Yeoh, 2007 Large numbers of women in Asia engage in paid work in many cases outside the home Some of them simply need to support their families Others particularly educated women hope to develop rewarding careers Many of these women also continue to shoulder the home and family responsibilities that social and cultural norms define as their primary concern In an effort to balance the conflicting demands of these roles women in various Asian societies are negotiating contesting and reconfiguring motherhood Back cover The Globalization of Motherhood Wendy Chavkin, Jane Maree Maher, 2010-09-13 Brings together research from the Global North and the Global South to illuminate how contemporary motherhood is changed by the processes of globalization

Gender, Emotions and Labour Markets - Asian and Western Perspectives Ann Brooks, Theresa Devasahayam, 2010-12-14 The concept of emotional labour has largely emerged from the analysis of organizations in the West However little has been written about the issue of what defines emotional labour and how it is configured in different cultural contexts This book addresses this gap in the literature and considers how and in what ways emotional labour characterises formal and informal work environments in Southeast Asia Family Ambiguity and Domestic Violence in Asia Maznah Mohamad, Saskia Wieringa, 2013 Domestic violence in Asia is explored in this analysis through questions of family ambiguity and the relationship between concept law and strategy Comparative experiences in the Asian context enable an examination of the effectiveness of family regulations and laws in diverse national cultural and religious settings Key questions relate to the limits and relevance of the human rights discourse in resolving family conflicts the extent to which power and control in intimate relationships can actually be regulated by a set of inanimate homogeneous and uniform policies and legislations and how the state relates to the family as an ambiguous unit given state rules of governance that perpetuate unequal gender relations Carefully considering the many components of domestic violence such as state intervention versus the private domain and differences in legislation across Asia the book offers new theoretical insights to the conceptualization of the family culture and law and provides reasoned new perspectives on the effectiveness or inadequacy of present policies and enforcement strategies against domestic violence in Asia Asian Migrations Tony Fielding, 2015-07-16 This textbook describes and explains the complex reality of contemporary internal and international migrations in East Asia Taking an interdisciplinary approach Tony Fielding combines theoretical debate and detailed empirical analysis to provide students with an understanding of the causes and consequences of the many types of contemporary migration flows in the region Key features of Asian Migrations Comprehensive coverage of all forms of migration including labour migration student migration marriage migration displacement and human trafficking Text boxes containing key concepts and theories More than 30 maps and diagrams Equal attention devoted to broad structures e g political economy and individual agency e g migration behaviours Emphasis on the conceptual and empirical connections between internal and international migrations Exploration

Devasahayam,2018-11-01 This book aims to contribute to the discourse on women and politics in Southeast Asia The chapters covering Indonesia Myanmar the Philippines Timor Leste and Singapore analyse the asymmetrical power relationships between the sexes and how power differentials between men and women play out in the realm of politics are a reflection of the power contestations women face with men in other spheres of everyday life Each chapter seeks to ask a different question in terms of where women viz men stand in the political landscape of their countries in an effort to answer the question of Where are the women in the gender trope in Asian politics While the chapters are primarily empirical as they delve into the challenges contradictions and conflicts Southeast Asian women encounter the main assertion is that womens struggles in the realm of politics are a result of having to operate within power structures created principally by men thereby producing barriers for women to enter politics on the one hand and to increase their numbers and widen their sphere of influence on the other Recognizing that Asian politics is dominated by men the question of how women have negotiated a value system that is inherently male centred and male controlled is also discussed The implicit narrative demonstrated in this book is that the political arena should not be considered in isolation from other arenas but instead is essentially a mirror of other arenas whether the home workplace nation and or global spaces each marked by power contestations between men and women and having a spill over effect on the other as well as shaping womens experiences in the political realm

Gender Trends in Southeast Asia Theresa W. Devasahayam,2009 As a region Southeast Asia has undergone enormous economic and social changes in the last few decades Women as a collective have seen their lives transformed as a result of rapid development and economic growth In exploring the progress made by Southeast Asian men and women this book seeks to answer the following questions a In what areas have women been able to achieve parity with men b In what areas do women encounter specific disadvantages based on their gender as compared with men and c How have womens concerns and problems been addressed by the governments in this region with the aim of encouraging gender equality As the title of this book suggests the chapters provide an analysis of the broad trends including changes and continuities in the experiences interests and concerns of Southeast Asian women The chapters examine the trends related to women in the following arenas the family economic participation politics health and religion In some arenas the trends reflect the disadvantages women face which in turn have led to gender gaps in other areas women s progress has been found to eclipse that of the men although this tends to be the exception Asian Cities, Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces Tai-Chee Wong,Jonathan Rigg,2010-09-13 This book explores how migration plays a central role in the renewing and reworking of urban spaces in the rapidly changing cities of Asia The contributors examine the roles and effects of different forms of migration in the arena of urban change considering low skilled domestic migrants professional transnational migrant and legal and illegal international migrants Women Migrant Workers Zahra Meghani,2015-10-05 This volume makes the case for the fair treatment of female migrant workers from the global South who are employed in wealthy liberal democracies as care workers domestic workers home health workers and farm workers An international panel of contributors provide analyses of the ethical political and legal harms suffered by female migrant workers based on empirical data and case studies along with original and sophisticated analyses of the complex of systemic structural factors responsible for the harms experienced by women migrant workers The book also proposes realistic and original solutions to the problem of the unjust treatment of women migrant workers such as social security systems that are transnational and tailored to meet the particular needs of different groups of international migrant workers Vietnam's Socialist Servants Minh T. N. Nguyen,2014-08-27 Since Vietnam introduced economic reforms in the mid 1980s domestic service has become an established sector of the labour market and domestic workers have become indispensable to urban life in the rapidly changing country This book analyzes the ways in which the practices and discourses of domestic service serve to forge and contest emerging class identities in post reform Vietnam Drawing on a rich and diverse range of qualitative data including ethnographies interviews and narratives it shows that such practices and discourses are rooted in cultural notions of gender and rural urban difference and enduring socialist structures of feeling which in turn clash with the realities of growing differentiation Domestic workers experiences reveal negotiations with class boundaries actively set by the urban middle class who seek distinction through emerging notions and practices of domesticity These boundaries are nevertheless riddled with gender and class anxiety on the side of the latter partly because of the very struggles and contestations of the domestic workers More broadly Minh T N Nguyen links the often invisible intimate dynamics of class formation in the domestic sphere with wider political economic processes in a post socialist country embarking on marketization while retaining the political control of a party state As a pioneering ethnographic study of domestic service in Vietnam today this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian culture society social anthropology gender studies human geography and development studies

Migration, Work and Home-Making in the City Annabelle Wilkins, 2019-04-30 This book explores the relationships between home work and migration among Vietnamese people in East London demonstrating the diversity of home making practices and forms of belonging in relation to the dwelling workplace and wider city Engaging with wider scholarship on transnationalism urban mobilities and the geopolitical dimensions of home among migrants and diasporic communities the author draws on ethnographic work to examine the experiences of people who migrated from Vietnam to London at different times and in diverse circumstances including individuals who arrived as refugees in the 1970s as well as those who have migrated for work or education in recent years Migration Work and Home Making in the City thus sheds new light on the social material and spiritual practices through which people create senses of home that connect them with their country of origin and reveals how home making is constrained by immigration policies insecure housing and precarious work thus highlighting the barriers to belonging in the city
