This Incomparable Land A Guide To American Nature Writing:

This Incomparable Land Thomas Jefferson Lyon, 2001 Nature writing is essential to awakening an ecological way of seeing The author covers the full spectrum of the genre including field guides travel and adventure stories and essays on solitary and back country living This new edition contains an updated bibliography of primary and secondary sources in nature writing through the end of the 20th century

The Oxford Handbook of Ecocriticism Greg Garrard, 2014-07-03 The Oxford Handbook of Ecocriticism provides a broad survey of the longstanding relationship between literature and the environment The moment for such an offering is opportune in many respects multiple environmental crises are increasingly inescapable at both transnational and local levels the role of the humanities in addition to technology and politics is increasingly recognized as central for exploring and finding solutions and the subject of ecocriticism has reached a kind of critical mass both within its Anglo American heartlands and beyond From its origins in the study of American Nature Writing and British Romanticism ecocriticism has developed along numerous theoretical historical cultural and geographical axes the most contemporary and exciting of which will be represented in the Handbook The contributors include eminent founders of the field including Michael Branch and Richard Kerridge a number of key second wave ecocritics and the best up and coming scholars Topics covered include Renaissance anxieties about nature the challenges of representing climate change the racialization of the environment in the early 20th century language and the concept of biosemiotics and the possibilities for environmental humour

Rachel Carson Karen F. Stein, 2013-02-11 Karen F Stein University of Rhode Island Kingston USA Rachel Carson is the twentieth century's most significant environmentalist Her books about the sea blend science and poetry as they invite readers to share her celebration of the ocean's wonders Silent Spring her graphic and compelling exposé of the damage caused by the widespread aerial spraying of persistent organic pesticides such as DDT opened our eyes to the interconnectedness of all living beings and the ecological systems we inhabit Carson's work challenges our belief that science and technology can control the natural world asks us to recognize our place in the world around us and inspires us to treat the earth respectfully She calls us to rekindle our sense of wonder at nature's power and beauty and to tread lightly on the earth so that it will continue to sustain us and our descendants This book guides readers on a journey through Carson's life and work considers Carson's legacies and points to some of the continuing challenges to sustainability It provides a listing of resources for reading learning or teaching about the environment about nature writing and about Carson and the crucial issues she addressed

Exchanges between Literature and Science from the 1800s to the 2000s Márcia Lemos, 2017-03-07 This collection of essays responds to the intense interest that the relations between the discourses of literature and other cultural practices and those of science have obtained throughout various fields of study Spanning a period between the mid nineteenth century and the twenty first century the work collected here is firmly focused on the cultural significance of scientific discoveries and practices and especially on the manifold representations of science and scientists in literature and the arts Its four sections develop from an initial moment of dwindling indefiniteness of borders between literature and the sciences to the historical perception of an increasing divide between the two cultures to use C P Snow s influential expression as well as calls for a form of convergence or consilience in Edward Wilson s words The final section turns to the medical sciences a porous scientific discipline in relation to the humanities which suggests that consilience can already be found partially in specific areas As such this collection contributes towards critically extending that integration through the discussion of key literary representations of science its promises and its problems

The Nature Essay Simone Schröder, 2019-01-04 The Nature Essay Ecocritical Explorations is the first extended study of a powerful literary form born out of the traditions of Enlightenment and Romanticism It traces the varied stylistic paradigms of the nature essay down to the present day Reading essays as platforms for ecological discourse the book analyses canonical and marginalised texts mainly from German English and American literature Simone Schröder argues that the essay s environmental impact is rooted in its negotiation of scientific poetic spiritual and ethical modes of perceiving nature Together the chapters on these four aspects form a historical panorama of the nature essay as a genre that continues to flourish in our time of ecological crisis Authors discussed include Alexander von Humboldt Henry David Thoreau Virginia Woolf Robert Musil Ernst Jünger W G Sebald Kathleen Jamie and David Foster Wallace

