Theorising Media And Practice Anthropology Of Media:

Theorising Media and Practice Birgit Bräuchler, John Postill, 2010-11-01 Although practice theory has been a mainstay of social theory for nearly three decades so far it has had very limited impact on media studies This book draws on the work of practice theorists such as Wittgenstein Foucault Bourdieu Barth and Schatzki and rethinks the study of media from the perspective of practice theory Drawing on ethnographic case studies from places such as Zambia India Hong Kong the United States Britain Norway and Denmark the contributors address a number of important themes media as practice the interlinkage between media culture and practice the contextual study of media practices and new practices of digital production Collectively these chapters make a strong case for the importance of theorising the relationship between media and practice and thereby adding practice theory as a new strand to the study of anthropology of media Theorising

Media and Conflict Philipp Budka, Birgit Bräuchler, 2020-04-09 Theorising Media and Conflict brings together anthropologists as well as media and communication scholars to collectively address the elusive and complex relationship between media and conflict Through epistemological and methodological reflections and the analyses of various case studies from around the globe this volume provides evidence for the co constitutiveness of media and conflict and contributes to their consolidation as a distinct area of scholarship Practitioners policymakers students and scholars who wish to understand the lived realities and dynamics of contemporary conflicts will find this book invaluable Food and Media Jonatan

Leer, Karen Klitgaard Povlsen, 2016-06-17 Food is everywhere in contemporary mediascapes as witnessed by the increase in cookbooks food magazines television cookery shows online blogs recipes news items and social media posts about food This mediatization of food means that the media often interplays between food consumption and everyday practices between private and political matters and between individuals groups and societies This volume argues that contemporary food studies need to pay more attention to the significance of media in relation to how we do food Understanding food media is particularly central to the diverse contemporary social and cultural practices of food where media use plays an increasingly important but also differentiated and differentiating role in both large scale decisions and most people s everyday practices The contributions in this book offer critical studies of food media discourses and of media users interpretations negotiations and uses that construct places and spaces as well as possible identities and everyday practices of sameness or otherness that might form new or renew old food politics Everyday Media Culture in Africa Wendy Willems, Winston

Mano, 2016-11-10 African audiences and users are rapidly gaining in importance and increasingly targeted by global media companies social media platforms and mobile phone operators This is the first edited volume that addresses the everyday lived experiences of Africans in their interaction with different kinds of media old and new state and private elite and popular global and national material and virtual So far the bulk of academic research on media and communication in Africa has studied media through the lens of media state relations thereby adopting liberal democracy as the normative ideal and examining the potential contribution of African media to development and democratization Focusing instead on everyday media culture in a range of African countries this volume contributes to the broader project of provincializing and decolonizing audience and internet studies

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Citizen Media Mona Baker,Bolette B. Blaagaard, Henry Jones, Luis Pérez-González, 2020-10-21 This is the first authoritative reference work to map the multifaceted and vibrant site of citizen media research and practice incorporating insights from across a wide range of scholarly areas Citizen media is a fast evolving terrain that cuts across a variety of disciplines It explores the physical artefacts digital content performative interventions practices and discursive expressions of affective sociality that ordinary citizens produce as they participate in public life to effect aesthetic or socio political change The seventy seven entries featured in this pioneering resource provide a rigorous overview of extant scholarship deliver a robust critique of key research themes and anticipate new directions for research on a variety of topics Cross references and recommended reading suggestions are included at the end of each entry to allow scholars from different disciplinary backgrounds to identify relevant connections across diverse areas of citizen media scholarship and explore further avenues of research Featuring contributions by leading scholars and supported by an international panel of consultant editors the Encyclopedia is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as researchers in media studies social movement studies performance studies political science and a variety of other disciplines across the humanities and social sciences It will also be of interest to non academics involved in activist movements and those working to effect change in various areas of social life

Media Practices and Changing African Socialities Jo Helle-Valle, Ardis Storm-Mathisen, 2020-03-01 Deriving from innovative new work by six researchers this book questions what the new media s role is in contemporary Africa The chapters are diverse covering different areas of sociality in different countries but they unite in their methodological and analytical foundation The focus is on media related practices which require engagement with different perspectives and concerns while situating these in a wider analytical context The contributions to this collection provide fresh ethnographic descriptions of how new media practices can affect socialities in significant but unpredictable ways

Citizen Media and Practice Hilde Stephansen, Emiliano Treré, 2019-10-28 This groundbreaking collection advances understanding of the concept of media practices by critically interrogating its relevance for the study of citizen and activist media Media as practice has emerged as a powerful approach to understanding the media s significance in contemporary society Bringing together contributions from leading scholars in sociology media and communication social movement and critical data studies this book stimulates dialogue across previously separate traditions of research on citizen and activist media practices and stakes out future directions for research in this burgeoning interdisciplinary field Framed by a foreword by Nick Couldry and a substantial introductory chapter by the editors contributions to the volume trace the roots and appropriations of the concept of media practice in Latin American communication theory reflect on the relationship between activist agency and technological affordances explore the relevance of the media practice approach for the study of media activism including activism that takes media as its central object of struggle and demonstrate the significance of the media practice approach for understanding processes of mediatization and datafication Offering both a comprehensive introduction to scholarship on citizen media and practice and a cutting edge exploration of a novel theoretical framework the book is ideal for students and experienced scholars alike

