Womens Work The First 20 000 Years Women Cloth And Society In Early Times:

Womens Work E. J. W. Barber, 1994 The author presents the previously untold human side of the story of prehistoric textiles the relations of women and their textile work to society and economics over the huge span of prehistoric and early historic times Women's Work Elizabeth Jane Wayland Barber (Linguistin, Archäologin, USA), 1995 Women's Work: The First 20,000 Years Women, Cloth, and Society in Early Times Elizabeth Wayland Barber, 1995-09-17 A fascinating history of a craft that preceded and made possible civilization itself New York Times Book Review New discoveries about the textile arts reveal women s unexpectedly influential role in ancient societies Twenty thousand years ago women were making and wearing the first clothing created from spun fibers In fact right up to the Industrial Revolution the fiber arts were an enormous economic force belonging primarily to women Despite the great toil required in making cloth and clothing most books on ancient history and economics have no information on them Much of this gap results from the extreme perishability of what women produced but it seems clear that until now descriptions of prehistoric and early historic cultures have omitted virtually half the picture Elizabeth Wayland Barber has drawn from data gathered by the most sophisticated new archaeological methods methods she herself helped to fashion In a brilliantly original book Katha Pollitt Washington Post Book World she argues that women were a powerful economic force in the ancient world with their own industry fabric

Women's Work Elizabeth J. W. Barber, 1994 The Role of Women in Work and Society in the Ancient Near East Brigitte Lion, Cécile Michel, 2016-09-12 Economic history is well documented in Assyriology thanks to the preservation of dozens of thousands of clay tablets recording administrative operations contracts and acts dealing with family law Despite these voluminous sources the topic of work and the contribution of women have rarely been addressed This book examines occupations involving women over the course of three millennia of Near Eastern history It presents the various aspects of women as economic agents inside and outside of the family structure Inside the family women were the main actors in the production of goods necessary for everyday life In some instances their activities exceeded the simple needs of the household and were integrated within the production of large organizations or commercial channels The contributions presented in this volume are representative enough to address issues in various domains social economic religious etc from varied points of view archaeological historical sociological anthropological and with a gender perspective This book will be a useful tool for historians anthropologists archaeologists and graduate students interested in the economy of the ancient Near East and in women and gender studies All That She Carried Tiya Miles, 2022-02-01 NATIONAL BOOK AWARD WINNER NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A renowned historian traces the life of a single object handed down through three generations of Black women to craft a deeply layered and insightful The Washington Post testament to people who are left out of the archives WINNER Frederick Douglass Book Prize Harriet Tubman Prize PEN John Kenneth Galbraith Award Anisfield Wolf Book Award Ralph Waldo Emerson Prize Lawrence W Levine Award Darlene Clark Hine Award Cundill History Prize Joan Kelly

 Vulture Publishers Weekly A history told with brilliance and tenderness and fearlessness Jill Lepore author of These Truths A History of the United States In 1850s South Carolina an enslaved woman named Rose faced a crisis the imminent sale of her daughter Ashley Thinking quickly she packed a cotton bag for her with a few items and soon after the nine year old girl was separated from her mother and sold Decades later Ashley's granddaughter Ruth embroidered this family history on the sack in spare haunting language Historian Tiya Miles carefully traces these women's faint presence in archival records and where archives fall short she turns to objects art and the environment to write a singular history of the experience of slavery and the uncertain freedom afterward in the United States All That She Carried is a poignant story of resilience and love passed down against steep odds It honors the creativity and resourcefulness of people who preserved family ties when official systems refused to do so and it serves as a visionary illustration of how to reconstruct and recount their stories today

 Koefoed, Eva Andersson Strand, 2013-01-11 In the past textile production was a key part of all ancient societies The Ancient Near East stands out in this respect with the overwhelming amount of documentation both in terms of raw materials line of production and the distribution of finished products The thirteen intriguing chapters in Textile Production and Consumption in the Ancient Near East describe the developments and changes from household to standardised industrialised and centralised productions which take place in the region They discuss the economic social and cultural impact of textiles on ancient society through the application of textile tool studies experimental testing context studies and epigraphical as well as iconographical sources Together they demonstrate that the textile industries production technology consumption and innovations are crucial to and therefore provide an in depth view of ancient societies during this period Geographically the
