Theorizing Social Memories Routledge Sociology:

Theorizing Social Memories Gerd Sebald, Jatin Wagle, 2015-11-19 Public debates over the last two decades about social memories about how as societies we remember make sense of and even imagine and invent our collective pasts suggest that grand narratives have been abandoned for numerous little stories that contest the unified visions of the past But while focusing on the diversity of social remembering these fragmentary accounts have also revealed the fault lines within the theoretical terrain of memory studies This critical anthology seeks to bridge these rifts and breaks within the contemporary theoretical landscape by addressing the pressing issues of social differentiation and forgetting as also the relatively unexplored futuristic aspect of social memories Arranged in four thematic sections which focus on the concepts temporalities functions and contexts of social memories this book includes essays that range across disciplines and present a variety of theoretical approaches from phenomenological sociology and systems theory to biography research and post colonialism

Contextualizing Human Memory Charles Stone, Lucas Bietti, 2015-09-16 This edited collection provides an inter and intra disciplinary discussion of the critical role context plays in how and when individuals and groups remember the past International contributors integrate key research from a range of disciplines including social and cognitive psychology discursive psychology philosophy philosophical psychology and cognitive linguistics to increase awareness of the central role that cultural social and technological contexts play in determining individual and collective recollections at multiple yet interconnected levels of human experience Divided into three parts cognitive and psychological perspectives social and cultural perspectives and cognitive linguistics and philosophical perspectives Stone and Bietti present a breadth of research on memory in context Topics covered include the construction of self identity in memory flashbulb memories scaffolding memory the cultural psychology of remembering social aspects of memory the mnemonic consequences of silence emotion and memory eyewitness identification multimodal communication and collective remembering Contextualizing Human Memory allows researchers to understand the variety of work undertaken in related fields and to appreciate the importance of context in understanding when how and what is remembered at any given recollection The book will appeal to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of cognitive and social psychology as well as those in related disciplines interested in learning more about the advancing field of memory studies

History and Memory in the Dead Sea Scrolls
Travis B. Williams, 2019-05-16 Charts a new methodological course in Dead Sea Scrolls scholarship by employing memory theory to inform historical research This is an instructive resource for scholars who are seeking an alternative to currently constructed approaches to the subject and will be of appeal to those interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls more generally

Soviet and Post-Soviet Lithuania - Generational Experiences Laima Zilinskiene, Melanie Ilic, 2021-12-30 This book explores the impact on different generations of Lithuanians of the fifty year Soviet modernisation project which was implemented in Lithuania from 1940 to 1991 It reveals the specific characteristics of the last Soviet generation born in the 1970s and sets this generation apart from those who were born earlier and later It analyses changes in attitudes choices and relationships in a variety of social spheres and contexts and the adaptation skills which were required during the late Soviet and post Soviet transformation processes Overall it presents a great deal of detail on the social experiences of different generations in late Soviet and post Soviet society Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina

Wagner-Egelhaaf,2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers Memory Politics after Mass Violence Timothy Williams,2025-06-20 This book explores how political actors draw on memories of violent pasts to generate political power and legitimacy in the present Drawing on fieldwork in post violence Cambodia Rwanda and Indonesia the book demonstrates in what way power is derived from how roles are assigned exploring who is deemed a perpetrator victim or hero as well as ambivalences in this memory The author interrogates the ways in which these roles are attributed and ambivalences created in each society s political discourses transitional justice processes and cultural heritage The comparative empirical analysis illustrates the importance of memory for political power and legitimacy today

Interpretive Social Research Gabriele Rosenthal,2018 This volume is a clear introduction to methods of data collection and analysis in the social sciences with a special focus on interpretive methods based on a logic of discovering hypotheses and grounded theories The chief methods presented are participant observation open interviews and biographical case reconstruction The special advantages of interpretive methods as against other qualitative methods are revealed by comparing them to content analysis Empirical examples show how the methods presented can be implemented in practice and concrete problems connected with conducting empirical research are discussed By presenting individual case studies the author shows how to apply the principle of openness when collecting empirical data whether through interviews or observations and she offers rules for analysis based on the principles of reconstruction and sequentiality Israeli and

