Womens Health Intersections Of Policy Research And Practice:

Women's Health 2e Pat Armstrong, Ann P. Pederson, 2015 Though we may no longer confine our understanding of women's health to reproduction and maternity care, women's health in Canada continues to be limited by knowledge gaps, political agendas, and fiscal restraints. This second edition of Women's Health provides a comprehensive picture of the state of women's health in Canada, tracing the emergence of the field and outlining some of the current challenges facing its advancement. The contributors, who include academics, health care professionals, and policy makers, explore women's health in different social and geographical locations, the gendering of care work, and the ways in which research can influence health policy. Drawing on gender-based analysis and highlighting the diversity among women, this multidisciplinary collection illustrates the breadth of contemporary Canadian writing on women's health and calls for a renewed commitment to women's health advocacy. This revised edition has been thoroughly updated to reflect developments in research and recent changes in the social, political, and economic context. New chapters cover topics such as wait times, girls' health, and unpaid health care. Featuring questions for further thought and lists of recommended readings and websites, this unique text is a valuable resource for both students and researchers in the fields of women's studies, sociology, health sciences, and nursing.

Women's Health Pat Armstrong, Ann P. Pederson, 2015 The Palgrave Handbook of Gender and Healthcare Ellen Kuhlmann, Ellen Annandale, 2012-06-26 This authoritative state-of-the-art reference collection addresses the main issues and core debates related to gender and healthcare in one accessible volume. This essential guide to an area of increasing interest provides a critical overview of debates as well as practical guidance on how to bring gender perspectives to the heart of international health policy, practice, and research.

Thinking Women and Health Care Reform in Canada Pat Armstrong, 2012 Thinking Women and Health Care Reform in Canada explores why health care is a woman's issue and seeks to address gender equity in health services. Written by members of Women and Health Care Reform (WHCR), this collection establishes the importance of including gender in discussions and decisions surrounding health sector reform. In twelve concise chapters, Thinking Women and Health Care Reform in Canada addresses a wide range of issues, including obesity, maternity care, mental health of health care workers, and private health insurance. This thought-provoking collection is an essential read for students and researchers in the fields of women's studies, health sciences, sociology, and nursing, as well as for anyone who is looking for a new picture of health care in Canada.

Women's Health in Canada Olena Hankivsky, Colleen Varcoe, Marina Helen Morrow, 2007-01-01 This volume fills a gap in Canadian healthcare scholarship by providing a resource for teaching and understanding women's health in this country. Women's Health in Canada Marina Morrow, Olena Hankivsky, Colleen Varcoe, 2022-01-27 Women's Health in Canada considers the challenges relating to the conceptualization of women's health. While emphasizing the importance of taking an intersectional approach to women's healthcare, this book also focuses on the social and structural determinants at play. This revised and updated second edition brings together a collection of new chapters and contributors who collectively shed light on the problems and risks involved in perceiving women's healthcare using a strictly gender or sex based lens Contributors foreground an understanding of power as it is mediated through a range of social relations based on gender race culture ethnicity sexuality ability class and geography and the ways in which privilege and oppression intersect to shape health and system responses to health This new edition includes updates on what is currently known about women's health nationally and internationally and situates the chapters in the current Canadian health care and policy context Scholarship is foregrounded in new developments in gender and intersectional health research and policy Collectively this volume explores the important histories and contemporary realities in women's health experiences Designing and Conducting Gender, Sex, and Health Research John L.

Oliffe, Lorraine Greaves, 2011-04-18 This book provides the first resource dedicated to critically examining gender and sex in study designs methods and analysis in health research In order to produce ethical accurate and effective research findings it is vital to integrate both sex biological characteristics and gender socially constructed factors into any health study This book draws attention to some of the methodological complexities in this enterprise and offers ways to thoughtfully address these by drawing on empirical examples across a range of topics and disciplines Staying Alive, Third Edition: Critical

Perspectives on Health, Illness, and Health Care Dennis Raphael, Toba Bryant, Marcia Rioux, 2019-12-13 This new edition of Staying Alive provides readers with a fresh perspective on health health care and illness in Canada and abroad Grounded in a human rights approach to health this edited collection includes chapters on the social construction of illness and disability social determinants of health and current critical issues in the field The third edition has been thoroughly updated and includes recent national and international developments in health care with current world statistics and an emphasis on austerity related changes and their effects on health and health care systems It includes chapters on pharmaceutical policy social class women's health and the impact of economic forces such as globalization and privatization in health care

Health Matters Eric Mykhalovskiy, Jacqueline Choiniere, Pat Armstrong, Hugh Armstrong, 2020-05-12 In Health Matters contributors from a range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary traditions address multiple dimensions of health care such as nursing midwifery home care pharmaceuticals medical education and palliative care Through their explorations the book poses questions about the role that the forms of expertise associated with evidence based health care play in shaping how we understand and organize health services Authors critique instrumental managerial ways of knowing health care and focus on how such ways of knowing limit our understandings of and responses to health care problems and are linked with the growing commodification individualization and privatization of Canadian health services Working with analytic perspectives such as feminism Marxist political economy critical ethnography science and technology studies governmentality studies and institutional ethnography the volume demonstrates how critical social science perspectives contribute alternative perspectives about what counts as health care problems and how to best to address them Making It Better Lorraine

Greaves ,Ann Pederson ,Nancy Poole ,2014 In this innovative collection leading thinkers in clinical medicine sociology epidemiology kinesiology education and public policy reveal how health promotion is failing communities by failing women Despite a longstanding consensus that social inequalities shape global patterns of illness and opportunities for health mainstream health promotion frameworks continue to ignore gender at relational household community and state levels Exploring the ways in which gendered norms affect health and social equity for all human beings Making It Better invites us to rethink conventional approaches to health promotion and to strive for transformative initiatives and policies Offering practical tools and evidence based strategies for moving from gender integration to gender transformation this anthology is required reading for policymakers health promotion and healthcare practitioners researchers community developers and social service providers

Armstrong, Hugh Armstrong, 2019-09-25 Nursing homes are where some of the most vulnerable live and work In too many homes the conditions of work make it difficult to make care as good as it can be For the last eight years an international team from Germany Sweden Norway the UK the US and Canada have been searching for promising practices that treat residents families and staff with dignity and respect in ways that can also bring joy While we did find ideas worth sharing we also saw a disturbing trend toward privatization Privatization is the process of moving away not only from public delivery and public payment for health services but also from a commitment to shared responsibility democratic decision making and the idea that the public sector operates according to a logic of service to all This book documents moves toward privatization in the six countries and their consequences for families staff residents and eventually us all None of the countries has escaped pressure from powerful forces in and outside government pushing for privatization in all its forms However the wide variations in the extent and nature of privatization indicate privatization is not inevitable and our research shows there are alternatives

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research David Coghlan, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2014-08-11 Action research is a term used to describe a family of related approaches that integrate theory and action with a goal of addressing important organizational community and social issues together with those who experience them It focuses on the creation of areas for collaborative learning and the design enactment and evaluation of liberating actions through combining action and research reflection and action in an ongoing cycle of cogenerative knowledge While the roots of these methodologies go back to the 1940s there has been a dramatic increase in research output and adoption in university curricula over the past decade This is now an area of high popularity among academics and researchers from various fields especially business and organization studies education health care nursing development studies and social and community work The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research brings together the many strands of action research and addresses the interplay between these disciplines by presenting a state of the art overview and comprehensive breakdown of the key tenets and methods of action research as well as detailing the work of key theorists and contributors to action research
