Three Challenges To Ethics Environmentalism Feminism And Multiculturalism:

Three Challenges to Ethics James P. Sterba, 2001 This book's author argues that traditional ethics has yet to face up to three important challenges that come from environmentalism feminism and multiculturalism This failure to face up to these challenges has meant that no matter how successful traditional ethics has been at dealing with the problems it recognizes it has failed to deal with the possibility that its solutions to these problems are biased in favour of humans biased in favour of men and biased in favour of Western culture Failure to deal with these challenges has clearly put the justification of traditional ethics into question Thus those concerned with the justification of traditional ethics have no alternative but to try to determine how these challenges can be met To meet the challenges Sterba argues that traditional ethics must incorporate conflict resolution principles that favour nonhumans over humans in a significant range of cases must rule out gendered family structures and implement an ideal of androgyny and must endorse an ethics that is secular in character and one that can survive a wide ranging comparative evaluation of both Western and non Western moral ideals and cultures

Environmental Ethics Robin Attfield, 2014-04-03 In this clear concise comprehensively revised and up to date introduction to environmental ethics Robin Attfield guides the student through the key issues and debates in this field in ways that will also be of interest to a wide range of scholars and researchers The book introduces environmental problems and environmental ethics and surveys theories of the sources of the problems Attfield also puts forward his own original contribution to the debates advocating biocentric consequentialism among theories of normative ethics and defending objectivism in meta ethics The possibilities of ethical consumerism and investment are discussed and the nature and basis of responsibilities for future generations in such areas as sustainable development are given detailed consideration Attfield adopts an inclusive cosmopolitan perspective in discussions of global ethics and citizenship and illustrates his argument with a discussion of global warming mitigation adaptation and global justice The revised edition features a new chapter on climate change new treatments of animal issues ecofeminism environmental aesthetics invasion biology and virtue ethics and new applications of the precautionary principle to fisheries genetic engineering and synthetic biology The glossary and bibliography have been updated to assist understanding of these themes The text uses a range of devices to aid understanding such as summaries of key issues and guides to further reading and relevant websites It has been written particularly with a view to the needs of students taking courses in environmental ethics and will be of interest to students and scholars of philosophy ethics geography religion and environmental studies
