There are four main chapters in the book: Samadhi Pada, Sadhana Pada, Vibhuti Pada, and Kaivalya Pada. These Padas take us through yogic teachings, some of which include the importance of meditation, ethics, physical postures, ways to increase concentration, attaining liberation of both mind and body through yoga, and ultimately it takes us to the path of self-realization. The book does not only theorize spirituality and yoga but also reinstates its practice in our daily life because philosophy and spirituality are void without practice. There is an in-depth and insightful commentary on each of the chapters. The book elevates our day-to-day life in a kind of a fulfilling manner. In today's world, the significance of this book is highly contextual and can change an individual's perspective towards life.

Has the world qualitatively changed such that the principles of life and the dynamics of consciousness as observed by the seers and teachers of ancient times are no longer relevant? Is modern culture's aim of freedom to pursue desires and experience the world through the senses a sufficient explanation and justification of life? In Sadhana Pada the ageless methods for achieving freedom from desires are presented. These life changing principles and practices are offered here so that they can be tested and experienced in the setting of modern life. The experience of peace that they bring can then be measured against the experience of a life spent fulfilling desires.
