Herstories on Screen Kathleen Cummins,2020-05-19 From the late 1970s into the early 1990s a generation of female filmmakers took aim at their home countries popular myths of the frontier Deeply influenced by second wave feminism and supported by hard won access to governmental and institutional funding and training their trailblazing films challenged traditionally male genres like the Western Instead of reinforcing the myths of nationhood often portrayed in such films invariably featuring a lone white male hero pitted against the savage and uncivilized native terrain these filmmakers constructed counternarratives centering on women and marginalized communities In place of rugged cowboys violently removing indigenous peoples to make the frontier safe for their virtuous wives and daughters these filmmakers told the stories of colonial and postcolonial societies from a female and or subaltern point of view Herstories on Screen is a transnational study of feature narrative films from Australia Canada the United States and New Zealand Aotearoa that deconstruct settler colonial myths Kathleen Cummins offers in depth readings of ten works by a diverse range of women filmmakers including Jane Campion Julie Dash Merata Mita Tracey Moffatt and Anne Wheeler She reveals how they skillfully deploy genre tropes and popular storytelling conventions in order to critique master narratives of feminine domesticity and purity and depict women and subaltern people performing acts of agency and resistance Cummins details the ways in which second wave feminist theory and aesthetics informed these filmmakers efforts to debunk idealized Anglo Saxon femininity and motherhood and lay bare gendered and sexual violence and colonial oppression Great Canadian Film Directors George Melnyk,2007-06-15 Film directors articulate creative visions that provide insights into national cultures 18 essays highlight Canada s prominent Anglophone and Francophone filmmakers

British Women's Cinema Melanie Bell,Melanie Williams,2009-09-15 British Women s Cinema examines the place of female centred films throughout British film history from silent melodrama and 1940s costume dramas right up to the contemporary British chick flick The Strad ,1928 The Great Movies III Roger Ebert,2024-05-31 Roger Ebert has been writing film reviews for the Chicago Sun Times for over four decades now and his biweekly essays on great movies have been appearing there since 1996 As Ebert noted in the introduction to the first collection of those pieces They are not the greatest films of all time because all lists of great movies are a foolish attempt to codify works which must stand alone But it s fair to say If you want to take a tour of the landmarks of the first century of cinema start here Enter The Great Movies III Ebert s third collection of essays on the cr me de la cr me of the silver screen each one a model of critical appreciation and a blend of love and analysis that will send readers back to the films with a fresh set of eyes and renewed enthusiasm or maybe even lead to a first time viewing From The Godfather Part II to Groundhog Day from The Last Picture Show to Last Tango in Paris the hundred pieces gathered here display a welcome balance between the familiar and the esoteric spanning Hollywood

blockbusters and hidden gems independent works and foreign language films alike Each essay draws on Ebert's vast knowledge of the cinema its fascinating history and its breadth of techniques introducing newcomers to some of the most exceptional movies ever made while revealing new insights to connoisseurs as well Named the most powerful pundit in America by Forbes magazine and a winner of the Pulitzer Prize Roger Ebert is inarguably the most prominent and influential authority on the cinema today The Great Movies III is sure to please his many fans and further enhance his reputation as America's most respected and trusted film critic

Racing the Great White Way Katie N. Johnson, 2023-07-19 The early drama of Eugene O'Neill with its emphasis on racial themes and conflicts opened up extraordinary opportunities for Black performers to challenge racist structures in modern theater and cinema By adapting O'Neill's dramatic writing changing scripts to omit offensive epithets inserting African American music and dance or including citations of Black internationalism theater artists of color have used O'Neill's texts to raze barriers in American and transatlantic theater Challenging the widely accepted idea that Broadway was the white hot creative engine of U.S. theater during the early 20th century author Katie N. Johnson reveals a far more complex system of exchanges between the Broadway establishment and a vibrant Black theater scene in New York and beyond to chart a new history of American and transnational theater In spite of their dichotomous and at times problematic representation of Blackness O'Neill's plays such as The Emperor Jones and All God's Chillun Got Wings make ideal case studies because of the way these works stimulated traffic between Broadway and Harlem and between white and Black America These investigations of O'Neill and Broadway productions are enriched by the vibrant transnational exchange found in early to mid 20th century artistic production Anchored in archival research Racing the Great White Way recovers not only vital lost performance histories but also the layered contexts for performing bodies across the Black Atlantic and the Circum Atlantic