The Anthropology of News & Journalism S. Elizabeth Bird, 2010 This title explores the role of news and journalism in contemporary culture from an anthropological perspective Essays by leading scholars look at communities of professional and nonprofessional journalists

The Routledge Companion to Media Anthropology Elisabetta Costa, Patricia G. Lange, Nell Haynes, Jolynna Sinanan, 2022-09-30 The Routledge Companion to Media Anthropology provides a broad overview of the widening and flourishing area of media anthropology and outlines key themes debates and emerging directions The Routledge Companion to Media Anthropology draws together the work of scholars from across the globe with rich ethnographic studies that address a wide range of media practices and forms Comprising 41 chapters by a team of international contributors the Companion is divided into three parts Histories Approaches Thematic Considerations The chapters offer wide ranging explorations of how forms of mediation influence communication social relationships cultural practices participation and social change as well as production and access to information and knowledge This volume considers new developments and highlights the ways in which anthropology can contribute to the study of the human condition and the social processes in which media are entangled This is an indispensable teaching resource for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students and an essential text for scholars working across the areas that media anthropology engages with including anthropology sociology media and cultural studies internet and communication studies and science and technology studies Chapters 7 12 and 15 CC BY NC ND and Chapter 6 CC BY ND of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>

Representation, Identity, and Multiculturalism in Sarawak Zawawi Ibrahim, 2008 The characteristics and processes of identity formation and representation have been crucial preoccupations in social science and historical studies of Sarawak and the wider Borneo We have examined Brooke and colonial policies on ethnicity and political party formation state federal relations nationalism and ethnicity in the post independence period We have considered inter ethnic relations and the encounters between minorities and the state in the context of development and socio economic change However Professor Zawawi's book demonstrates that in spite of this level of interest and activity there is still much to do We have tended to concentrate on particular groups at the expense of others Detailed studies of the Bidayus and Malays for example are few We still know very little about ethnic relations in urban settings and the politics of identity in relation to tourism development We need to explore much more thoroughly the interrelationships between ethnicity and other principles of social organisation including class gender and patron clientage

the contexts in which audio visual production takes place the language of visual production the relationship between production consumption and texts institutional and industrial structures and historical contexts Localizing the Internet John Postill,2011-08-01 Internet activism is playing a crucial role in the democratic reform happening across many parts of Southeast Asia Focusing on Subang Jaya a suburb of Kuala Lumpur this study offers an in depth examination of the workings of the Internet at the local level In fact Subang Jaya is regarded as Malaysia s electronic governance laboratory The author explores its field of residential affairs a digitally mediated social field in which residents civil servants politicians online journalists and other social agents struggle over how the locality is to be governed at the dawn of the Information Era Drawing on the field theories of both Pierre Bourdieu and the Manchester School of political anthropology this study challenges the unquestioned predominance of network and community as the two key sociation concepts in contemporary Internet studies The analysis extends field theory in four new directions namely the complex articulations between personal networking and social fields the uneven diffusion and circulation of new field technologies and contents intra and inter field political crises and the emergence of new forms of residential sociality International Review for the Sociology of Sport ,2008-12 Directory of Postgraduate Studies 2002 Hobsons Publishing, PLC,2001 The Anthropology of Digital Practices John Postill,2024-03-29 The Anthropology of Digital Practices connects for the first time three distinct research areas digital ethnography causal ethnography and media practice theory to explore how we might track the effects of new media practices in a digital world It invites media and communication students and scholars to overcome the field s old aversion to media effects and explores the messy complex open ended effects of new media practices in a digital age Based on long term ethnographic research and drawing from recent advances in the study of causality and ethnography this book tells the formation story of the anti woke movement through a series of critical media events It argues that digital media practices e g podcasting YouTubing tweeting commenting broadcasting will have formative effects on an emerging social world at different points in time One important task of the digital ethnographer is precisely to distinguish between the formative and non formative effects of specific media practices This book makes three contributions to our understanding of media practices in the digital era namely a theoretical methodological and empirical contribution Theoretically it furthers the practice turn in media and communication studies by engaging with the latest thinking on causality and ethnography Methodologically it serves as a compelling up to date guide to doing digital ethnography with special reference to the study of digitally mediated practices Empirically it is the first book length study of the anti woke movement a major actor in the culture wars currently being fought across the Western world With its accessible language and rich case studies The Anthropology of Digital Practices will make an ideal supplementary textbook for a range of undergraduate and graduate courses in research methods digital ethnography anthropology and digital activism Which Degree Guide ,2001 Proceedings New Zealand Geographical Society. Conference,1999 Construction of the Viewer Peter Ian

Crawford, Sigurjón Baldur Hafsteinsson, 1996 In this volume containing both general theoretical work and more specific case studies the ethnographers and cinema specialists exchange concepts and ideas for the first time a substantial contribution to our understanding of audiences Anthropology and Cultural Studies Stephen Nugent, Cris Shore, 1997-10-20 The contributors chart a new agenda for anthropology in an increasingly shared terrain of globally interacting cultures and identities
