practical classroom strategies and activities are designed to help teachers individualize instruction for children with developmental ages of 3-7 years. Part I offers suggestions for organizing the special educator's schedule and workload including such topics as reviewing the individualized education program, developing a weekly schedule, homework assignments, and classroom assistance from parents and volunteers. In Part II, suggestions are offered for opening lines of communication in the classroom without increasing the noise level, including sections on the daily schedule, individual prescriptions, silently requesting help, restroom passes, weekly chore board, and classroom rules. Thirty visual motor learning activities are outlined in Part III, and 18 long-term art projects are described in Part IV. Finally, Part V presents nine hands-on bulletin board ideas that the teacher can adapt to meet various learning objectives. Each activity is arranged according to objectives, materials needed, preparation, and procedural steps. JW

Stroke Rehabilitation Glen Gillen, Ann Burkhardt, 1998. The first comprehensive text on occupational therapy management of the CVA patient. Containing the most up-to-date research on stroke rehabilitation without losing a holistic perspective, it combines aspects of background medical information, a critical review, and samples of functionally based evaluations, treatment techniques, and interventions. The text contains chapters on specific functional aspects of living after a stroke, such as driving, sexuality, leisure, instrumental ADL, mobility, and gait, and self-care. In addition, it highlights function-based approaches to working with patients who have balance dysfunction, upper extremity impairments, and neurobehavioral deficits. This is an essential educational tool in several settings, including home care, hospitals, community programs, and other outpatient programs and long-term care facilities. The only comprehensive occupational therapy book on stroke that emphasizes a holistic approach to rehabilitation. Features up-to-date coverage of all aspects of stroke rehabilitation, including evaluation, treatment, psychosocial aspects, administrative information, and documentation. Other key topics include medical management, total quality management, learning strategies, neurobehavioral deficits, and much more. Focuses on all disabilities in stroke rehabilitation as they relate to function. Chapters cover the continuum of care from the acute setting to the home care, community-based setting. Includes standardized evaluations that focus on disability and handicaps associated with stroke, as opposed to impairments. Pedagogy includes key terms, chapter objectives, review questions, COTA considerations, information specific to the COTA, suggested readings, and glossary. Case studies appear throughout the chapters. A useful drug reference chart specific to the medical management of stroke appears on the endsheets. Instructor's Manual includes lab activities, test questions, and teaching strategies.

Cognitive Rehabilitation for Neuropsychiatric Disorders Patrick W. Corrigan, Stuart C. Yudofsky, 1996. Cognitive rehabilitation is a relatively young and rapidly changing field that extends beyond the amelioration of symptoms and control of dysfunctional behavior in the treatment of neuropsychiatric disorders. Instead, it emphasizes identifying and building on patients' strengths and ultimately facilitating the acquisition of the cognitive-behavioral skills needed to improve quality of life. Cognitive Rehabilitation for Neuropsychiatric Disorders is a useful tool for clinicians who work with patients who have cognitive disabilities associated with neuropsychiatric conditions. A distinguished group of scientist practitioners share their up to date expertise on normal cognitive function and the concept of cognitive rehabilitation. Comprehensive in scope the book covers a wide range of practical issues in cognitive rehabilitation. Cognitive Rehabilitation for Neuropsychiatric Disorders presents an exceptional overview of the current knowledge about cognitive function and dysfunction as well as the therapeutic strategies used to restore function that is lost as the result of central nervous system (CNS) disorders. Delving into a new subject area this volume aims to aid the clinician in choosing treatment options that are relevant, respectful and effective for patients with cognitive problems resulting from CNS disorders. Environmental requirements for setting up rehabilitation programs and the uses and potential of progressive techniques such as video and computer equipment are explored. Four models that serve as frameworks for organizing and developing treatment strategies are discussed and detailed information is provided on what is known about cognitive deficits in depression, psychiatric disorders and social anxiety.