Palestinian Collective Narratives in Conflict Adi Mana, Anan Srour, 2020-09-16 Examining the social laboratory of the Israeli and Palestinian societies to better understand social conflicts and the construction of diverse and conflicting collective narratives this book gives readers a window into Professor Shifra Sagy's unique approach to intergroup conflicts and peace education With a focus on both theory and practice it describes the model of perceptions of collective narratives that she developed with her colleagues The contributions here offer insight into the intergroup conflicts between Israelis and Palestinians Palestinian Muslims and Christians Jewish National Religious and people of ultra Orthodox faith and Palestinians living in Israel and those living in the West Bank Perceptions of collective narratives help crystallize social identity a sense of community and national coherence and a culture of conflict Often this creates obstacles to peace and conflict resolution This book instead looks at how we can use these constructions to promote reconciliation The Past Can't Heal Us Lea David, 2020-07-16 In this innovative study Lea David critically investigates the relationship between human rights and memory suggesting that instead of understanding human rights in a normative fashion human rights should be treated as an ideology Conceptualizing human rights as an ideology gives us useful theoretical and methodological tools to recognize the real impact human rights has on the ground David traces the rise of the global phenomenon that is the human rights memorialization agenda termed Moral Remembrance and explores what happens once this agenda becomes implemented Based on evidence from the Western Balkans and Israel Palestine she argues that the human rights memorialization agenda does not lead to a better appreciation of human rights but contrary to what would be expected it merely serves to strengthen national sentiments divisions and animosities along ethnic lines and leads to the new forms of societal inequalities that are closely connected to different forms of corruptions Forgetful Remembrance Guy Beiner, 2018 Forgetful Remembrance offers a new approach to the study of memory by focusing on vernacular historiographies and the notion of forgetting Using the 1798 Irish Rebellion Beiner explores how communities try to obscure inconvenient and uncomfortable events from the past The Complexity of Evil Timothy Williams, 2020-12-18 Why do people participate in genocide The Complexity of Evil responds to this fundamental question by drawing on political science sociology criminology anthropology social psychology and history to develop a model which can explain perpetration across various different cases Focusing in particular on the Holocaust the 1994 genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda and the Khmer Rouge genocide in Cambodia The Complexity of Evil model draws on systematically sorts and causally orders a wealth of scholarly literature and supplements it with original field research data from interviews with former members of the Khmer Rouge The model is systematic and abstract as well as empirically grounded providing a tool for understanding the micro foundations of various cases of genocide Ultimately this model highlights that the motivations for perpetrating genocide are both complex in their diversity and banal in their ordinariness and mundanity Download the open access ebook here Class and Stratification Rosemary Crompton, 2015-10-02 Inequality in its many forms is becoming an ever greater problem in modern society The revised edition of this popular book explains why it is so important to understand class and stratification and how the tools used to analyse these divisions can help us to understand and confront problems of inequality This third edition of Class and Stratification has been extensively revised expanded and updated incorporating discussions of contemporary economic and social change It includes discussions of political and economic neoliberalism and its impacts as well as developments in social theory such as the emphasis on individualization and the cultural turn New to this edition is a chapter focusing on cultural approaches to class analysis which together with established approaches are used to explore new developments in social mobility educational opportunity and social polarization The book will be essential reading for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students in the social sciences seeking to understand the changing face of social inequality By highlighting the damage increasing inequality is causing to the social fabric the book reveals the important part class continues to play in our lives today

Observing News and Media in a Complex Society Toru Takahashi, 2023-12-11 Exploring the conditions of news reporting in today's information flooded society Observing News and Media in a Complex Society looks into the strands of systems theoretical studies of the mass media journalism and the empirical studies of inter media agenda setting

Journalism is increasingly exposed to diverse perception and facing its selectivity observed by the public Considering this context this book focuses on the movement of solution oriented journalism which seeks a new way to answer the question what is journalism for and invites us to expand our understanding of media's societal role in the societal process of problem solving and meaning construction