Teaching North American Environmental Literature Laird Christensen, Mark C. Long, Frederick O. Waage, 2008 From stories about Los Angeles freeways to slave narratives to science fiction environmental literature encompasses more than nature writing The study of environmental narrative has flourished since the MLA published Teaching Environmental Literature in 1985 Today writers evince a self-consciousness about writing in the genre teachers have incorporated field study into courses technology has opened up classroom possibilities and institutions have developed to support study of this vital body of writing The challenge for instructors is to identify core texts while maintaining the field's dynamic open qualities The essays in this volume focus on North American environmental writing presenting teachers with background on environmental justice issues ecocriticism and ecofeminism Contributors consider the various disciplines that have shaped the field including African American American Indian Canadian and Chicana/o literature The interdisciplinary approaches recommended treat the theme of predators in literature ecology and ethics conservation and film A focus on place-based literature explores how students can physically engage with the environment as they study literature The volume closes with an annotated resource guide organized by subject matter

The Future of Nature Barry Holstun Lopez, 2007 A collection of writings by such contributors as Ursula Le Guin David Orr and Mark Dowie evaluates the role of human nature as both a key and obstacle in achieving environmental goals in a volume that explores such topics as America's incarnation society spiritual ecology and the military industrial landscape

The Land's Wild Music Mark Tredinnick, 2005 Profiles of four American writers showing how they interact with the landscapes they live and write in

An American Child Supreme John Treadwell Nichols, 2001 The author of The Milagro Beanfield War and The Sterile Cuckoo presents an impassioned memoir of his journey from child of privilege to author to activist from self-satisfied to outward-seeking belief in liberation ecology Illustrations

The Pine Island Paradox Kathleen Dean Moore, 2004 Award-winning author Kathleen Dean Moore believes we live in a world of islands both real and figurative mapped out by generations of Western philosophers whose mission was it seems to steadfastly remove humans from nature The result is a loneliness that isolates us from ourselves our families and our natural world Through her signature essays Moore maps out a different philosophy about what it means to connect to love and to live in a culture where islands are truly linked beneath the surface

Living with Wildness Bill Sherwonit, 2008 A collection of anecdotes from thirty years of living in the Alaskan wilderness Includes reflections on engaging with nature and finding one's inner wildness

Of Mice and Men Nandita Batra, Vartan P. Messier, 2009 Of Mice and Men Animals in Human Culture is a book-length collection of essays that examines human views of non-human animals The essays are written by scholars from Australia East Asia Europe and the Americas who represent a wide range of disciplines in the Humanities and Social Sciences Addressing topics such as animal rights ecology anthropocentrism feminism animal domestication dietary restrictions and cultural imperialism the book considers local and global issues as well as ancient and contemporary discourses and it will appeal to readers with both general and specialized interests in the role played by animals in human cultures Toward the Livable City Emilie Buchwald, 2003 Inspiring and accessible Toward the Livable City combines firsthand accounts of the attractions and distractions of urban life to show how to create successful cities For city dwellers and commuters urban planners and architects neighborhood groups and activists this book outlines specific strategies for change Fifteen leading thinkers including James Howard Kunstler Jane Holtz Kay Tony Hiss Bill McKibben and Jay Walljasper explore smart growth riverfront redevelopment urban farming pedestrian rights traffic opportunity based housing and suburban vs city living They tell how the mayor of Curitiba Brazil built dedicated busways and closed downtown streets to cars how urban agriculture in vacant lots and backyards in Boston produces 10 000 pounds of vegetables each season and how Minneapolis successfully redeveloped its riverfront among other shining examples Photographs are featured The Wet Collection Joni Tevis, 2007 Joni Tevis's concern is with the precise relationship of components in the world how one element in an environment interacts with others How does the antique taxidermy in a natural science museum relate to the living birds outside the window How do the opals found by campers stored in mineral oil to conserve the water trapped inside relate to the water table My practice is observation How do relationships illuminate Using such models as Joseph Cornell's box constructions crazy quilts and specimen displays Tevis places fragments in relationship to each other in order to puzzle out lost histories particularly those of women Throughout The Wet Collection the narrator navigates the peril and excitement of an outward journey complicated by an inward longing for home Ecology and Literature , 2009 The Colors of Nature Alison Hawthorne Deming, Laurret E. Savoy, 2002 Challenging Euro American ideas of wilderness as absurd the writers in this book reaffirm the importance of nature to cultural identity whether Native American Chicano Mestizo or Hawaiian whether of Japanese Lebanese or African American descent back cover Library Journal , 2001 The Prairie in Her Eyes Ann Daum, 2001 Captures the beauty despair rewards and loneliness of ranching in the modern West
