through busy streets and sometimes through the fields and lanes sometimes we can be spared for a few hours and sometimes for a few days But long or short but here or there our thoughts are ever on the running of the sand We nod and smile to many as we pass with some we stop and talk awhile and with a few we walk a little way We have been much interested and often a little tired But on the whole we have had a pleasant time and are sorry when it is over The general style and manner of the book are similar to its predecessor It is a series of humorous vignettes each of which builds slowly through accumulation of layer on layer of detail through several pages Jeremy Nicholas calls these set pieces Most of them concern either bicycling genial if shallow commentary on German culture from the point of view of a British tourist or situation comedy like depictions of interpersonal interactions between the characters
