Relations in Nigeria Ronke I. Ako-Nai, 2013-03-08 Globally women are oppressed and this book introduces the perspective of African women and especially that of Nigerian women This book looks at the major themes that drive the women s empowerment programs in Nigeria Feminists in Nigeria are shaped by the institutions values ideologies and since the 1970s the UN and its agencies have added an international dimension The chapters while taking us through a theoretical overview of Nigerian women s empowerment also shows how institutions values religion and culture can challenge feminist political philosophy a philosophy that tends to universalize women s problems and their solutions Feminism and Christianity Caryn D Riswold, 2011-05-26 Why should feminists care about Christianity Why should Christians care about feminism In Feminism and Christianity Riswold presents a collection of concise answers to basic questions like these in order to generate discussion about how the two can challenge each other and can even work together in the twenty first century Situated firmly in the third wave of feminist activism and scholarship as well as in contemporary Christian theology Riswold addresses issues such as race class gender and sexuality with an affirmation of tradition alongside a push for change This book is an opportunity for Christians to gain a fuller understanding of feminism moving beyond stereotypes and assumptions and into history and contemporary society Simultaneously this book is an opportunity for feminists to understand the ongoing relevance of a religion whose social power and core commitments can contribute to a vision of a just human community

Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture Robin Hammerman, 2009-03-26 Taken together the fourteen essays in this collection contribute to the discourse of social conditions for literary women The essays examine relevant social intellectual and professional questions about the ways in which women writers contributed to conceptions of womanhood in nineteenth and twentieth century Anglophone literary culture Contributors to this collection describe and examine several nineteenth and twentieth century women writers responses to patriarchal assumptions about literary merit in genres including poetry and fiction Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Perspectives will be of special interest to students and faculty of women s studies and literature written in the English language Black Women, Agency, and the New Black Feminism Maria del Guadalupe Davidson, 2017-02-17 The powerful Beyonc formidable Rihanna and the incalculable Nikki Minaj Their images lead one to wonder are they a new incarnation of black feminism and black women s agency or are they only pure fantasy in which instead of having agency they are in fact the products of the forces of patriarchy and commercialism More broadly one can ask whether black women in general are only being led to believe that they have power but are really being drawn back into more complicated systems of exploitation and oppression Or are black women subverting patriarchy by challenging notions of their subordinate and exploitable sexuality In other words who is playing who Black Women Agency and the New Black Feminism identifies a generational divide between traditional black feminists and younger black women While traditional black feminists may see for example sexualized images of black women negatively and as an impediment to progress younger black women tend to embrace these new images and see them in a positive light After carefully setting up this divide this enlightening book will suggest that a more complex understanding of black feminist agency needs to be developed one that is adapted to the complexities faced by the younger generation in today s world Arguing the concept of agency as an important theme for black feminism this innovative title will appeal to scholars teachers and students interested in black feminist and feminist philosophy identity construction subjectivity and agency race gender and class Cabo Verdean Women Writing Remembrance, Resistance, and

Revolution Terza A. Silva Lima-Neves, Aminah N. Pilgrim, 2021-05-11 Cabo Verdean Women Writing Remembrance Resistance and Revolution Kriolas Poderozas documents the work and stories told by Cabo Verdean women to refocus the narratives about Cabo Verde on Cabo Verdean women and their experiences The contributors examine their own experiences the history of Cabo Verde and Cabo Verdean diaspora to highlight the commonalities that exist among all women of African descent such as sexual and domestic violence and media objectification as well as the different meanings these commonalities can hold in local contexts Through exploring the literary and musical contributions of Cabo Verdean women the Cabo Verdean state and its transnational relations food and cooking traditions migration and diaspora and the oral histories of Cabo Verde the contributors analyze themes of community race sexuality migration gender and tradition

Doing Gender, Doing Geography Saraswati Raju,Kuntala

Lahiri-Dutt,2012-12-06 Until the 1970s gender had been invisible in analyses of social space and place in the androcentric discipline of geography While recent contributions to feminist geography have challenged this in India the engagement of geographers with gender by being conservative in its choice of focus and orthodox in methodology has been unable to destabilise the established disciplinary order However with younger scholars becoming increasingly interested in studying gender in geography novel and innovative methods that include combinations of quantitative and qualitative analyses visual sources and in depth case studies are being tried out and accepted in geography despite its masculine legacy This pioneering study brings together Indian geographers contributions to understanding gender and through them seeks to enrich the discipline of geography It engages with the recent spatial turn in the social sciences which has reclaimed the explanatory power of space and place in social theory that had been nearly lost to deconstructive postmodernist scholarship The volume draws entirely from the Indian scholarship showcasing contextualised knowledge production but hopes to initiate a a dialogue with scholars elsewhere working with feminist methodologies

