knowledge of the area this is an accessible text for all students studying text and image or multimodality within English Language and Linguistics Media and Communication Studies Visual and Design Studies The Palgrave Handbook of Image Studies Krešimir Purgar, 2021-10-01 This handbook brings together the most current and hotly debated topics in studies about images today In the first part the book gives readers an historical overview and basic diachronical explanation of the term image including the ways it has been used in different periods throughout history In the second part the fundamental concepts that have to be mastered should one wish to enter into the emerging field of Image Studies are explained In the third part readers will find analysis of the most common subjects and topics pertaining to images In the fourth part the book explains how existing disciplines relate to Image Studies and how this new scholarly field may be constructed using both old and new approaches and insights The fifth chapter is dedicated to contemporary thinkers and is the first time that theses of the most prominent scholars of Image Studies are critically analyzed and presented in one place

Pangs of Love and Longing Anders Cullhed, Carin Franzén, Anders Hallengren, 2014-10-16 The complex relationship between psychic structures social norms and aesthetic representations is a challenge for every analysis of the historical manifestations of human desire Pangs of Love and Longing Configurations of Desire in Premodern Literature sets out to provide a deeper understanding of this relation by an assessment of linguistic and artistic configurations of desire in European literature from Antiquity to the Early Modern period The aim is to explore historic continuities and ruptures in attitudes towards sexuality pleasures and bodies as these are represented in a variety of cultural forms in order to demonstrate the plurality of premodern desire and ultimately to offer fresh perspectives on our present reality The seventeen scholars participating in the anthology bring together theories and assessments from different areas of the Humanities German French Italian Spanish English and Comparative Literature History of Ideas and of Art Theology Philosophy and Gender Studies They are all engaged in cross disciplinary activities at universities in Sweden Norway and Denmark and they all participate in the Scandinavian network Configurations of Desire in Premodern Literature initiated in 2010 The Visible and the Invisible Daniela Hammer-Tugendhat, 2015-03-10 The book addresses the scientific debates on Rembrandt Metsu Vermeer and Hoogstraten that are currently taking place in art history and cultural studies These focus mainly on the representation of gender difference the relationship between text and image and the emotional discourse They are also an appeal for art history as a form of cultural studies that analyses the semantic potential of art within discursive and social contemporary practices Dutch painting of the seventeenth century reflects its relationship to visible reality It deals with ambiguities and contradictions As an avant garde artistic media it also contributes to the emergence of a subjectivity towards the modern bourgeois It discards subject matter from its traditional fixation with iconology and evokes different imaginations and semantizations aspects that have not been sufficiently taken into account in previous research The book is to be understood as an appeal for art history as a form of cultural science that analyses the semantic potential of art within discursive and social contemporary practices and at the same time demonstrates its relevance today Works by Rembrandt Metsu Vermeer Hoogstraten and others serve as exemplary case studies for addressing current debates in art history and cultural studies such as representation of gender difference relationship between text and image and emotional discourse

Women Readers in French Painting 1870-1890 Kathryn J. Brown, 2012 The first monograph to examine the depiction of reading women in French art of the early Third Republic Women Readers in French Painting 1870 1890 evaluates the pictorial significance of this imagery its critical reception and its impact on nineteenth century notions of femininity and social relations Artists discussed in the volume range from Manet Cassatt and Degas to less familiar figures such as Lavieille Carri re Toulmouche and Tissot

Women Readers in French Painting 1870?890 Kathryn Brown, 2017-07-05 The first monograph to examine the depiction of reading women in French art of the early Third Republic Women Readers in French Painting 1870 1890 evaluates the pictorial significance of this imagery its critical reception and its impact on notions of femininity and social relations Covering a broad range of paintings prints and sculptures this book shows how the liseuse was subjected to unprecedented levels of pictorial innovation by artists with widely differing aesthetic aims and styles Depictions of readers are interpreted as contributions to changing notions of public and private life female agency and women s participation in cultural and political debates beyond the domestic household This highly original book explores images of women readers from a range of social classes in both urban and rural settings Such images are shown to have articulated concerns about the impact of female literacy on labour environments and family life while in many cases challenging conventions of gendered reading Kathryn Brown also presents an alternative way of conceiving of modernity in relation to nineteenth century art a methodological departure from much recent art historical literature Artists discussed range from Manet Cassatt and Degas to less familiar figures such as Lavieille Carri Toulmouche and Tissot

