Joseph Conrad Jakob Lothe, Jeremy Hawthorn, James Phelan, 2008

1 Joseph Conrad Voice Sequence History Genre 1 that narrative theory and especially some of its more recent developments can help critics generate greater insight into the complexities of Conrad's work and 2 that a rigorous engagement with Conradian narrative can lead theorists to a further honing of their analytical tools More particularly the volume focuses on the four narrative issues identified in the subtitle and it analyzes examples of Conrad's fiction and nonfiction from early work such as An Outcast of the Islands to his late work of reminiscence A Personal Record. The volume also provides multiple perspectives on major works such as Heart of Darkness and Lord Jim; a cluster of three essays on Nostromo and history; and an afterword by the editors that looks ahead to future work on the interrelations of Conrad and narrative theory. It brings together essays by established critics of Conrad and by leading narratologists that explore Conrad's innovative uses of narrative throughout his career. Collectively these explorations by Daphna Erdinast Vulcan, Gail Fincham, Jeremy Hawthorn, Susan Jones, Jakob Lothe, J. Hillis Miller, Zdzisław Najder, Josiane Paccaud, Huguet, James Phelan, Christophe Robin, Allan H. Simmons, and John Stape amply demonstrate.

Life in the Writings of Storm Jameson Elizabeth Maslen, 2014-09-30 Margaret Storm Jameson (1891-1986) is primarily known as a compelling essayist; her stature as a novelist and champion of the dispossessed is largely forgotten. In Life in the Writings of Storm Jameson, Elizabeth Maslen reveals a figure who held her own beside fellow British women writers including Virginia Woolf, anticipated the Angry Young Women such as Doris Lessing, and was an early champion of such European writers as Arthur Koestler and Czesław Miłosz. Jameson was a complex character whose politics were grounded in social justice; she was passionately antifascist; her novel In the Second Year (1936) raised the alarm about Nazism but always wary of communism. An eloquent polemicist, Jameson was president of the British PEN during the 1930s and 1940s of invaluable assistance to refugee writers. Elizabeth Maslen's biography introduces a true twentieth-century hedgehog whose essays and subtly experimental fiction were admired in Europe and the States.

A Joseph Conrad Companion Leonard Orr, Theodore Billy, 1999-07-30 Best known as the author of Heart of Darkness (1899), Joseph Conrad (1857-1924) is one of the most widely taught writers in the English language. In addition to his novels, he wrote several pieces of short fiction, essays, and memoirs. He also wrote numerous letters which help shed light on his troubled life and career. This reference book is a thorough guide to the entire body of his writings and to the experiences that helped generate them. A biographical chapter discusses research on Conrad's life and tells the story of his birth in a Ukrainian area of Poland under Czarist Russian rule, his sea career in France and England, his travels throughout Asia, South America, and Africa, and his maturation as a writer. The chapters that follow are written by expert contributors and explore each of his major works in detail. Other chapters explore his voluminous correspondence, his later novels, his short fiction, and other writings. Thus the volume provides those new to Conrad with essential biographical, bibliographical, and contextual information while it simultaneously offers experienced readers of Conrad new critical perspectives.

The Outside Thing Hannah Roche, 2019-05-28 In a lecture delivered before the University of Oxford's Anglo-French Society in 1936, Gertrude Stein described romance as the outside thing that is always a thing to be felt inside. Hannah Roche takes Stein's definition as a principle for the reinterpretation of three major modernist lesbian writers, showing how literary and affective romance played a crucial yet overlooked role in the works of Stein, Radclyffe Hall, and Djuna Barnes. The Outside Thing offers original readings of both canonical and peripheral texts including Stein's first novel Q E D Things As They Are Hall's Adam's Breed and The Well of Loneliness and Barnes's early writing alongside Nightwood Is there an inside space for lesbian writing or must it always seek refuge elsewhere Crossing established lines of demarcation between the in and the out the real and the romantic and the Victorian and the modernist The Outside Thing presents romance as a heterosexual plot upon which lesbian writers willfully set up camp These writers boldly adopted and adapted the romance genre Roche argues as a means of staking a queer claim on a heteronormative institution Refusing to submit or surrender to the straight traditions of the romance plot they turned the rules to their advantage Drawing upon extensive archival research The Outside Thing is a significant rethinking of the interconnections between queer writing lesbian living and literary modernism Monty Python's Flying Circus Darl Larsen,2008-06-13 In 1969 the BBC aired the first episode of a new comedy series titled Monty Python's Flying Circus and the rest as they say is history An instant success the show ran until 1974 producing a total of 45 episodes Despite the show's very English humor and allusions to many things British the series developed a cult following outside the U K particularly in the United States Known for its outrageous humor occasionally controversial content and often silly spirit Monty Python's Flying Circus poked fun at nearly all institutions domestic or foreign grand or intimate sacred or not Indeed many of the allusions and references in the program were uniquely British and routinely obscure and therefore not always understood or even noticed outside the British Isles This exhaustive reference identifies and explains the plethora of cultural historical and topical allusions of this landmark series In this resource virtually every allusion and reference that appeared in an episode whether stated by a character depicted in the mise en scene or mentioned in the printed scripts is identified and explained Organized chronologically by episode each entry is listed alphabetically indicates what sketch it appeared in and is cross referenced between episodes Entries cover literary and metaphoric allusions symbolisms names peoples and places as well as the myriad social cultural and historical elements photos songs slogans caricatures that populate and inform these episodes Entries Include Arabella Plunkett Group of famous characters from famous paintings Hell's Grannies HRH The Dummy Princess Margaret Kandinsky On the Dad's Liver Bachelors at Large Raymond Baxter type Scun Spanish Inquisition Third Parachute Brigade Amateur Dramatic Society total casectomy Two Sheds Umbonga's hostile opening Vicar sitting thin and unhappy in a pot What's all this then British Book News ,1991 Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007 ,2008-02 Catalog of Reprints in Series Robert Merritt Orton,1956 Three Lives Gertrude Stein,1933 It was not now any longer that she wanted to stay near Mrs Lehntman There was no one now that made anything important but Anna was certain that she did not want to take a place where she would be under some new people No one could ever be for Anna as had been her cherished Miss Mathilda No one could ever again so freely let her do it all Fictions of Power in English Literature Lee Horsley,2016-07-01 As a result of its imperial role Britain was closely involved with such romantic and disruptive myths of power such as the imperial adventure hero and the self deified
