The World We Have Lost Peter Laslett, 1971 The World We Have Lost Peter Laslett, 1999 This updated re issue of the third edition has been able to take account of the enormous amount of research which has been published since the last and Peter Laslett draws a detailed picture and reaches fuller conclusions Knowledge and Practice in English

Medicine, 1550-1680 Andrew Wear, 2000-11-16 This is a major synthesis of the knowledge and practice of early modern English medicine in its social and cultural contexts The book vividly maps out some central areas remedies and how they were made credible notions of disease advice on preventive medicine and on healthy living and how surgeons worked upon the body and their understanding of what they were doing The structures of practice and knowledge examined in the first part of the book came to be challenged in the later seventeenth century when the new science began to overturn the foundation of established knowledge However as the second part of the book shows traditional medical practice was so well entrenched in English culture that much of it continued into the eighteenth century Various changes did however occur which set the agenda for later medical treatment and which are discussed in the final chapter The Oxford Handbook of Daniel Defoe , 2023-11-23 The Oxford Handbook of Daniel Defoe is the most comprehensive overview available of the author's life times writings and reception Daniel Defoe 1660 1731 is a major author in world literature renowned for a succession of novels including Robinson Crusoe Moll Flanders and A Journal of the Plague Year but more famous in his lifetime as a poet journalist and political agent Across his vast oeuvre which includes books pamphlets and periodicals Defoe commented on virtually every development and issue of his lifetime a turbulent and transformative period in British and global history Defoe has proven challenging to position in some respects he is a traditional and conservative thinker but in other ways he is a progressive and innovative writer He therefore benefits from the range of critical appraisals offered in this Handbook The Handbook ranges from concerns of gender class and race to those of politics religion and economics In accessible but learned chapters contributors explore salient contexts in ways that show how they overlap and intersect such as in chapters on science environment and empire The Handbook provides both a thorough introduction to Defoe and to early eighteenth century society culture and literature more broadly Thirty six chapters by leading literary scholars and historians explore the various genres in which Defoe wrote the sociocultural contexts that inform his works his writings on different locales from the local to the global and the posthumous reception and creative responses to his works Democratic Justice and the Social Contract Albert Weale, 2013-08-15 The book offers a novel and original synthesis of work in modern political theory and in political science and political economy to offer a theory of democratic justice considering society as a social contract

World We Have Lost Laslett, 1966 The Church of Ireland in Victorian Dublin John Crawford, 2005 The Church of Ireland has received a considerable amount of attention recently from nineteenth century historians but few have looked at it from the perspective of the local community as has been the case with recent work by historians in Britain This study of the church in Victorian Dublin begins with a survey of the development of the parishes and the building of churches It examines the devotional life and pastoral concerns of the laity and the clergy and their changing roles An analysis of churchgoing trends is included and comparison is made with trends in England and Scotland The study includes developments in church architecture the layout of church buildings and the content of church services This is set in the context of the demographic changes and the overall decline in the church s population in Dublin While the study addresses the religious rivalry which existed between Catholics and Protestants it also includes consideration of the laity s role in the management of the day to day life of the local church community The social and educational backgrounds of the clergy are discussed and an account is given of their training and the changing process by which they were appointed to parishes The study suggests that trends in the Church of Ireland in Dublin at the time were not dissimilar to the Church of England and both churches experienced a religious boom in the period However disestablishment in 1870 and the church s minority status gave the Church of Ireland a distinctive social and religious flavour Democracy in Crisis? A. H. Halsey, Roy Hattersley, 2007 Posits the theory that democracy ethical as well as Marxist is in crisis threatened by the remorseless re penetration of the public sector by market and quasi market principles Can the tide be turned This book aims to provide food for thought for those interested in the fundamental problems facing the world in the twenty first century America and Its Peoples James Kirby Martin, 1997 Aftermath of the Civil War America emerges as an economic power Rise of an urban society and city people Imperial America 1870 1900 Struggle for change 1900 1917 Roosevelt Taft and Wilson Involvement in World War I The Great Crash Ku Klux Klan Emergence of modern American culture Effects of the Great Depression New Deal Diplomacy between the wars War in the Pacific World War II and America s involvement Vietnam Struggle for racial justice Women s liberation The Reagan administration President Bush Immigrants and immigration Progressives T Roosevelt J D Rockefeller Hester Street Nativism or anti immigration backlash Unions The Cold War including Berlin Airlift Containment policy Cuba Eisenhower Nixon Reagan Vietnam Origins end of the Cold War Rural Housing, an Historical Approach Robert Machin, 1994 Derry and Londonderry Gerard O'Brien, 1999 Oral History and the Local Historian Stephen Counce, 1994 In this text Dr Counce draws upon his experiences as a researcher writer museums officer and university teacher to illustrate the potential of the
