Threads, Knots, Tapestries Tess Castleman, 2004 This book reveals the way our dreaming expresses and reflects our deep interpersonal and environmental interconnectivity Drawing upon her decades of Jungian analytic practice and many years of pioneering in dream groups Castleman weaves a rich tapestry of dream threads which shows us how we are dreaming with and for each other Her method is that of a storyteller telling the stories of people their dreams the stories of shamans the stories of individuals suffering from cancer love entanglements and most delightfully stories which show how dreams are woven together with communal life in other cultures as well as in our own

Cinderella and Her Sisters - The Envy and the Envy Ann Ulanov, Barry Ulanov, Seated in her nest of ashes Cinderella embodies human misery The essence of inner and outer nobility she is the envy of her cruel stepmother and her ugly sisters Using this familiar story Ann and Barry Ulanov explore the psychological and theological aspects of envy and goodness In their interpretation of the tale they move back and forth between internal and external issues from how feminine and masculine parts of persons fit or do not fit together to how individuals conduct their lives with those of the same and opposite sexes how they conflict compete or join harmoniously The Cinderella tale so simple and so profound offers a direct road into and through the thickets of envying and being envied Envy between sisters between mothers and daughters between the sexes between nations between different parts of our own psyche even of God these are the multiple places of wounding we touch in this book The central role of envy in determining the very nature of our society its politics for example is we think crucial After considering this rarely discussed human emotion the authors focus on the nature of goodness as it surfaces in the envy experience They reflect on its abundance ability to unite disparate parts its abiding presence and its joy then conclude with a glossary of terms and a brief review of the psychological literature on envy
