Women Power And Kinship Politics:

Women, Power, and Kinship Politics Mina Roces, 1998-05-26 Politics in the Philippines is not male dominated but gendered. This book examines how women hold power unofficially through their kinship ties with male politicians. Examining the perspectives of local concepts of power, the author explores gender and power in post-war Philippines and characterizes kinship politics embedded in the predominate political culture. Women's power is a site where the conflict between the two discourses of kinship politics and modern nationalist values is daily contested. Unofficial women's power is resourced through kinship politics but because it is exercised behind the scenes it makes women vulnerable to criticisms that they are manipulative or scheming, wielding power that is illegal, undemocratic, anti-nationalist, and unaccountable. But at the other end of the equation, women's crusades against graft and corruption are doubly legitimized through both the modern discursive prioritizing of the nation state and through women's traditional gendered roles as moral guardians. This book will be of interest to scholars and students in Philippine studies, Southeast Asian history, gender studies, women and power in Asia, and feminist studies.

Indonesian Women and Local Politics Kurniawati Hastuti Dewi, 2015-03-09 In an important social change, female Muslim political leaders in Java have enjoyed considerable success in direct local elections following the fall of Suharto in Indonesia. Indonesian Women and Local Politics shows that Islam, gender, and social networks have been decisive in their political victories. Islamic ideas concerning female leadership provide a strong religious foundation for their political campaigns. However, their approach to women's issues shows that female leaders do not necessarily adopt a woman's perspectives when formulating policies. This new trend of Muslim women in politics will continue to shape the growth and direction of democratization in local politics in post-Suharto Indonesia and will color future discourse on gender politics and Islam in contemporary Southeast Asia.

Women of Power Torild Skard, 2015-03-09 At a time when a woman, Angela Merkel, is arguably the most powerful leader in Europe and another Hilary Clinton continues to be at the center of the US political stage it seems that women have broken through the glass ceiling and begun to populate the highest offices of the political world Women of Power is a testament to that accomplishment offering the most comprehensive overview of female presidents and prime ministers to date Looking at over fifty countries and over seventy women leaders since 1960 Torild Skard herself an experienced politician examines how and why these women rose to the top and what their leadership has meant for women's empowerment throughout the latter half of the twentieth century Skard examines the achievements and life stories of the world's female leaders up to the current era She offers nuanced portraits that draw on a number of materials including many interviews that she conducted herself All of the women discussed are organized by both chronology and geography and Skard includes a number of helpful chapters that provide an overview and assessment of how different women leaders have come to power in different regions Overall the book provides a fascinating account of women's empowerment as it has manifested itself at the very top of the political hierarchy

Gender and Politics in Post-Reformasi Indonesia Kurniawati Hastuti Dewi, 2022-07-02 This book employs a gendered perspective to uncover an in depth understanding of the political role of women leaders in local government in Indonesia Beginning with the story of two women who successfully won the local elections in Indramayu in 2010 and Tangerang Selatan in 2011 respectively the book uses their experiences as a point of departure to present a discussion on female political leaders part within the larger political dynastic structure in Indonesia The book explores the multiple challenges and difficulties that these women encountered in reaching power and in promoting local democracy highlighting the patriarchal nature of the oligarchy In doing so this book provides a rich empirical account of the current features of female political leaders and their political and familial linkages The research thus contributes significantly to the work of scholars and political activists seeking to unpack the process and progress of democratization in post reformasi Indonesia in which women's political participation and leadership are an inevitable and vital part In doing so the book champions how Indonesian women are playing an increasingly important role in the democratic process even in the face of the enduring challenges posed by familial ties and political dynasty factors that continue to hinder democratization trends that are also prevalent across multiple Southeast Asian countries in the twenty first century Relevant to scholars and students situated at the intersection of gender and politics this translated and updated co publication is a tour de force led by one of Indonesia's seminal scholars in women's studies

