Theological Reflections At The Boundaries:

Theological Reflections at the Boundaries Paul O. Ingram, 2011-11-04 The interdependence of boundary questions and the experience of cognitive dissonance reveal that knowledge in all fields of inquiry is always incomplete and tentative. The issues are particularly acute for Christian theological reflection. Ingram illustrates the importance of boundary questions and cognitive dissonance as a means of creatively transforming contemporary Christian theological reflection through dialogue with the natural sciences and the world's religions, particularly Buddhism, filtered through the lenses of Whiteheadian process philosophy. Theological Reflection and Education for Ministry John E. Paver, 2016-02-17 A major and continuing problem for theological education and the practice of Christian ministry is how to best achieve a genuine integration between theory and practice, theology and experience. The key claim of this book is that theological reflection beginning with experience is a method of integration and that pastoral supervision is a vehicle for theological reflection. In establishing this claim, John Paver demonstrates that the model and method have potential to be a catalyst for reform within theological colleges and seminaries. Three different theological reflection models are developed and critiqued in this book, and their capacity to be developed in particular contexts is explored. This book does not stop at ministry, cultural and personal integration but is bold enough to make recommendations for structural integration within the theological institution. Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals Dale Wright, Maria Antonaccio, 2016-02-17 Contemporary thought is marked by heated debates about the character, purpose and form of religious thinking and its relation to a range of ideals: spiritual, moral, aesthetic, political and ecological, to name the obvious. This book addresses the interrelation between theological thinking and the complex and diverse realms of human ideals. What are the ideals appropriate to our moment in human history and how do these ideals derive from or relate to theological reflection in our time? In Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals, internationally renowned scholars from a range of disciplines—physics, art, literary studies, ethics, comparative religion, history of ideas and theology—engage with these crucial questions with the intention of articulating a new and historically appropriate vision of theological reflection and the pursuit of ideals for our global times. Theological Reflection for Human Flourishing Cameron Helen, 2015-04-21 Practical theology and theological reflection are growing areas of theological studies. This book aims to create a bridge between pastoral practice and public theology. Theological Reflection Edward O. De Bary, 2003 Theological reflection has its roots in the works of Bernard Lonergan, David Tracy, James and Evelyn Whitehead, John de Beer, Patricia Killen, Flower Ross and Charles Winters. It provides a way of learning theology so that participants can develop congruence between life's experience, the world and the Christian faith; the reflective methods are useful educational tools. Other disciplines may find them useful to enhance the way seminars are organized as learning opportunities to discover meaning. Tend My Flock Kate Litchfield, 2013-01-02 A companion and guide for ordained and lay ministers seeking to live their pastoral ministry well amid all the complexities and pressures of contemporary society. It addresses issues which often remain unspoken inviting dialogue reflection honest self examination and the courage to share struggles and dilemmas with others Crossing Boundaries, Building Bridges Lance Richard Barker,1991 Religious and Theological Abstracts ,2007 Discovering Practical Theology Annemie Dillen,Stefan Gärtner,2020 Religion takes different shapes in late modern society Pastoral care church and religion are also in transition Practical theology explores these new challenges This book introduces the readers to the field of this discipline in dialogue with the metaphor of boundaries Theoretical insights in practical theology and its methodology are combined with discussions about specific topics and case studies from the field of pastoral and spiritual care with special attention for Catholic contexts Practical theologians are presented as cross border workers whose work is to reflect on ambiguous places and borderlands in between positions disciplines and fixed identities Specific attention goes to questions on hope and power in relation to pastoral care on chaplaincy in prisons and hospitals on children and theology This book functions also as an introduction to empirical methodologies and hermeneutical theological reflections Women and Theology Mary Ann Hinsdale,Phyllis H.