Art and Communication in the Reign of Henry VIII TatianaC. String, 2017-07-05 Exploring the intersection between art and political ideology this innovative study of art in Henrician England sheds new light on the ways in which Henry VIII and his advisers exploited visual images in order to communicate ideas to his subjects The works analyzed include water triumphs coronation pageants and funeral processions printed title pages of vernacular Bibles coins portrait miniatures and murals as well as panel paintings With her analysis of these categories of objects and using communication theory as a starting point String presents a new model of communication based on the concepts of magnificence topicality persuasiveness and propaganda Through this model she shows how medium location display and viewership were all considered in the transmission of royal messages Using the art of Henry VIII s reign as a case study String enriches our understanding of the fundamental contribution of imagery to communication and also provides a model for the study of the dissemination of ideas and the patron artist relationship in other royal courts and historical periods

Realms of Literacy David B. Lurie, 2020-03-17 In the world history of writing Japan presents an unusually detailed record of transition to literacy Extant materials attest to the social cultural and political contexts and consequences of the advent of writing and reading from the earliest appearance of imported artifacts with Chinese inscriptions in the first century BCE through the production of texts within the Japanese archipelago in the fifth century to the widespread literacies and the simultaneous rise of a full fledged state in the late seventh and eighth centuries David B Lurie explores the complex processes of adaptation and invention that defined the early Japanese transition from orality to textuality Drawing on archaeological and archival sources varying in content style and medium this book highlights the diverse modes and uses of writing that coexisted in a variety of configurations among different social groups It offers new perspectives on the pragmatic contexts and varied natures of multiple simultaneous literacies the relations between languages and systems of inscription and the aesthetic dimensions of writing Lurie s investigation into the textual practices of early Japan illuminates not only the cultural history of East Asia but also the broader comparative history of writing and literacy in the ancient world

Shimmering in a Transformed Light Rosemary Lloyd,2005 Although much has been written lately on the links between painting and writing little or no attention has been paid to those moments in literature when the narrative stops to allow for the description of those objects we associate with still life Rosemary Lloyd s book shows how fascinating this overlooked area is how rich in suggestions of class race and gender how much it indicates about human pleasures and about the experience of space and time Lloyd focuses on the last two centuries particularly at points marked by the irruption of images of contingency and rapid change into the fields of art for example the year of the Terror in French history the decade in which Haussman s politically driven transformation of Paris led Baudelaire to write his great modernist poem Le Cygne and on or about December 1910 the date to which Virginia Woolf attributes a revolution in the definition of literary character Lloyd s central concern lies with the ways in which the still life written or painted both evokes and attempts to deal with the sense of contingency While she makes frequent reference to paintings she focuses above all on written still lifes particularly those moments when novels pause to address the subject matter of still life a bowl of fruit a hat rack a desk cluttered with pens and papers in ways that invite contemplation of other and broader cultural domains She draws on literary and art works from Australia England France Germany Ireland Italy and the United States

A Companion to Chinese Art Martin J. Powers,Katherine R. Tsiang,2015-10-06 Exploring the history of art in China from its earliest incarnations to the present day this comprehensive volume includes two dozen newly commissioned essays spanning the theories genres and media central to Chinese art and theory throughout its history Provides an exceptional collection of essays promoting a comparative understanding of China s long record of cultural production Brings together an international team of scholars from East and West whose contributions range from an overview of pre modern theory to those exploring calligraphy fine painting sculpture accessories and more Articulates the direction in which the field of Chinese art history is moving as well as providing a roadmap for historians interested in comparative study or theory Proposes new and revisionist interpretations of the literati tradition which has long been an important staple of Chinese art history Offers a rich insight into China's social and political institutions religious and cultural practices and intellectual traditions alongside Chinese art history theory and criticism

On Verbal/visual Representation Martin Heusser, 2005 The twenty one essays collected in this volume offer a broad range of critical views on the intricate interdependence between verbal and visual representation Drawing on recent research scholars from Europe America and Asia approach the topic from a host of different angles exploring topics such as popular visual cultures in Japan devotional graffiti in a Piedmontese chapel textual trompe l'oeil in Jacques Derrida's Memoirs of the Blind or the relationship between the landscape paintings of Albert Bierstadt and the representation of landscape in the texts of James Fenimore Cooper

