Thinking Biblically Exegetical And Hermeneutical Studies:

Thinking Biblically André LaCocque, Paul Ricoeur, 1998 This collaboration sets the words of a distinguished biblical scholar André LaCocque and those of a leading philosopher Paul Ricoeur in dialogue around six crucial passages from the Old Testament the story of Adam and Eve the commandment thou shalt not kill the valley of dry bones passage from Ezekiel Psalm 22 the Song of Songs and the naming of God in Exodus 3 14 Commenting on these texts LaCocque and Ricoeur provide a wealth of new insights into the meaning of the different genres of the Old Testament as these made their way into and were transformed by the New Testament

Furthering Interfaith Biblical Scholarship Doreen McFarlane, 2024-07-05 The legacy of the late André LaCocque is brought to life in this book each chapter having been written by his beloved friends and former students His work has so inspired them that each of the contributor chapters moves LaCocque's work forward in directions of which he surely would have joyfully approved His great love of Jewish Christian relations matters of social justice feminist biblical scholarship and interdisciplinary dialogue are carried forward in the enthusiasm and careful work presented here These offerings in his memory are sure to serve as a jumping off point for further scholarship in each of these areas of interest and blossom in the years ahead

Reading Scripture with Paul Ricoeur Joseph A. Edelheit, James F. Moore, 2021-05-04 Reading Scripture with Paul Ricoeur is a unique volume in which twelve diverse contributors illuminate and analyze Paul Ricoeur's personal religious faith and intellectual passion for Scripture The co editors Joseph A Edelheit and James F Moore each studied with Ricoeur at the Divinity School of the University of Chicago and bring the perspectives of a rabbi and of a Lutheran pastor and theologian respectively This book engages topics such as translation biblical hermeneutics and prophecy as well as specific scriptural passages Cain and Abel the Epistles and a feminist reading of Rahab It provides both students and scholars alike a new resource of reflections using Ricoeur's scholarship to illuminate and model how Ricoeur read and taught Christian Wisdom David F. Ford, 2007-06-07 What is Christian wisdom for living in the twenty first century Where is it to be found How can it be learnt In the midst of diverse religions and worldviews and the demands and complexities of our world David Ford explores a Christian way of uniting love of wisdom with wisdom in love Core elements are the discernment of cries the love of God for God's sake interpretation of scripture and the shaping of desire in faith Case studies deal with inter faith wisdom among Jews Christians and Muslims universities as centres of wisdom as well as knowledge and know how and the challenge of learning disabilities Throughout there is an attempt to do justice to the premodern modern and postmodern while grappling with scripture tradition and the cries of the world today Ford opens up the rich resources of Christianity in engaging with the issues and urgencies of contemporary life

Theology, History, and Biblical Interpretation Darren Sarisky, 2015-01-29 The Christian Bible serves as the sacred scripture of the Christian community It is read regularly by many people around the world today as it has been for centuries But how should one interpret this text This reader presents a variety of perspective on how to relate historical and theological considerations when approaching the Bible It encourages students and scholars to ponder how historical and theological categories shape one's view of three crucial realities the text of the Bible the human subject who reads the text and the nature of the exchange between the two in the practice of reading As historical and theological categories are applied to these realities are they mutually exclusive or can they be combined in some way This reader encourages students and scholars to explore these important questions by bringing together a selection of some of modernity's most influential discussions of the issues as well as some of the present day's most distinguished attempts to weigh in on the debate

The Implicit Theology of the Lord's Prayer Jan Muis, 2021-01-15 The postmodern and secular culture of the West requires a new reflection on God The Implicit Theology of the Lord's Prayer A Biblical and Theological Investigation reflects on God on the basis of an original and central expression of the Christian faith the Lord's Prayer First Jan Muis interprets the divine names central to this prayer in their biblical contexts Next Muis understands the divine attributes implied by these names from the biblical narrative of God's self-revealing actions and explains them in a contemporary framework God's Name indicates his particular personal presence and encounter with human beings The holiness of God's Name and the justice of his Kingship are more than just aspects of the love of the Father the Son and the Spirit The Creator is not a human blown large in his companionship with humans he remains the Exalted who lives both within and beyond created temporal reality In the context of a secular age Muis discusses in what sense this God exists

The Bonds of Freedom Garry Deverell, 2008-12-01 This book proposes that Christian worship is a key source for any theology seeking to understand the covenant between God and human beings in the Christian tradition Through a detailed examination of phenomenological biblical and theological sources the author seeks to write a theology in which the selfhood of both God and human beings is seen as essentially vowed or covenantal This claim is then explored through a detailed examination of Eucharistic worship which is understood as a non-identical performance of the covenant established between God and human beings in baptism Here then is a theology that understands Christian worship not simply as form or event but more radically as a mutual act of promising and commitment between God and human beings

