scholars in the fields of Women's and Gender Studies Borderlands Studies Transnational Studies and to anyone interested in how transnational processes shape a culture of resistance in women's global networks Reproductive Justice Joan C. Technology: Perspectives from Africa Wawasi Kitetu, 2008-03-15 This sixth volume of the CODESRIA Gender Series is a collection of discourses perspectives practices and policies on the role of the female gender in science and technology particularly in the African context Although widely advocated as the indisputable foundation for political and economic power in the modern world science and technology remains marked by various layers and dimensions of gender inequality that work to the disadvantage of girls and women Despite the fact that a lot of awareness has been created and gender issues are now more readily acknowledged by various development initiatives in Africa participation in science and technology still remains a hurdle as far as girls and women are concerned A common theme that runs through the book is how feminine identities ideologies of domesticity and gender stereotypes and the inadequacy or lack of clear policies facilitate the invisibility of women in science and technology This notwithstanding women have never ceased devising clever and ingenious ways that would enable them to master nature from the margins The book provides a window onto the current state of female participation in science and technology in Africa along with an analysis of the historical backgrounds current educational and professional contexts and prospects for the future While it is evident that more research needs to be done with more groups in different regions this volume brings together a rich and inspiring collection of qualitative insights on gender science and technology in Africa The CODESRIA Gender Series acknowledges the need to challenge the masculinities underpinning the structures of repression that target women The series aims to keep alive and nourish African social science research with insightful research and debates that challenge conventional wisdom structures and ideologies that are narrowly informed by caricatures of gender realities It strives to showcase the best in African gender research and provide a platform for emerging new talents to flower The Politics of Gender and the Culture of Sexuality Ali A.
