Assessment in Residential Care for Children and Youth Roy Rodenhiser, 2013-09-13 Residential treatment for children and youth RTCY programs not only need to be explored for the efficacy of the programs but also in the actual assessment of various aspects of those programs Assessment in Residential Care for Children and Youth provides practical information on the placement of children in residential care programs the efficacy of those programs staff issues and outcomes for youths in the programs Respected authorities examine issues on assessment upon entering residential care treatment issues during care and programmatic concerns from a larger systems perspective Unlike other resources on this topic this book uniquely focuses solely on assessment The book comprehensively offers strategies and practical assessment tools addressing the full spectrum of issues from the child's or youth's entrance in residential care to their exit such as placement treatment and outcomes. This valuable text is extensively referenced and includes helpful figures and tables to clearly present data. Topics discussed include assessment processes and tools to enhance therapeutic childcare interventions, the unique needs of GBL youth in residential care settings, a strengths-based assessment tool developed specifically for use in juvenile justice programs, staff satisfaction rates as compared to client satisfaction, development of the Staff Implementation Observation Form that assesses staff competence delivering an intervention to youth in group home care with behavioral disorders, differences in two residential care giving models in providing continuity of care for youth in residential placement, an assessment technique that uses the point of view of children. This book is a valuable resource for Residential Administrators, program directors and coordinators, counselors and staff who have a role in assessing residential treatment programs for children and youth at any level. This book was published as a special issue of Residential Treatment for Children and Youth. Therapeutic Residential Care for Children and Youth James K. Whittaker, Jorge Fernandez del Valle, Lisa Holmes, 2014-09-21. Definitive and wide-ranging, this international review of therapeutic residential child care covers the latest research on how it works, how much it costs, compared with the outcomes it delivers, and how to deliver this effective form of care for the most troubled children in public care.

The Quality of Life in Youth Services Scale (QOLYSS) Chris Swerts, 2022-12-14. Individual quality of life has been widely used as a frame of reference guiding service provision in social and health services as well as a critical objective or outcome of these services. Yet the topic of quality of life in the context of child and youth care remains a relatively uncharted territory. This dissertation is based on a practice-oriented project that focuses on bridging the gap between research and practice on the topic of quality of life of adolescents in youth care. This work concentrates on the development, validation, and application of a new self-report tool grounded in youngsters' experiences and perceptions to methodically and systematically assess the quality of life of adolescents in youth care from their own perspectives. The Quality of Life in Youth Services Scale (QOLYSS). The QOLYSS aims to help understand how youngsters perceive, evaluate, and make sense of varying discrete aspects and circumstances of their lives. This line of work offers valuable insights to develop person-centered planning and implement individualized support tailored to youngsters' characteristics, perceptions of life, wishes, and expectations. It further helps unveil critical opportunities and barriers regarding a life of quality on the different layers of everyday life of youngsters. The work presented here provides a concrete tool and a number of cross-cutting implications for research, practice, and policy when aiming to build quality of life-enhancing environments for youngsters in youth care that help them reclaim ownership of their lives and care pathways.