Is there a God of Human Rights? Johannes A. van der Ven, Jaco Dreyer, Hendrik Pieterse, 2005-04-01 This volume deals with historical systematic and empirical questions with regard to the complex relationship between human rights and religion It focuses on the place and function of human rights in democracies in modern society Moreover it elaborates on the problems which are implied in the complex relationship between human rights and religion from the beginning Lastly it investigates the positive negative and ambivalent empirical effects of religious attitudes on human rights attitudes among some youth in South Africa

Paul Ricoeur Between Theology and Philosophy Boyd Blundell, 2010 Introduction Part I The main road Fundamental loyalties Theology hermeneutics and Ricoeur's double life Part II Detour Prefiguration the critical arc and descriptive identity Configuration the narrative arc and narrative identity Refiguration Ricoeur's little ethics Part III Return Chalcedonian

hermeneutics Theological anthropology removing brackets Conclusion Participatory Biblical Exegesis Matthew Levering, 2008 The interpretation of Scripture has depended largely on the view of history held by theologians and exegetes This text examines the changing views of history that distinguish patristic and medieval biblical exegesis from modern historical critical exegesis On Ricoeur Mark Muldoon, 2002 This brief text assists students in understanding Ricoeur's philosophy and thinking so they can more fully engage in useful intelligent class dialogue and improve their understanding of course content Part of the Wadsworth Notes Series which will eventually consist of approximately 100 titles each focusing on a single thinker from ancient times to the present ON RICOEUR is written by a philosopher deeply versed in the philosophy of this key thinker Like other books in the series this concise book offers sufficient insight into the thinking of a notable philosopher better enabling students to engage in reading and to discuss the material in class and on paper Romance, She Wrote Andre LaCocque, 2006-01-01 Due in large measure to its unique literary genre the Song of Songs has been interpreted in diverse ways According to Andr LaCocque this supports the notion that the issue with which any reader of the Song must come to grips is first and foremost a hermeneutical one A Strategy for Reading Biblical Texts Johnson T. K. Lim, 2002 A Strategy of Reading Biblical Texts provides a fresh impetus to the ongoing debate of hermeneutics and methods in biblical scholarship by examining three core hermeneutical strategies These are author oriented text oriented and reader oriented approaches It also critiques the contributions and limitations of each strategy and argues for a hermeneutical strategy that takes into account the micro and macro biblical corpora Readers are challenged to apply basic hermeneutical protocols when reading biblical texts A theological reading of the biblical texts is crucial and vital because the Bible is a theological document This book also addresses some of the pivotal but nagging questions of meaning authority and the reader's context Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association, 1998 List of members in v 1 Creations Sven Rune Havsteen, 2007 The meaning of the noun creation and the verb to create range from the traditional theological idea of God creating ex nihilo to a more recent sense of the process of artistic conception This collection of thirteen essays written by scholars of music literature the visual arts and theology explores the complicated relationship between medieval rituals and theology and the development of an idea of human artistic creation which came to the fore in the sixteenth century The volume concentrates on the period from the Carolingians to the Counter Reformation but also includes some twentieth century musicians Each essay is dedicated to a particular topic concerned with ritual or artistic beginnings inventions harmony and disharmony as well as representations or celebrations of creation Central themes include the interplay of the ideas of God as creator of God acting and recreating in medieval liturgy of God as artist the deus artifex of the Pythagorean cosmology which was occasionally referred to as recently as the early nineteenth century and finally of the homo creator a concept in which man reflected and eventually replaced God in his artistic creativity This book therefore features new significant individual contributions from a range of scholarly disciplines but taken as a whole it also constitutes a complex interdisciplinary study with large scale historical constructions The Future of Law, Religion, and the Family ,2008 The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman,James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham,2004 Elenchus of Biblica ,2005 Original Sin Christophe Boureux, Christoph Theobald,2004 Concilium has long been a household name for cutting edge critical and constructive theological thinking Past contributors include leading Catholic scholars such as Hans K ng Gregory Baum and Edward Schillebeeckx and the editors of the review belong to the international who s who in the world of contemporary theology Published five times a year each issue reflects a deep knowledge and scholarship presented in a highly readable style and each issue offers a wide variety of viewpoints from leading thinkers from all over the world International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,1999