Facing Nationalisms in the European Union Józef Niznik, 2022-10-17 Ideological nationalism is rising in most EU countries and threatens the unity of the Union Primarily populist parties use it as a political instrument in their fight for power presenting the European Union as a danger to national identity According to

Eurosceptical politicians the EU imposes European identity instead of a national identity This book argues that not only can those identities coexist but they can also exacerbate each other Instead of rejecting nationalism in general it suggests that the EU should oppose only its ideological forms that lead to xenophobia and hostility toward other nations At the same time the book shows that EU policy should protect and support member states efforts to maintain and preserve their uniqueness and national cultural identity which is threatened not by European integration but by inevitable globalization

Memory, Trauma and World Politics D. Bell, 2006-10-20 Memory Trauma and World Politics focuses on the effect that the memory of traumatic episodes especially war and genocide has on shaping contemporary political identities Theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich this book is an incisive treatment of the ways in which the study of social memory can inform global politics analysis

Urban Neighbourhood Formations Hilal Alkan, Nazan Maksudyan, 2020-03-04 This book examines the formation of urban neighbourhoods in the Middle East Africa and South Asia It departs from neighbourhoods to consider identity coexistence solidarity and violence in relations to a place Urban Neighbourhood Formations revolves around three major aspects of making and unmaking of neighbourhoods spatial and temporal boundaries of neighbourhoods

neighbourhoods as imagined and narrated entities and neighbourhood as social relations With extensive case studies from Johannesburg to Istanbul and from Jerusalem to Delhi this volume shows how spatial amenities immaterial processes of narrating and dreaming and the lasting effect of intimacies and violence in a neighbourhood are intertwined and negotiated over time in the construction of moral orders urban practices and political identities at large This book offers insights into neighbourhood formations in an age of constant mobility and helps us understand the grassroots level dynamics of xenophobia and hostility as much as welcoming and openness It would be of interest for both academics and more general audiences as well as for students of undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Urban Studies and Anthropology

Journeys of Soviet Things Sudha Rajagopalan, 2023-03-03 At the intersection of cultural history material culture studies memory studies and feminist geopolitics Journeys of Soviet Things is an oral history of socialist globalisation constructed around the journeys of Cold War era Soviet objects in India and Cuba During the Cold War an important means to perpetuate Soviet ideals of modernisation and anti imperialist solidarity across the world was the circulation of banal objects produced in the Soviet Union and purchased awarded and gifted for use in homes across the world Based on oral accounts of Indian and Cuban interlocutors this book examines the itineraries of Soviet objects such as cars washing machines cameras books nesting dolls porcelain and many other things Explored this way the Cold War is a matter of personal affective everyday experience At the same time by indicating the cohabitation of things in their home from around the world interlocutors also go on to undercut simple geopolitical binaries that pit Soviet against American techno politics Accounts of Soviet objects in India and Cuba reveal a bricolage of preferences that crisscrossed ideological dualities of East vs West communist vs capitalist making for an alternative cosmopolitanism that was in equal measure shaped by personal local and national histories and experiences This book will appeal to readers interested in Cold War history the history of transnational solidarities and Soviet material culture

Childhood, Literature and Science Jutta Ahlbeck, Päivi Lappalainen, Kati Launis, Kirsi Tuohela, 2017-11-13 How do we understand imagine and remember childhood In what ways do cultural representations and scientific discourses meet in their ways of portraying children Childhood Literature and Science aims to answer these questions by tracing how images of childhood s and children in Western modernity are entangled with notions of innocence and fragility but also with sin and evilness Indeed this interdisciplinary collection investigates how different child figures emerge or disappear in imaginative and social representations in the memories of adult selves and in expert knowledge Questions about childhood in Western modernity culture and science are also addressed through insightful analysis of a variety of materials from the Enlightenment age to the present day such as fiction life narratives visual images scientific texts and public writings Analysing childhood as a discursive construction Childhood Literature and Science will appeal to scholars as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in fields such as Childhood Studies History Gender Studies Cultural Studies Literature and Sociology of the Family