Dynasties and Female Political Leaders in Asia Claudia Derichs, Mark R. Thompson, 2013 This book is the first comprehensive academic effort to examine the phenomenon of top female political leaders in Asia It portrays prime ministers presidents and opposition leaders but it is not a conventional biographical volume Rather it analyzes female politicians by means of case studies that are based on a common theoretical framework The case studies were conducted over three years of field research which included interviews with the female leaders themselves and members of their inner circle Each chapter explores the similarities but also points to the distinctiveness of each female leader arising from political and social systems cultural and religious conditions and economic parameters Series Political Science Perspectives Politikwissenschaftliche Perspektiven Vol 16 Women in Asia Louise Edwards, Mina Roces, 2020-07-25 Women in Asia Tradition Modernity and Globalisation surveys the transformation in the status of women since 1970 in a diverse range of nations Malaysia China Indonesia Singapore the Philippines India Taiwan Vietnam Hong Kong Korea Japan and Burma Within these 13 national case studies the book presents new arguments about being women being Asian and being modern in contemporary Asia Recent social changes in women's place in society are untangled in recognition that not all change is progress and that not all modernity enhances women's status The authors suggest that the improvements in women's status within the Asian region vary dramatically according to the manner in which women interact with the particular economic and ideological forces in each nation Each contributor has focussed on a particular country in their area of expertise They present innovative arguments relating to the problem of being women in Asia during a period of dramatic social and political changes Each national case study explores key social and economic markers of women's status such as employment rates wage differentials literacy rates and participation in politics or business The effects of population control programs legislation on domestic violence and female infanticide and women's role in the family and the workforce are also discussed The book poses questions as to how women have negotiated these shifts and in the process created a modern Asian woman Specialists from a variety of disciplines including history anthropology sociology demography gender studies and psychology grapple with the complexities and ambivalences presented by the multiple faces of the modern Asian woman Complete with a list of recommended readings and a web site with links to electronic resources the book will be of particular interest to undergraduate students of Asian studies and women's studies as well as scholars and postgraduate students interested in comparative women's studies Gender and Power in Affluent Asia Krishna Sen, Maila Stivens, 2002-09-11 Gender and Power in Affluent Asia is the first major study to analyse the relationships between gender and power that have accompanied the rise of Asian affluence The Woman President Ramona Vijayarasa, 2022-06-27 Too much attention is paid to the absence of women leaders around the world rather than their presence leaving a gap in our understanding of the difference women leaders make on the lives of fellow women The Woman President presents a unique comparative study of women's leadership and the law offering new ways for understanding the impact of female presidential leadership on women's everyday lives by analysing the legal legacies of four women presidents Corazon Aquino 1986 1992 Gloria Macapagal Arroyo 2001 2010 Megawati Sukarnoputri 2001 2004 and Chandrika Bandaranaike Kumaratunga 1994 2005 It uses a new and innovative methodology the Gender Legislative Index to score laws enacted during these four tenures from a women's rights perspective The findings challenge and expand our understanding of what constitutes a woman's issue bringing within its gendered analysis labour law reform democracy anti corruption poverty alleviation and pro peace interventions alongside more oft considered terrain such as gender based violence reproductive rights gender equality quotas and women's rights at work This book also offers important insights into the institutional and social mechanisms that enable women leaders to lead for women including women s movements and global networks of women presidents and prime ministers The words of women leaders themselves both from personal interviews and speeches bring depth to the assessments and conclusions drawn The Woman President offers new tools and sharpens old ones to provide an essential comparative contribution to our knowledge about the dynamics and impact of female presidencies drawing from the realities of the Asia region Women's Suffrage in Asia Louise Edwards,Mina Roces,2006-08-21 Including chapters on Indonesia India Thailand China the Philippines Japan Malaysia Korea Vietnam and international suffrage connections Women s Suffrage in Asia engages in debates on suffrage in the region by raising issues unique to the country s case studies presented It explains why the history of suffrage is neglected in the nationalist historiography and untangles the connections between culture nationalism and colonialism in the context of women s struggles for suffrage Women's Political Participation and Representation in Asia

Kazuki Iwanaga,2008 The ability of a small elite of highly educated upper class Asian women to obtain the highest political positions in their country is unmatched elsewhere in the world and deserves study But there is a marked lack of relevant research as well as of comprehensive and user friendly texts Aiming to fill the gap is this timely and important study of the various obstacles and opportunities for women s political participation and representation in Asia Power and Political

Culture in Suharto's Indonesia Stefan Eklöf,2004 Under Indonesia s authoritarian New Order regime the continued existence of the Indonesian Democratic Party PDI was meant to demonstrate the ostensibly democratic character of the regime In essence this small nationalist Christian coalition was meant to fill the role of pliant state corporatist party From the later 1980s however the PDI became more openly critical of government policies and came to stand out as the major proponent of reform within the formal politica system The government responded in 1996 by engineering the removal of the populat Megwati Sukarnoputri as PDI leader a move that significantly damaged the popular legitimacy and moral standing of the regime Against this background the book assesses broader questions of political culture political participation regime maintenance and opposition in the late Suharto era The political culture perspective provides a fresh understanding of politics under the New Order and its influence on the systems of power and political relations in post Suharto Indonesia

Women Presidents and Prime Ministers in Post-Transition Democracies Verónica Montecinos,2017-03-15 This book contributes to our understanding of the trajectories and prerogatives of female political leaders in the varying context of democratization political institutions and cultural norms No woman had been elected leader of a country before 1960 but with democratic transitions on the rise since the 1970s the number of women in executive office gradually became a trend of global scope In 2015 nineteen countries had an elected female Head of State and or Government a proportionally small number that is expected to climb as more women compete for high office sometimes against other female candidates This volume compares how women executives differ in promoting gender equality and advocating for women s rights and interests as well as in their ability to negotiate gender policy agendas Comparative and theoretical chapters on post transition women leaders are complemented by case studies in eight countries in Africa Asia Latin America and Eastern and Central Europe This book will be of use to students and scholars interested in gender studies comparative politics and political leadership