Women in Literature Jerilyn Fisher,Ellen

Silber,2003-06-30 With the literary canon consisting mostly of works created by and about men the central perspective is decidedly male This unique reference offers alternate approaches to reading traditional literature as well as suggestions for expanding the canon to include more gender sensitive works Covering 96 of the most frequently taught works of fiction essays offer teachers librarians and students fresh insights into the female perspective in literature The list of titles created in consultation with educators includes classic works by male authors like Dickens Faulkner and Twain balanced with works by female authors such as Kate Chopin s The Awakening and Mary Shelley s Frankenstein Also included are contemporary works by writers such as Alice Walker and Margaret Atwood that are being incorporated into the curriculum as well as those advancing a more global view such as Sandra Cisneros House on Mango Street and Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart. The essays are expertly written in an accessible language that will help students gain greater awareness of gender-related themes. Suggestions for classroom discussions with selected works for further study are incorporated into the entries. The volume is organized alphabetically by title and includes both author and subject indexes. An appendix of gender-related themes further enhances this volume's usefulness for curriculum applications and student research projects.

Gender and the Superhero Narrative Michael Goodrum, Tara Prescott-Johnson, Philip Smith, 2018-10-01. Contributions by Dorian L. Alexander, Janine Coleman, Gabriel Gianola, Mel Gibson, Michael Goodrum, Tim Hanley, Vanessa Hemovich, Christina Knopf, Christopher McGunnigle, Samira Nadkarni, Ryan North, Lisa Perdigao, Tara Prescott-Johnson, Philip Smith, and Maite Ucaregui. The explosive popularity of San Diego's Comic-Con Star Wars: The Force Awakens and Rogue One and Netflix's Jessica Jones and Luke Cage all signal the tidal change in superhero narratives and mainstreaming of what were once considered niche interests. Yet just as these areas have become more openly inclusive to an audience beyond heterosexual white men, there has also been an intense backlash, most famously in 2015's Gamergate controversy when the tension between feminist bloggers, misogynistic gamers, and internet journalists came to a head. The place for gender in superhero narratives now represents a sort of battleground with important changes in the industry at stake. These seismic shifts both in the creation of superhero media and in their critical and reader reception need reassessment not only of the role of women in comics but also of how American society conceives of masculinity. Gender and the Superhero Narrative launches ten essays that explore the point where social justice meets the Justice League. Ranging from comics such as Ms. Marvel, Batwoman, Elegy, and Bitch Planet to video games, Netflix, and cosplay, this volume builds a platform for important voices in comics research, engaging with controversy and community to provide deeper insight and thus inspire change.

Faith, Feminism, and Scholarship M. Harris, K. Ott, 2011-12-19. A multi-cultural collection of third-wave feminist voices, this book reveals how current feminist religious scholars from around the world are integrating social justice and activism into their scholarship and pedagogy.

Imagining Apocalyptic Politics in the Anthropocene Earl T. Harper, Doug Specht, 2021-09-28. Bringing together scholars from English literature, geography, politics, the arts, environmental humanities, and sociology, Imagining Apocalyptic Politics in the Anthropocene contributes to the emerging debate between bodies of thought first incepted by scholars such as Mouffe, Whyte, Kaplan, Hunt, Swyngedouw, and Malm about how apocalyptic events, narratives, and imaginaries interact with societal and individual agency historically and in the current political moment. Exploring their own empirical and philosophical contexts, the authors examine the forms of political acting found in apocalyptic imaginaries and reflect on what this means for contemporary society. By framing their arguments around either pre-apocalyptic, peri-apocalyptic, or post-apocalyptic narratives and events, a timeline emerges throughout the volume which shows the different opportunities for political agency the anthropogenic subject can enact at the various stages of apocalyptic moments. Featuring a number of creative interventions exclusively produced for the work from artists and fiction writers who engage with the themes of apocalypse decline catastrophe and disaster this innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the politics of climate change the environmental humanities literary criticism and eco criticism