The Routledge Companion to Medieval Iconography Colum Hourihane, 2016-12-19 Sometimes enjoying considerable favor sometimes less iconography has been an essential element in medieval art historical studies since the beginning of the discipline Some of the greatest art historians including M le Warburg Panofsky Morey and Schapiro have devoted their lives to understanding and structuring what exactly the subject matter of a work of medieval art can tell Over the last thirty or so years scholarship has seen the meaning and methodologies of the term considerably broadened This companion provides a state of the art assessment of the influence of the foremost iconographers as well as the methodologies employed and themes that underpin the discipline The first section focuses on influential thinkers in the field while the second covers some of the best known methodologies the third and largest section looks at some of the major themes in medieval art Taken together the three sections include thirty eight chapters each of which deals with an individual topic An introduction historiographical evaluation and bibliography accompany the individual essays The authors are recognized experts in the field and each essay includes original analyses and or case studies which will hopefully open the field for future research

Unrepresented: the Suppression of Images in the Middle Ages Robert Couzin, 2025-04-24 The study of representational art traditionally focusses on what is represented rather than what is missing Robert Couzin's Unrepresented The Suppression of Images in the Middle Ages is a unique study of figures and attributes left out of the picture Why avoid depicting the dead body of Christ Muhammad the reigning emperor or biblical text What explains changes in the approach to representing heretics and Jews Through a series of case studies this book shows how omissions could reflect strategic decisions based on political designs social frameworks religious practices evolving mentalities and theological doctrines

Reconsidering Boccaccio Olivia Holmes, Dana Stewart, 2018-06-12 Reconsidering Boccaccio highlights the great Florentine writer Giovanni Boccaccio's remarkable achievements in the fourteenth century as a cultural mediator his exceptional social geographic and intellectual range and the influence of his legacy on numerous cultural networks Grounded in Boccaccio's own writings Reconsidering Boccaccio brings a variety of methodologies and critical approaches to the works of one of the three crowns of Italian literature Containing essays by scholars not only of Italian literature but also history law classics and Middle Eastern literature this collection is part of a vital movement to open up a dialogue among researchers in various areas of study that touch on the works of Boccaccio The volume highlights the necessity of a technical and historical framework when approaching Boccaccio studies while also shedding new light on the lives of women and their role in the reception of Boccaccio's works The Bishop Reformed Anna Trumbore Jones, 2017-03-02 In the period following the collapse of the Carolingian Empire up to the Fourth Lateran Council 1215 the episcopate everywhere in Europe experienced substantial and important change brought about by a variety of factors the pressures of ecclesiastical reform the devolution and recovery of royal authority the growth of papal involvement in regional matters and in diocesan administration the emergence of the crowd onto the European stage around 1000 and the proliferation of autonomous municipal governments the explosion of new devotional and religious energies the expansion of Christendom's borders and the proliferation of new monastic orders and new forms of religious life among other changes This socio political religious economic and cultural ferment challenged bishops often in unaccustomed ways How did the medieval bishop unquestionably one of the most powerful figures of the Middle Ages respond to these and other historical changes Somewhat surprisingly this question has seldom been answered from the bishop's perspective This volume of interdisciplinary studies drawn from literary scholarship art history canon law and history seeks to break scholarship of the medieval episcopacy free from the ideological stasis imposed by the study of church reform and episcopal lordship The editors and contributors propose less a conventional socio political reading of the episcopate and more of a cultural reading of bishops that is particularly concerned with issues such as episcopal self representation conceptualization of office and authority cultural production images texts material objects space and ecclesiology ideology They contend that ideas about episcopal office and conduct were conditioned by and contingent upon time place and pastoral constituency What made a good bishop in one time and place may not have sufficed for another time and place and imposing the absolute standards of prescriptive ideologies medieval and modern obfuscates rather than clarifies our understanding of the medieval bishop and his world Experimental Histories Hannah Weaver, 2024-08-15 In Experimental Histories Hannah Weaver examines the medieval practice of interpolation inserting material from one text into another which is often categorized as being a problematic inauthentic phenomenon akin to forgery and pseudepigraphy Instead Weaver promotes interpolation as the signature form of medieval British historiography and a vehicle of historical theory arguing that some of the most novel concepts of time in medieval historiography can be found in these altered narratives of the past For Weaver historiographical interpolation constitutes the traces of active experimentation with how best to write history particularly the history of Britain Historians in twelfth and thirteenth century Britain recognized the difficulty of enfolding complex events into a linear chronology and embraced innovative textual methods of creating history Focusing on the Brut tradition but also analyzing the long history of interpolated historiography including the Bayeux Embroidery Experimental Histories offers a new interpretation of generic remixing in medieval writing about the past Drawing on both manuscript studies and the new formalism it shows that the practice of inserting materials from romance and hagiography allowed creative revisers to explore how lived events relate to passing time By embracing interpolation Weaver provides lively insights into the ways that time becomes history and human actors experience time