History, Historians and the Immigration Debate Eureka Henrich, Julian M. Simpson, 2018-10-13 This book is a response to the binary thinking and misuse of history that characterize contemporary immigration debates Subverting the traditional injunction directed at migrants to go back to where they came from it highlights the importance of the past to contemporary discussions around migration It argues that historians have a significant contribution to make in this respect and shows how this can be done with chapters from scholars in Asia Europe Australasia and North America Through their work on global transnational and national histories of migration an alternative view emerges one that complicates our understanding of 21st century migration and reasserts movement as a central dimension of the human condition History Historians and the Immigration Debate makes the case for historians to assert themselves more confidently as expert commentators offering a reflection on how we write migration history today and the forms it might take in the future

Historical Dictionary of the Philippines Artemio R. Guillermo, 2012 The Historical Dictionary of the Philippines Third Edition contains a chronology an introductory essay an extensive bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries

Knowing Southeast Asian Subjects Laurie J. Sears, 2011-10-17 The essays in Knowing Southeast Asian Subjects ask how the rising preponderance of scholarship from Southeast Asia is de centering Southeast Asian area studies in the United States The contributions address recent transformations within the field and new directions for research pedagogy and institutional cooperation Contributions from the perspectives of history anthropology cultural studies political theory and libraries pose questions ranging from how a concern with postcolonial and feminist questions of identity might reorient the field to how anthropological work on civil society and Islam in Southeast Asia provides an opportunity for comparative political theorists to develop more sophisticated analytic approaches A vision common to all the contributors is the potential of area studies to produce knowledge outside a global academic framework that presumes the privilege and even hegemony of Euro American academic trends and scholars

Feminist Catholic Theological Ethics:

Conversations in the World Church Hogan, Linda , Orobator, A.E., 2014-04-10 The growing body of feminist literature in the late 20th and early 21st centuries demonstrates the phenomenal advances of feminist thought and movements in the context of church and society Characteristic of this growth is the re location of issues from the global North and broadening of focus to include voices from the global South In the context of globalization new vistas and voices are emerging that trace new directions and seek to rephrase the central questions in the feminist discourse This volume aims to highlight the changing face and color of feminist theological discourse recognize innovative research in the field and facilitate a global conversation among feminists engaged in theological ethics in the world church

Contesting the Philippines Steven

Rood, Veronica L Taylor, 2024-05-09 The Duterte administration 2016-22 marked the return of an authoritarian style of rule in the Philippines. It was also accompanied by an economic recovery that was better than many expected at least until the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Both during and following the Duterte period, the country was buffeted by a series of internal and external shocks that called into question the state's legal and social policy contract with its citizens. This period of contesting the Philippines was an intense normative and practical struggle to shape or reshape some of the Philippines' most critical institutions: the Constitution, the presidency, the Supreme Court, and the rule of law, the free press, regional autonomy, and independent regulatory institutions. These developments energized many domestic policy actors: technocrats, the business sector, civil society organizations, the police, and the military, armed groups, and religious leaders across the spectrum of Filipino politics. This volume considers some key sites of contestation between and among domestic policy actors, including the executive, during this eventful period for political and legal institutions in the Philippines. Postcolonial

Configurations Josen Masangkay Diaz, 2022-12-19 In Postcolonial Configurations, Josen Masangkay Diaz examines the making of Filipino America through the dynamics of dictatorship, coloniality, and subjectivity. Diaz explores how the Ferdinand Marcos dictatorship and US policies during the Cold War that supported the regime defined the relationship between Filipino and America in ways that influenced the creation of a gendered and racialized Filipino American subject. By analyzing Philippine-US state programs for military operations, labor, and immigration reform and development and modernization plans, she shows how anticommunist liberalism and authoritarianism shaped the visibility and recognition of new forms of Filipino subjectivity. Tracing the rise of various social formations that emerged under the Marcos regime and US programs for liberal reform from transnational Filipino and US culture and the immigrant returnee to the New Filipina woman and the humanitarian English teacher, Diaz positions literature, film, periodicals, and other cultural texts against official state records in ways that reconceptualize the meanings of Filipino America in the Cold War. Southeast Asia and the English School of International Relations L. Quayle, 2013-01-17 This book examines the interface between the theoretical framework known as the English School and the international and transnational politics of Southeast Asia. The region theory dialogue it proposes signals productive ways forward for the theory.
