as the formation of a STEM identity To date there has been a dearth of research focusing on children s informal STEM experiences when compared to formal school based STEM learning experiences This Research Topic focuses attention on the authentic everyday experiences of children and how these experiences provide opportunities for STEM learning engagement and identity In addition these papers will explore how these everyday experiences can be leveraged and augmented to promote STEM learning and engagement through culturally relevant design and implementation Reshaping Change Patrick Dawson,2019-05-22 This book views change as an ongoing process that should not be solidified or treated as a series of linear events In drawing on data collected from over 40 years of research it highlights the theoretical and practical value of using a processual perspective Illustrative examples from a range of organizations including Micro X General Motors Pirelli Cables BHP Billiton Royal Dutch Shell British Rail British Aerospace Hewlett Packard Laubman and Pank and the CSIRO make the approach understandable and accessible to both researchers and practitioners In a theoretical exploration of temporal context sociomaterial relations and power political processes the dynamics of changing organizations is brought to the fore and the implication for reshaping change examined On the practice of engaging in longitudinal research study design data collection and processual analysis as well as the write up and dissemination of findings are all considered This is an innovative and highly practical research monograph that captures the truly complex processes of changing organizations and illustrates how these are best understood from a processual perspective The Golden Age of Data Don Grady,2019-11-27 Audience and media analytics is more important now than ever and this latest volume in the cutting edge BEA Electronic Media Research Series collects some of the top scholars working with big data and analytics today These chapters describe the development and help define media analytics as an academic discipline and professional practice Understanding audiences is integral to creating and distributing media messages and the study of media analytics requires knowing a range of skills including research methods the necessary tools available familiarity with statistical procedures and a mindset to provide insights and apply findings This book summarizes the insights of analytics practitioners regarding the current state of legacy media analysis and social media analytics Topics covered include the evolution of media technologies the teaching of media measurement and analytics the transition taking place in media research and the use of media analytics to answer meaningful questions drive content creation and engage with audiences Footprints in Paradise Andrea E. Murray,2017-06 The economic imperative of sustainable tourism development frequently shapes life on small subtropical islands In Okinawa ecotourism promises to provide employment for a dwindling population of rural youth while preserving the natural environment and bolstering regional pride Footprints in Paradise explores the transformation in community and sense of place as Okinawans come to view themselves through the lens of the visiting tourist consumer and as their language landscapes and wildlife are reconstituted as treasured and vulnerable resources The rediscovery and revaluing of local ecological knowledge strengthens Okinawan or Uchinaa cultural heritage despite the controversial presence of US military bases amidst a hegemonic Japanese state Water Governance, Stakeholder Engagement, and Sustainable Water Resources Management Sharon B. Megdal, Susanna Eden, Eylon Shamir, 2018-07-10 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Water Governance Stakeholder Engagement and Sustainable Water Resources Management that was published in Water Technology's Challenges and Solutions in K-16 Education during a Worldwide Pandemic Li-Ting Chen, Leping Liu, Karen Pugh, 2023-10-21 The book not only provides empirical evidence of challenges faced by educators and learners during COVID 19 but also gives fresh insights on how educators and education administrators may act proactively to prepare for an emergency situation The school year of 2020 was unlike any other Globally the outbreak of COVID 19 impacted learners and educators in all levels Many learners were forced to rapidly transit from face to face to online learning while educators were required to hastily convert in person to online delivery mode What challenges did the educators and learners face and what were the possible solutions How can technology as a tool be used to enhance teaching and maximize student learning when an emergency occurs This book addresses these two questions With contributions from international scholars the book begins by providing the context of COVID 19 and a brief introduction of five empirical studies included in the book as well as suggesting directions for future research Subsequent chapters represent a variety of research approaches and perspectives from learners educators and parents of learners but all share a common focus on challenges faced by educators and learners as well as opportunities to use technology as a tool to maximize student learning during a worldwide pandemic Technology s Challenges and Solutions in K 16 Education during a Worldwide Pandemic will be a key resource for educators academics researchers and students of Education Instructional Design and Technology Educational Leadership and Policy Educational Research Educational Technology Research Methods and Sociology STEM Education and Curriculum and Instruction The chapters included in this book were originally published as a special issue of Computers in the Schools Ethical Practices for Sustainable Construction Digitalisation Olugbenga Oladinrin, Douglas Aghimien, Steve Goodhew, 2025-09-30 This volume provides a framework for ethical and sustainable digitalization in the construction industry The fourth industrial revolution has significantly changed how industries worldwide operate and deliver their products and services This paradigm shift has brought with it ubiquitous emerging physical biological and digital technologies that are disrupting activities in industries across the globe The construction industry is not immune to the disruption of these technologies From solving the issues of poor cost time and quality that has bedevilled the industry for a long while to ensuring clients are satisfied and workers are safe digital technologies have proven to be effective in improving how the construction industry function For instance the use of building information modelling has garnered considerable attention in addressing salient design and collaboration issues among others facing the industry In the same vein the internet of things big data analytics cloud computing drones robotics sensors and a host of other technologies have been explored to improve the management and delivery of construction projects Regrettably this concept of ethics has been downplayed in the quest for the digital transformation of construction industries worldwide For the successful digitalisation of the construction industry which relies heavily on human interaction with technology the role of ethics cannot be overlooked There is an absence of a roadmap for the ethical use of digital technologies in the digitalisation of the construction industry This book which is designed to give direction for the ethical use of digital tools in the construction industry fills that gap Work, Employment and Flexibility Peter Holland,Chris Brewster,Nadia K. Kougiannou,2024-06-05 This insightful book examines the evolving landscape of work in the context of rapidly developing information and communication technology and Artificial Intelligence It argues that while in the twentieth century there was a standardisation of work style the twenty first century is seeing the creation of ever more flexible forms of work epitomised by the rise of the gig economy Handbook of Applied Behavior Analysis Interventions for Autism Justin B.