African Film Festivals and Transnational Flows of Living Cultural Heritage Sheila Petty, 2025-07-25 This open access book investigates how flows of knowledge that arise from the African continent travel and are transformed through new contexts of presentation and engagement in new locations Through case studies on Africa themed film festivals in Africa Europe and the Americas the book explores potential methods of catalyzing a transnational flow from inception to end that involves attention to process rather than studying festivals as static cultural products with discrete and isolated categories of programming presentation documentation and networking The chapters probe how festivals interact with place and location and create journeys of discovery in translating and contextualizing films for specific populations and audiences The book also focuses on how dialogue is created in a festival knowledge forum that respects the living nature of cultural heritage as it is received from its original context presented during film festivals and passed on to future generations for safeguarding

For No Reason at All Jeffrey A. Hinkelman, 2022-02-04 The years following the signing of the Armistice saw a transformation of traditional attitudes regarding military conflict as America attempted to digest the enormity and futility of the First World War During these years popular film culture in the United States created new ways of addressing the impact of the war on both individuals and society Filmmakers with direct experience of combat created works that promoted their own ideas about the depiction of wartime service ideas that frequently conflicted with established heroic tropes for the portrayal of warfare on film Those filmmakers spent years modifying existing standards and working through a variety of storytelling options before achieving a consensus regarding the fitting method for rendering war on screen That consensus incorporated facets of the experience of Great War veterans and these countered and undermined previously accepted narrative strategies This process reached its peak during the Pre Code Era of the early 1930s when the initially prevailing narrative would be briefly supplanted by an entirely new approach that questioned the very premises of wartime service Even more significantly the rhetoric of these films argued strongly for an antiwar stance that questioned every aspect of the wartime experience For No Reason at All The Changing Narrative of the First World War in American Film discusses a variety of Great War themed films made from 1915 to the present tracing the changing approaches to the conflict over time Individual chapters focus on movie antecedents animated films and comedies the influence of literary precursors the African American film industry women centered films and the effect of the Second World War on depictions of the First Films discussed include Hearts of the World The Cradle of Courage Birthright The Big Parade She Goes to War Doughboys Young Eagles The Last Flight Broken Lullaby Lafayette Escadrille and Wonder Woman among many others

Great Spanish Films Since 1950 Ronald Schwartz, 2008-09-05 When it began modern Spanish cinema was under strict censorship forced to conform to the ideological demands of the Nationalist regime In 1950 the New Spanish Cinema was born as a protest over General Francisco Franco's policies a new series of directors and films began to move away from the conformist line to offer a bold brand of Spanish realism In the 1950s and early 1960s filmmakers such as Juan Antonio Bardem Luis Garc a Berlanga and Luis Bu uel expressed a liberal image of Spain to the world in such films as Muerte de un ciclista Death of a Cyclist Bienvenido Se or Marshall Welcome Mr Marshall and Viridiana The emergence of new directors continued into the sixties and seventies with Carlos Saura Jos Luis Borau V ctor Erice and others After Franco's death in 1975 censorship was abolished and films openly explored such formerly taboo subjects as sexuality drugs the church the army and the Civil War The Spanish cinema was no longer escapist and entertaining but at long last mirrored the society it depicted While established directors like Saura Bardem and Berlanga continued to produce distinguished work the new wave of Spanish cinema included brilliant films by the likes of Montxo Armend riz Tasio Fernando Trueba First Work Imanol Uribe The Death of Mikel and Pedro Almod var Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown In the last couple of decades exciting works by established filmmakers and newcomers alike continue to be produced including Alejandro Amen bar s Thesis Jos Luis Garc s The Grandfather and Almod var s Talk to Her and Volver In Great Spanish Films Since 1950 Ronald Schwartz presents a compendium of outstanding Spanish films from the pre Francoist era through the Spanish New Wave of the 80 s and 90 s and into the present day Schwartz provides background plot and commentaries of key films from six decades of Spanish cinema In addition to identifying The Film Renter and Moving Picture News ,1926 Great Martial Arts Movies Richard Meyers,2001-01-01 Meyers offers an up to date authoritative kick butt book detailing the best movies and where to find them Color photos Cinema News ,1916 Great Eastern Railway Magazine London and North Eastern Railway,1916
